POP CONCERT

The second annual pop concert of the combined Orchestra and Glee Club of Newton was given in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, last Friday and Saturday evenings before capacity houses. About one hundred and seventy-five tables were set each evening and there were very few vacant places.

From the opening strains of the first number—"The Stars and Stripes Forever," a march by Sousa, to the closing notes of "John Harvard," a march, the author of which is Mr. Rodman of Newton Highlands, the clubs sustained the interest of the audience not only by the well chosen program but by the excellence of their work. Mr. D. Ralph MacLean, the director, has well interpreted the music and well trained the voices of the glee club for choral work and the technique of the musicians for orchestral numbers.

Following the opening number was a "Song of the Marching Men" by the glee club. The orchestra then played selections from "The Firefly," the popular light opera of fifteen years ago. A group of three songs by the glee club pleased the audience immensely—"Rise, Sleep No More" by Stewart, "The Pilot" by Protheroe, and "The Big Brown Bear" by Mana-Zucca. The last named piece was enthusiastically received. A piano solo, "The Thirteenth Hungarian Rhapsody" by Liszt was rendered by the pianist, Mr. Reginald Boardman and he responded to the applause of the audience with an encore. The introduction to Act III of the opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner.

MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Club of St. John's Parish, Newtonville, held a most interesting meeting with City Government as the topic, Friday evening, April 24th.

The President of the Club, Mr. James C. Irwin presented Mayor Childs, who talked on the organization of the city departments and emphasized the importance of each of them. He introduced Mr. Henry Baily, chairman of the Board of Assessors, who, in addition to an explanation of the work of his department, gave a very learned talk on the history of the city. He made special recommendations for the observance of the Tercentenary of the settlement of the city, which will come in 1930, and for the establishment of a Soldiers' Memorial Park on the land between Commonwealth avenue and Homer and Walnut streets. He was followed by Mr. J. C. Whitney, Water Commissioner, who explained the source and distribution of the city's water supply and its connection with the Metropolitan system. He assured his audience that the recent discoloration of the water was due to a form of rust and that experts who had tested the water had certified that it could not have been the cause of the recent epidemic of jaundice. The meeting was open to all men and it was declared to be a very entertaining and instructive one.

DOUBLE WEDDING

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith on Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, their daughters were married on Saturday, April 24. Miss Dorothy Evelyn Smith became the bride of Mr. Albert Wright Richards, and Miss Esther Searles Smith was married to Mr. John Harrington Simons.

The brides were attended by Mrs. Carl B. Smith of Natick as matron of honor and Miss Irene O. Smith of Newtonville and Miss Lillian Griffith of Watertown as bridesmaids. Mr. Simons had for his best man Mr. Robert Strong of Newtonville and Mr. Willard Richards of West Hartford, Conn., was best man for Mr. Richards. Irene Smith of Natick was flower girl.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. D. Parker and was followed by a reception from eight until ten o'clock.

Miss Dorothy Smith wore a gown of white satin and chiffon with tulle veil and carried bride roses. Miss Esther Smith was gowned in white beaded crepe with tulle veil and carried bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor wore blue silk and gold lace and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaids wore Nile green and salmon pink chiffon. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving by their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards are spending their honeymoon in New Hampshire while Mr. and Mrs. Simons are in New York.

COMMUNITY NIGHT

This evening in the Assembly Hall of the Davis School on Waltham street the West Newton Community Centre will hold a Community Night for adults. Admission is free and an interesting program is planned.

The program will consist of community singing in charge of Mr. Charles Nichols and Mr. Charles Norby; speeches by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Mr. William B. Baker, Mr. Ernest Hermann, playground superintendent, and Mr. Paul C. Scarborough, principal of the Peirce School; and other features.

This entertainment is the first of a series which will take place monthly in the auditorium under the direction of the Centre, which is a newly formed organization to stimulate the activities of people of all ages and classes in West Newton during their leisure time.

The West Newton Neighborhood Club is being disbanded and the members are devoting their time to the new work for which there is a great field. The school department has given the Community Centre the privilege of using the recreation rooms in the Davis School for various games, the auditorium for public meetings and dances, and an office in the school as headquarters for a di-centre. The president of the organization is Mrs. Irving J. Fisher and she will be aided by Miss Hattiemae Austin, the director, who has come from California to organize and direct the new work. Miss Austin will be a friend to the entire community and will be ready to help anyone with his or her problems.

Service will be the keynote and the purpose of the Community Centre will be to make the community a better place in which to live. Congenial groups of boys and girls of various ages will be formed into self-governing clubs which will have as their objective the improvement of themselves and others, chiefly through recreation. To this end the Playground department, through Mr. Hermann, has turned over the portable building in the rear of the Davis school for their use. One of the rooms in this building will be used as a sort of clubhouse and the other room for games. The rooms are being furnished with equipment from the Neighborhood Club house on Elm street, which will be sold.

An Americanization class now meets every Friday morning and women who cannot speak the English language are being taught then. From time to time new units will be organized.

NEW PASTOR

The Reverend Rubens Rea Hadley of Providence, R. I., who has accepted the call to become pastor of the First Universalist Church, situated in Washington Park, Newtonville, is already well known among ministers in Boston and its suburbs. While serving as pastor of the Universalist Church in Everett, Mass., he was President of the Universalist Ministers' Association of Greater Boston and chairman of the Massachusetts fellowship committee for the denomination.

Mr. Hadley was born in Leominster, Mass., but his parents soon moved to Sterling. His theological training was received at Crane Theological school, Tufts College. He has held pastorates in Sherman, N. Y., Little Falls, N. Y., Swampscott, Mass., and Everett, Mass., where he built up an active body of young people. In January 1919, he became pastor of the First Universalist Church, Providence, R. I., where he succeeded Rev. Francis W. Gibbs who went to Pittsburgh. During his pastorate, this church observed its Centennial on April 10, 1921.

Mr. Hadley is a Mason and a member of the Knights of Pythias. While in Providence, he has been a member of the Providence Tuberculosis League, a director of Lakeside, a member of the South Providence Conference of the Family Welfare Society and a director of the Rhode Island Interdenominational Sunday School Association. He is actively interested in encouraging the development of needed forms of public and community service.

During the past year, the Newtonville church edifice has been repaired. The interior has been redecorated in warm tones of gray and equipped with new electric lights. The choir loft has been remodeled and finished in ash, and a new Frazee organ has been installed. The pews have been rearranged to leave a center aisle. The walls of the Sunday School room and Ladies' Parlor have been done over in buff.

Mr. Hadley takes up his duties here in Newton May first. Mrs. Hadley will remain in Providence with their daughter and two sons until the end of the school year.

Mr. Hadley will conduct his first service in the Newton Universalist Church Sunday morning, May 3, at 11.45. The following musical selections will be rendered by Mrs. Ruby B. Dort, soprano, Mr. E. Frank Leighton, baritone, and Mrs. Marjorie A. Schult, organist: Prelude, "Priore".....Lemmens Baritone Solo, "Teach Me to do Thy Will".....Eville Duet, "Love Divine".....T. A. DEATH OF REV. ARNOLD

Rev. Henry A. Arnold, pastor of the Elliot Congregational Church, Newton, died Friday night at his home, 666 Centre street, Newton. He had been pastor of the Elliot Church since last October. He was born at Oak Park, Ill., on April 23, 1885, son of Wilbur F. and Alice Arnold.

As a young man Mr. Arnold entered Iowa State Agricultural College at Ames, Ia., where he spent one year. The following three years he was a student at Beloit College, and was subsequently called to the First Congregational Church at Milwaukee, Wis., where he served as young people's pastor. In 1912 Mr. Arnold went to New Haven where he studied at the Yale Divinity School and during his first year there acted as assistant pastor at one of the churches in New Haven, and during his second year was pastor of the First Congregational Church at Middle Haddam.

In 1914 he was called to the First Congregational Church at Bradford, this State, and was there during the period of the war. From 1919 to 1924 Mr. Arnold was pastor of the Washington Congregational Church at Toledo, O., and during those years he was able to build up a large congregation, and made of the Marion Lawrence Sunday School one of the largest of its kind in the country. When he left to come to Newton the church was one of the finest and best equipped of any community church in the country.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Stearns School

General assembly for the upper grades was held April 17. The stage was appropriately decorated with red, white and blue streamers, and flags. Miss Stoddard's class opened the program by giving a historical exercise in which lantern slides pertaining to the Revolutionary War were used. A pupil gave a talk on each picture. This was followed by a reading, "Paul Revere's Ride," by Corinne Pauliat. The sixth grades sang, "Speed Our Republic" and when they had finished sixteen pupils in colonial costumes took their places on the stage for the "minuet." The dance was exceptionally well done; the boys were sedate and the girls demure giving just that effect which makes its execution so fine. The dance did great credit to Mrs. Hovgaard, the teacher, who was also responsible for the making of the costumes. "Dance Jim Crow" was done as an encore with vocal accompaniment rendered by eight sixth grade girls.

A selected chorus from Miss Eden's class, grade 5, sang "An April Song." Mrs. Goddard's class gave a flag drill. Seldom do third grade pupils show better coordination than was displayed in this exercise. They also recited a citizens' creed, the program was concluded by the sixth grades singing "America the Beautiful."

A teachers meeting was called Monday night. Its object was to discuss more adequate ways of providing for the super normal and sub-normal child. The Stearns teachers are much alive to this great educational problem and are anxious to work out a program that will more effectively meet the needs of this district.

There is a remarkable improvement in the quality of work being done in the Manual Training classes. Besides being able to plan and cut out work the boys can now produce a better finished product. Most of the articles are produced at comparatively low cost and many are found useful in the homes. Repairing of home and school furniture is also done. Here is another instance of how the school serves the home and community thru its Industrial Department.

Mr. Charles Clark from the Newton Savings Bank, gave a very fine lecture to the upper grades in the assembly hall on "Thrifty." April 17. He laid special emphasis on savings and interest accumulations, and pointed out its value to the individual and the home. The lecture was followed by a moving picture which showed how a man, who having taken his father's advice and saved while he was young, was able to maintain his independence even though he met several financial reverses.

Some much needed changes and repairs were made in the school house, during vacation. The teacher's room has been entirely redone and a separate room provided for the Stearns School Centre office on the second floor. A new floor was laid in the basement classroom which has been recently equipped to be used jointly by the school and Playground Department.

The playground was kept open during the entire vacation. The directors reported good attendance.

The Boston Traveler Marble Tournament will be held May 16. Elimination games are now being played on the playground. The best player here will play the best players on the other playgrounds in the city, and the city winner will compete in Boston, with the winners in the surrounding towns.

The Stearns School defeated the Horace Mann School at baseball Tuesday afternoon, on the Stearns Playground. The score was 21-3. The two teams will play again Thursday afternoon, at the Horace Mann field.

F. A. Day High School

For movies we have this week "Sherlock Holmes, Jr." with Buster Keaton, a Pathé and cartoon.

The F. A. Day High team defeated the Junior Varsity team of N. H. S., 7-3 in the first baseball game of the season.

The Assembly program, with Elizabeth Clarke as chairman, was as follows: Vocal solo, Gladys Ratzburg. Two selections, Ukelele Club. Solo toe dance, Springtime, Babette Shafer. Film, Play Play.

Miss Tracy has accepted an invitation of the N. H. S. Mathematics Club to speak to them of her experiences abroad last summer.

Elective blanks for next year's courses are being filled out this week.

West Newton Music School

On Friday evening, May 8th, at 7.45, there will be a concert at the Technical High School, Newtonville, in recognition of National Music Week. The High School Orchestra will play, as well as the Glee Club, and also the Senior Orchestra of the West Newton Music School, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Pyffe, Director of the West Newton Music School and Miss Lillian West, Head of the Piano Department. The public is cordially invited to attend.

It is the final concert of the year arranged by the Intersettlement Music Committee and only those who done conspicuously good work during the year are invited to play. CHORAL SOCIETY ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Choral Society held Tuesday evening at Central Church, was a very joyous and hopeful occasion. The attendance was unusually large, perhaps stimulated by the call sent out by the president, who paraphrased the words of the cantata "Phœdus Crohoore," in a clever way.

There was much jubilation over the fact that the report of the treasurer, Mr. Arthur H. Burdick, showed that the receipts for the year had exceeded the expenditures by the sum of $85. In view of the fact that such societies frequently incur a deficit, this seemed like quite a triumph. The report of the secretary, Miss Theresa L. Cram, showed a total active membership of 145. Her report was an interesting review of the work of the year.

Mr. Fred C. Alexander declined to serve further as president, and warm appreciation was expressed for the devotion with which he has worked for the society. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Archibald Bartington; vice-presidents, Mrs. A. L. Wakefield, Mr. Fred W. Woodcock; treasurer, Mr. Arthur H. Burdick; secretary, Miss Theresa L. Cram; librarian, Mr. Frank A. Thain; assistant, Mr. Willard Wentworth; executive committee, Mr. Fred C. Alexander, Mr. George W. Auryansen, Mr. Edward K. Titus, Mrs. Alton S. Clark, Mr. Frederick W. Yelland, Mr. Fred L. Smith, Mr. Payson E. Allen; nominating committee, Mr. Fred L. Smith, chairman, Mr. Elbert G. Allen, Mrs. Ruth D. Whitney.

The musical director, Mr. William Lester Bates, was then called upon for remarks, and received with hearty applause. He complimented the society on the work that had been done and hoped for a still larger chorus next fall. An entertainment followed arranged by Miss Lillian West, Mrs. A. L. Wakefield, and Mrs. Payson E. Allen. The Spencer trio gave two selections, "Arabian Song" by Vorgich, and "By the Waters of Minnetonka," Mrs. Wakefield led in the singing of a humorous geographical song, a toy orchestra distinguished itself, and several clever charades were given. One of them made up from the name of the director, Mr. Bates. A testimonial was presented to the accompanist, Miss West, with warm appreciation of her good work. The evening closed with the serving of refreshments and a social hour.

ner was the final number to the first part of the program.

After a short intermission the glee club sang two favorite pieces—"The Vagabond" and "Swing Along"—and the orchestra played selections from "Rose Marie." Another song, "Discovery," by the glee club, a waltz, "The Skaters" and a march "John Harvard" by the orchestra closed the concert.

Dancing, the music for which was furnished by Louis Haffermehl's orchestra, was then enjoyed by the patrons.

James B. Melcher, chairman, Paul M. Goddard, advertising, Gustav W. Ulmer, Jr., smokers, John F. Capron, reservations, Roland H. Barnes, drinks, Mrs. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., candy, composed the committee in charge of the concert.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The closing days of the Legislature have been marked by the greatest activity. The 1925 session will be one of the shortest in 40 odd years or thereabouts. It has not been distinguished by any matter of especial historical significance. That, however, is nothing to be marveled at. It is believed, however, that this year's General Court will become famous for having referred the greatest number of matters to the next annual session. In fact the rapidly with which measures have been "tossed overboard," as the saying goes, has caused no little outside comment. Just the reason for this action is not quite clear. It is not denied that in certain of these cases reference to the next annual session was justifiable as well as desirable. Other matters, it appears, could have well been disposed of this year for good and all. "Reference to the next annual session" is, of course, a friendly way of turning somebody down. Often a petitioner will ask that the committee or the Legislature vote such action rather than "leave to withdraw." Why it makes any difference is hard to understand but legislatures, like individuals, are disposed to follow the lines of least resistance and consequently it often happens that a petitioner is "let down easy" when he really deserves to be "turned down hard."

Newton residents must smile with satisfaction when they read the financial management or mismanagement that makes some of the other Massachusetts cities notorious. The administration of Newton's affairs, financially and otherwise, is the source of considerable admiration at the State House so that this city has scarcely to make a request but it is promptly honored by the General Court or the departments in the State House. This may not be true in every instance, but it is a fact that Newton's standing on Beacon Hill is as high as that of any municipality and in most instances considerably higher.

Leland Powers, counsel for the American Woolen Company, had a prominent part in the hearing before the Taxation Committee and the Ways and Means Committee, sitting jointly, on the bill to provide a new system for the taxation of National banks. Mr. Powers was formerly a member of the House from this district. His address at the hearing showed his familiarity with legislative procedure and revealed the value of his experience as a member of the General Court.

Representative Luitwieler also appeared at the hearing. Like Mr. Powers he was opposed to that feature of the bill providing for an increase in the amount of income tax imposed upon business corporations.

Representative Hollis succeeded in pushing through an amendment to the automobile truck registration bill. The measure affects commercial vehicles and increases the rate to be paid the State by owners for the right to operate. Mr. Hollis' amendment reduced from $10, as provided in the bill, to $5 the amount to be paid for each seat for every vehicle having a capacity of over seven passengers.

What was looked upon as an interminable hearing—that on the petition for a decrease of rates of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company—has at last ended so far as the offering of testimony and the presentation of arguments before the Public Utilities Commission is concerned. These hearings were begun way back in 1916. They were suspended during the war but have dragged along year after year. Now that the company has offered to lower its rates to small consumers from 9 1/2 to 8 1/2 cents it appears as if a solution of the problem had been reached. Newton people will benefit if the reduction is brought about and present indications are that it will be authorized by the Public Utilities Commission along the lines of the proposition offered by the company.

The bill to establish the speed limit for automobiles at 35 miles an hour, and which was passed by the House through the efforts of Representatives Hollis and Luitwieler and other believers in slow driving, was rejected by the Senate. Much of the automobile legislation proposed for this year has met the same fate either in one branch or the other. These same Newton members have been strong for the passage of all worthy bills and will no doubt be among the most earnest workers for them next year as most of the bills in question will come up again in 1926.

Representative Luitwieler is the proud possessor of the quill with which Governor Fuller yesterday signed the so-called "drunken driver" bill. Mr. Luitwieler received this honor in recognition of the fact that he is "father" of this legislation. He was warmly congratulated by his colleagues.

The "drunken driver" bill provides that a person convicted of a second or subsequent offences of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor shall be committed to jail for punishment. Up to the present time it was discretionary with the courts whether a person should be so sentenced. In order that a person may be dealt with it will be necessary under this new law to prove that the first offence and conviction occurred within six years previous to the second offence.

The fact that the bill has an emergency preamble makes it operative at once so that it may now be expected that repeated offences of "drunken driving" will be dealt with more severely than in the past. There are a number of people who contend that the present bill is unconstitutional in that it requires the court to do a certain thing and does not permit a judge to use his discretion. Gov. Fuller had the Attorney General examine the bill's provisions very carefully before he affixed his signature.

The Graphic has for some years editorially urged that such legislation be enacted and has done its share in arousing the public mind to the importance of such a law for Massachusetts.

NEWTON CIRCLE

Mrs. John T. Lodge was elected president of the Newton Circle of the Florence Crittenton League at the eleventh annual meeting of the circle, held Monday afternoon. Other officers chosen were Mrs. C. Peter Clarke and Mrs. Helen F. Hull, vice presidents; Mrs. W. J. Champion, recording secretary; Miss Kate Potter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. Morley Lodge, treasurer; and Mrs. Job E. Gaskin, assistant treasurer.

Among the speakers at the meeting were Associate Justice Thomas Weston of Newton court and Rev. George P. O'Connor of the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston. Mrs. Celia Wellman, probation officer of the Newton court and social service worker for the Newton circle, made her annual report in which she said that eight children from Newton homes had been given summer vacations, with free clothing provided; one Y. M. C. A. membership was given with a trip to one of the association's summer camps; six Newton girls were cared for, two of whom were given courses in commercial schools in Boston and 115 cases were handled in the Newton court. Mrs. Wellman praised the House of the Good Shepherd for its work in connection with Newton girls.

"THE FIRE PRINCE"

The annual production of the Newton Grade Teachers' Club will take the form this year of an operetta, "The Fire Prince," composed by David Steven and Henry Hadley. The first performance will be given on the evening of May 7th at 8 o'clock in the Newton Opera House. The second performance will be at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on May 13th at 8 o'clock.

The leading parts will be taken by Miss Julia Tobin, a singer of note, and Mr. F. Dewey, a member of the Harvard Dramatic Club. Other principal parts will be taken by the Misses Myrtle Nixon, Dorothy Hamer, Ruth Brown, Elizabeth Ellison, Dorothy Bushnell, Polly Donnelly and the Messrs. Penny, Young, E. Browne, E. Chadd, Warren Murray and Hatheway Lowell.

The proceeds are to go to the Newton Grade Teachers' Sick Benefit Fund.

ROTARY CLUB

The annual business meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was held at the Newton Club in connection with the regular weekly luncheon on Monday of this week. An exceptionally large number of members was in attendance. Directors were elected for the ensuing year, reports presented for the year just closed, and various special features introduced. Among these were the presentation of a past president's badge to the retiring president, William T. Halliday, and a short snappy talk by Rev. Fr. Miles P. Howland, of Frederickton, N. B., a visiting Rotarian.

President Halliday presided and, in his annual report, reviewed the activities of the past year and the reports of the secretary, treasurer, and various committees, were all accepted. The presentation of the past president's badge to the retiring president was made in a few happy words by Rotarian "Ned" Childs.

The election of seven directors for the ensuing year resulted in the choice of "Bun" Paul, "Ben" Rae, Fred Basley, Arthur Leason, "Bill" Halliday, Ira Roe, and Andrew Ford to guide the destinies of the club during this period. These directors will subsequently choose the new president and other officers of the club. Before adjournment, the club voted enthusiastically to accept the invitation of their brother member, Guy Winslow, to hold the meeting on next Monday, May 4, at Lasell Seminary, at Auburndale, in connection with which the usual luncheon will be served.

ANNUAL CONVENTION

Young People's Council monthly meetings and other activities; Fostering of a newly-organized Young People's Council in Waltham, where the Rev. Alan T. Blacklock has been made the adult adviser or director.

The President of the Young People's Council, Horace Preble, reported as to the purpose and activities of this Council, including its annual Conference, monthly meetings, Inter-Church basketball league, etc.

The courses for the first term of the Community School of Religious Education for next year were announced by the chairman, Nathan Heard of Newton. The dates selected for the school are October 12 to December 14 for the first term, and Jan. 25 to Mar. 26, 1926, for the second term. The school will be held again in the Methodist Church of Newtonville, and Professor James P. Berkeley of Newton Centre will be the director.

The nominating committee presented the names of the following candidates, who were elected to office in the District for the coming year:—President, G. L. Foster, of Belmont; 1st vice-president, Everett A. Greene, Newton Centre; 2nd vice-president, Nathan Heard, Newton; 3rd vice-president, Rev. A. T. Blacklock, Waltham; recording secretary, Miss H. Bernice Adams, Waltham; treasurer, Chas. A. Haskell, Newton; chairman finance committee, R. O. Walter, Auburndale.

After these and other reports, the Convention proceeded to the auditorium for the Community School Commencement. Those who graduated from the three-year course, with earned credits in all courses taken, were as follows:—Miss H. Bernice Adams, Mrs. Nelson G. Cooley, Miss Mabel L. Hay, Clarence B. Hamblen, and Miss Hattie A. Fowall. Other Community School members have taken credits in various subjects, but not all of the credits required for graduation. After presentation of these graduates by the Dean to the Chairman of the School Committee, diplomas were awarded by the latter. A Prayer of Consecration was offered by Dr. Herbert W. Gates, former director of the School.

This was followed by an address entitled "The Glory of the Teachers' Work," given by Professor O. W. Warrington of Boston University. Professor Warrington portrayed in glowing terms the joy that comes to the teacher of youth, and even the opportunities for personal development that are indirectly a benefit and pleasure. He said that the church pays its teachers the highest compliment possible in virtually saying to them, "I have observed you and your consecration to the Master, your ability to be a friendly guide to others. I have confidence in you and admiration for your character, so that I am willing that my children and youth should learn of you, while you are teaching them about the facts of the Bible and the Christian life." What higher compliment could the church give to any of its members, unless it be to call one of them to be its minister and church leader? He said also that the teacher had a right to glory in his technique, his method, which is becoming recognized as a necessary skill that must be added to personality and consecration, if we would have the best teachers in our Church Schools.

SIXTH ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Newton Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. entertained the sixth annual convention of the Mass. Y. P. B. at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church on April 25 and 26. Mrs. Helen Merriam, president of the W. C. T. U., and Bertha Hicks, president of the Y. P. B., welcomed the visiting delegates. The morning session was devoted to reports of work done by officers and superintendents.

In the afternoon Angelo Bertocci, president of the Mass. Y. P. B., gave his annual address, this being followed by a most stirring address by Mayor Edwin D. Childs. As the mayor was escorted to the platform a song of welcome, written especially for the occasion, was sung by the delegates. Mrs. Ella A. Gleason, honorary president of the Mass. Y. C. T. U., then gave a short address on the needs of circulating accurate information regarding the results of prohibition in the country.

Following the election of officers, the delegates were given an auto ride to Echo Bridge and Norumbega Tower. Twenty or more cars were offered by friends and members for the occasion, and the ride was much appreciated by the visitors.

On Sunday afternoon the closing session held at the Newtonville Methodist Church, was addressed by Rev. A. D. Parker, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Alice G. Ropes, president of the Mass. Y. C. T. U. Mrs. Ropes then installed the new officers of the organization. An invitation was received and accepted to hold the next convention in 1926 at Leominster.

The evening session of the Mass. Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. took the form of a Pageant, and was participated in by about fifty children and young people, from all over the state. The chorus was composed of members of the Somerville, North End, and Newton Branches, and they rendered the national songs of the countries represented. Preceding the pageant, a short musical program was given by Miss Mildred Beardsley, xylophone soloist, and Mr. Frederic Roberts of Somerville, tenor soloist.

AN APPRECIATION

The shockingly sudden taking of Henry Arnold, Pastor of Eliot Church, has filled with deepest sorrow the hearts of all who loved him, as all who knew him did.

The men and women, old and young, who felt but yesterday the spiritual uplift of his inspired sermons, the solace of his beautiful prayers, the benediction of his joyous smile and who now, with his family, feel so profoundly the sense of personal loss and bereavement, compose a throng unnumbered.

What an extraordinary hold this sincere and gifted Christian gentleman had made upon the affections of his congregation and his city, in the brief period of his life among us! Our favored community is forever enriched by and will always cherish the memory of this beautiful character, at once so strong, and so gentle. We shall try, as he would wish us, steadfastly to face the sunlight that all shadows may fall behind our vision.

Thanks for the heavenly message brought by thee, Henry Arnold.

RALPH COLIDGE HENRY.

"HEIDI"

Tomorrow evening comes the first performance of "Heidi" which is to be given at Players Hall, West Newton, and is to be repeated the following Saturday at Jordan Hall, Boston, by the Leander-Hall Dramatic Club. The cast is a notable one. The little leading lady, Miss Emilie Dreyfus, is not yet ten years old, but has already appeared in a number of amateur performances and has remarkable ability. Klara, her little friend, is to be portrayed by Miss Mary Sheehan, who was so charming last year as Rose in "Eight Cousins." Others in the cast are Miss Grace McCarthy, Miss Isabel Skipwith, Miss Edith May, Mrs. Allen Hubbard, Miss Marion L. Clapp, Mrs. George Fuller, Miss Dorothy Fairbrother and Miss Doris Lovell.

This year the Club has asked men to take part for the first time, and has been most fortunate in securing such well known actors as Mr. Geoffrey Baker, who plays the Alm Uncle, and is especially remembered as Beau Brummel, Mr. Leverett Bentley, prominent in the Newton Players, and the Brookline Amateurs and Mr. Philip W. Carter, who plays with the Newton Players, are also members of the cast. Among those interested in the production of "Heidi" which Miss Ethel Hale Freeman has dramatized are Miss Caroline L. Freeman, the president of the Club, Miss Dorothy Miner of Clinton road, Brookline, who has the tickets in charge, Miss Ethel Howland, who is collecting a list of notable names for the patroness list, Mrs. Joseph Fuller, in charge of costumes, Miss Evelyn Cunningham, stage director, Miss Dorothy Taylor, who is arranging for the ushering, and Miss Frances Gibson, of "Gibson Candy" fame who is to sell her candy and that donated by other members of the Club.

To The Residents of Newton:

The Towle Estate on Centre Street typifies the beauty of the city of Newton. It is the location picked by its former owner, Loren D. Towle, as the finest home site in Newton. Many thousands of dollars were spent in beautifying the land, in the perfecting of an ideal location. After his death the property came into the possession of interests who decided to subdivide the estate and offer lots for sale to the public. The administration of this task was entrusted to our firm.

It is our urgent desire to carry on the work conceived by the genius of the late owner of this property—and at the same time make it possible for people of moderate means to build homes on the land. Formerly the guarded home of a wealthy man, this property can now be permanently enjoyed by you or your friends.

We have priced the lots from $1600., upwards. Agents will be on the property every day. The telephone number of the land office is Newton North 5520.

Yours very truly,

Charles A. Gleason,
President.ANNUAL MEETING AND BANQUET

WOMEN'S CLUBS

EMMA D. COOLIDGE, Editor

Mark your calendars for two important dates for all club women—May 12th, Newton Federation Day, and May 20th beginning the session for the State Federation. There will be so much that is worthwhile at both these annual meetings that it can not be catalogued, but any Newton club woman who neglects attendance at our own day, at least, will as surely as fate regret it—and will receive scant sympathy from those of us who know all the charming secrets of that program!

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

April 23rd was Annual Meeting Day for this club, and the meeting was a most interesting and inspiring one. A wonderful Spring, almost Summer, afternoon, brilliant colorings of wonderful flowers, reports of work accomplished given in a splendid manner, written briefly but strongly, and with clever touches of wit and humor that kept listeners alert and applauding.

Mrs. Ernest Cobb, President of the Newton Federation—giving up this office on the 12th of May—was guest of honor, and the club paid her this tribute realizing it was their last chance so to enjoy her company. She was presented with a large and fragrant bouquet of sweet peas, and she, in turn, presented to our members a speech that was a joy and pride forever! In her own inimitable way she likened a club to a garden; the officers and members to the various flowers, and brought into play her wonderful imagination with a symbolism that was excellently carried out. There was food for thought in the clever comparison of club workers and members to the flowers; those that thrived, giving forth their sweetness freely; the hardy annuals (shall we say those that withstood harsh breezes and were ever willing to serve?); those that spread their influence like the ivy, running into every nook and corner; those that were ramblers; those that needed coaxing and attention that they might give forth of their best; those that would never unfold (perhaps blighted by harsh criticism); and the seeds that would not sprout (possibly planted on stony ground and otherwise).

The outgoing president of a club she likened to a rose that had blossomed wide, but that now would close its petals, its work accomplished, and take its needed rest. The reports given were: Recording Secretary, Miss Helen A. Woodman, whose unusual brevity in giving (not as recording secretaries so often do, a list of all programs) the mere number of club meetings and Board meetings brought forth admiring laughter; Treasurer, Miss Miriam Drury, whose statement of prosperity was satisfactory; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Margaret Bacon, who told of the pleasure she had had in writing so many notes to incoming members; Americanization, Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, Chairman, who told of the endeavor of the year to show hospitality to the newer residents in our city; Community Service, Mrs. Royal C. Warring, Chairman, (read by Miss Bacon) whose splendid accomplishment of the year has been the securing of higher class "movies"; Conservation, Mrs. D. M. Goodridge, Chairman, whose clever report in rhyme is given more fully below; Education, Mrs. Leslie O. Cummings, Chairman, who reported gratifying work on securing the new High School, and heartening interest in the scholarship for our own fine Newton girls; Home Economics, Mrs. Joseph Mayer, Chairman, whose cooking classes and wonderful cook book have netted a sum that her committee has contributed generously to the Scholarship Fund; House Chairman, Mrs. Carl G. Peirce, without whose efficient and conscientious work for our comfort our club could not keep "fit"; Legislative, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Chairman, a resume of bills, with their sidelights on the character of the Senators and Representatives; Literature, Miss Edith Jamieson, Chairman, (read by Mrs. Earl Stevenson) showing how members have been kept "literarily" up-to-date; Music, Mrs. Edwin W. Smith, Chairman, who modestly disclaimed all honor for the splendid musical programs, and praised her successful committee; Press, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, who showed the "power of the press" for club betterment; Program, Mrs. Frederick J. Fawcett, Chairman (read by Miss Helen F. Hull) who stated she did not need to remind us what splendid entertainment had been provided, and all nodded vigorously approval; and, lastly, but by no means least, an innovation by the President, Mrs. Edward H. Keach, instead of an address, a report of her stewardship, before handing over the gavel to the new president.

Between reports, violin numbers were rendered by Mrs. Kenneth Hastings, and groups of songs were given by Mrs. Clara Crowley and Mrs. Florence Mansfield, and the club is proud of its talented members that could so well entertain them. Mrs. Goodridge's clever rhyme on our duty as conservationists will perhaps stay in our minds, and appeal to members of other clubs, if a bit of it is quoted here:

The Birds, the Shrubs, the Flowers, the Trees, We've asked you all to conserve these.
With care to watch the match you fight,
No fire to set that may ignite,
And spoil a forest's fair delight!

A bird is but a bit of feather,
A trill of song, a flash of color;
Cherish and hold him dear, my friends,
For he's the harbinger of woe
To pests that in your garden grow!

The shrubs that on the hillside spread
A blush of blossoms and berries red
Look far better in that, their place—
Than in your home in costly vase!
Arranged with however rare a grace!

The flowers fair are next in turn.
How eagerly we search and yearn
For the first blossoms of the year!
These are earth's jewels, set with care.

Look, yes! Admire—but LEAVE THEM THERE!

Good advice, club members! And we as loyal club women will do well to follow it, and teach our children so to do!

Upon report of the tellers the new officers were declared unanimously elected, after which Mrs. Edward H. Keach handed over the gavel to Mrs. J. Porter Russell, and Mrs. Russell accepted her new responsibilities. A charming bit of tribute and sentiment was in the two presentation speeches of flowers—roses to Mrs. Keach, by Mrs. Harold P. Fuller, Third Vice-President; and sweet peas to Mrs. Russell, by Mrs. George Lincoln Parker, Second Vice-President.

The ballot for the next year is: President, Mrs. J. Porter Russell; first Vice-president, Mrs. H. H. Powers; second Vice-president, Mrs. Dale Brown; third Vice-president, Mrs. Stafford Johnson; Recording Secretary, Miss Helen A. Woodman; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Margaret Bacon; Treasurer, Miss Margaret H. Aubin; Auditor, Miss Sally A. Cutler; Directors, ten expiring 1928, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry and Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins; Nominating Committee, Mrs. Henry A. Neally, Chairman, Mrs. Clarence V. Moore, Mrs. J. P. R. Sherman, Mrs. Joseph Palmer, and Mrs. Vernon B. Swett.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

That this club has the distinction of being one of the oldest women's clubs in the State is evidenced by the fact that it held its forty-fourth annual meeting on Friday of last week. The Brae Burn Country Club was the meeting place, and the morning session, beginning at 10.45, was given up to reports of Officers and Chairmen of committees, all of which showed good work accomplished. The Treasurer reported $505 contributed to various philanthropic and other worthy objects during the year, including assistance from the Scholarship Fund to a Wellesley student and also a pupil at a Newton school. Luncheon was served at one o'clock, the decorations at the tables of sweet peas and asparagus fern being very attractive. At the head table with the President, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, were seated the officers and several of the past presidents. Mrs. Bernard Early made a witty and clever toast, mistress, and paid a fine tribute to our beloved Mrs. George G. Phipps, a charter member of the Club. Mrs. Ella Mason responded to the toast: "Joy-riding" in a happy vein; Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton to "Woman"; and Mrs. Malcolm Warren, one of the newest and youngest members to "The Twentieth Century Girl."

Miss Yvonne Des Rosiers, the well-known singer, furnished a rare treat with her wonderful voice and her selection of songs, ranging from a simple lullaby to grand opera arias. Mrs. John R. McLean heads the list of officers for the coming year, with Mrs. Charles E. Quinn as first Vice-president; Mrs. Frederick A. Cole as second vice-president; Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Malcolm Warren, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Charles L. Anderson, Treasurer; Mrs. Arthur H. Holmberg, Auditor; Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, Mrs. Clarence S. Angell and Mrs. Rupert C. Thompson, Directors.

The club chorus under the direction of Mrs. Herman W. Birgfeld sang for the first time this year, and the meeting closed with all the members joining in the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Mrs. Walter A. Beedle acted as chairman for the day, and was assisted by several of the past presidents of the club.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

At their Annual Meeting, April 27th, it is reported that so many interesting reports were read that it is impossible for their Press Chairman to pick out any of them for special mention, and more impossible to tell all the fine points of their clever writers! The officers elected for the coming year are:

President, Mrs. Thomas E. Lees; First Vice-president, Mrs. Warren H. Hoey; Second Vice-president, Mrs. James O'Hearn; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Walter Stevens; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Frank Redmond; Treasurer, Miss Ethel Proctor; Auditor, Miss Elizabeth Ryan; Directors for two years, Mrs. Charles Chadwick and Miss Clementine Vana; Directors for one year, Mrs. Harry Cook, Mrs. Noyes Mosera and Miss Nellie Osborne. Philanthropies, showing a wonderful generosity, expended during the past year, when dues are only $2.00, and the club membership is only ninety-three:

Reading-room books, $12.75; N. E. Peabody Home, $25.00; John A. Andrews Home, $25.00; Soldier Xmas stockings, $5.00; Americanization Class, $2.70; Visiting Teacher, $5.00; Community Concerts, $10.00; General Federation Fund, $10.00; Girl Scouts, $10.00; Boy Ball Team, $10.00; Children's Hospital, $10.00; Story Telling, $15.00; Pomeroy Hope, $5.00; District Nurses, $5.00; State Endowment Fund, $5.00; American Forestry, $5.00; Xmas Seals, $80.85; making the splendid total of $241.30.

Mrs. Tenney, Second Vice-President, in behalf of the Executive Board, presented the retiring president, Mrs. Parsons, with a gold Federation badge, pinned on golden roses, and her accompanying speech was most appropriate. The club also presented flowers to the outgoing and incoming presidents.

A delicious lunch, served by the Executive Board, from an attractively decorated table of yellow and pink and candlelight, added greatly to the meeting's enjoyment.

Waban Woman's Club

A similar story of so many splendid reports that it is impossible to choose which to mention especially is told of the Annual Meeting of this club, also on the 27th. The new arrangement of having the business meeting in the morning, preceding the luncheon, proved a very pleasing one to the members. After the luncheon, the President, Mrs. Walter A. Hosley, in place of a formal address, gave a short amusing scene, called "The Home of the President of Any Woman's Club of Any Town at 8.30 in the Morning." Between bites of a very hastily-eaten breakfast, she answers numerous fictitious telephone calls, in this way wittily conveying to the various committees her appreciation of the good work done during the year. The number of amazing, as well as amusing, queries that can come to the best-regulated club was also brought out, including one of the members who had lost her year book and wished to know what the program for the afternoon was going to be, although she frankly stated that she could not attend.

Officers elected were: President, Caroline E. Hosley; First Vice-President, Dora D. Warren; Second Vice-President, Helen D. Holmes; Recording Secretary, Abbie A. Taylor; Corresponding Secretary, Florence H. Ellis; Treasurer, Lorraine G. Phipps; Director, Estella G. Denham; Nominating Committee, Grace H. Brown, Agnes Cranston, Harriet A. Harlow, and Gladys P. Miller.

Social Science Club

On Wednesday morning, April 29th, the Social Science Club held its Annual Meeting and luncheon at the Brae Burn Country Club. Officers were elected for the ensuing year, and the Chairmen of the various committees read their interesting reports. After a delicious luncheon, Mrs. Walley entertained the members with some beautifully rendered piano music, and a group of members, under Mrs. Jamieson, acted some charades.

Coming Events

Members of the Christian Era Study Club should not forget their Annual Meeting which comes May 2nd, when their President, Miss E. B. Smith is their hostess at 729 Boylston street, Boston.

May 4th is Annual Meeting day with the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C., at the home of Miss Marion B. Morse, where a luncheon will be served at one o'clock; after which will be the business meeting, reports, and, best of all, an historical paper on Newton to be given for the pleasure and instruction of her club members, by the President herself, Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb.

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be held Thursday, May 7th, following a luncheon and music by the Newton Centre Woman's Club Trio. Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained from Mrs. Edward C. Sands up to the 4th of May, after which date no tickets will be sold.

A most interesting announcement comes from the Art Chairman of this same "live" club, Mrs. John Bergeson, who states that an exhibition of Landscape Architecture and Sculpture opens in the Art Room of their club house on April 30th, and will be open FREE for one week, up to and including May 7th. The list of exhibitors includes names famous in the world of sculpture and art, and promises a rare treat for all who love this form of art and who are planning in fact—or in their mind's eye—that wonderful garden or landscape surrounding that ideal home which is to materialize from the beloved land of dreams.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

May Day! We salute the beginning of that merry month to which writers of verse are especially indebted. There are so many words that rhyme with "May" that it is difficult to resist the temptation to dash off a poem. Appropriate sentiments seem to crowd each other in their desire for expression. In fairness to ourselves we have decided to refrain from indulgence in a jingle of any kind. We feel, however, that May Day should not be allowed to come and go, as some people feel has been the case with prohibition, without mention of the glorious month's principal features. Every household has its May problems. The first is putting away winter toys against the ravages of the ever-busy moths. There is the cedar chest, which is expected to prove invulnerable against the attack of the burrowing hosts. Then those patented bags in which so much may be stored and which are certain, according to the statements of those who make and sell them, as safe repositories for clothing that you hope to find intact next fall. There are less expensive methods, such as wrapping garments in many folds of newspapers, or sprinkling lavender in generous quantities among the folds of coats, dresses, mufflers, etc. Whatever the system adopted by the housewife, so far as we have been able to observe, May still has a conspicuous part in subsequent events. The moths may get at the clothing and they may not. The family man has the matter of screens in hand. He hopes that by the end of April all screens will have been mended, painted and set in position for the summer. Perhaps he labors at this task night and possibly operates under cover on Sunday. At that, when the beginning of the present month arrives he may have them all in and he may not. Then there is the garden and the lawn which should look their prettiest. If that task falls upon the head of the family it means that he will have much to occupy his spare time. Of course he wants everything ship-shape by April 30. Again he may have it thus, and he may not. If it is the question of a new car, or the selection of a new summer cottage there is an element of uncertainty that still lingers. And so it goes with various problems having to do with family life. All of this convinces us that those who called the present month "May" knew what they were about.

Having tossed a few verbal criticisms at the Boston Elevated we feel that we should enjoy supplementing flowers (preferably dandelions) for pebbles. These blossoms we would offer the road for having eliminated various stops. We do not know how they will join with us but we feel that the cars maintain their schedule more accurately. We still contend that the cars seem prone to group themselves along the line and occasionally land in Newton in bunches. An expert once told us, and we have never seen the statement disproved, that the run from the Watertown car-barn to Park Street is too long. He meant by that no road could hope to maintain an even scheduled time during the rush hours, when its cars travel over the streets and were liable to encounter traffic delays. We are inclined to believe that man knew what he was talking about and that the route will have to be shortened. All sorts of schemes are in the air and although we dislike to see a transfer station in Allston we think that something will be done before the operation of the cars from this city to Boston will give perfect satisfaction to all interested parties. Meanwhile the elimination of stops is an excellent move to our way of thinking.

It strikes us as amusing when we think how easily some people find their dignity ruffled. The Governor of the commonwealth exploded the other day at the committee he received in Lexington at the anniversary exercises. We are not prepared to say whether his resentment was justified. We are inclined to believe that it was. In our own experience in newspaper work we have watched the operations of local committees at municipal celebrations and similar affairs. It is not the easiest thing in the world for men who are engaged in trades or professions to suspend their daily routine and become managers of a pageant, leaders of a parade or some such affair. It is not their regular job. Frequently they become rattled and it is under such circumstances that they "hit the ceiling" and things go wrong. Our observation has led us to believe that usually there are too many committees and if not too many committees then too many members of the one committee. Any one familiar with American life, particularly a politician, should be prepared to make allowances for lapses on the part of the committee on arrangements. One of the best things that such committees do is to commit some social blunder and then rush around and try to patch things up. It seems to be characteristic of the American people that every time a local committee decides to hold a celebration that an invitation must be sent to the dignitaries of the State. If only they can induce the Chief Executive to be present the affair is an assured success. We deplore such an idea. We deplore the fact that so many times the committee of arrangements, having secured some big attraction like a Governor or U. S. Senator or Congressman, thereupon suspends further efforts and lets matters slide. Serving on a committee, in our opinion, means something more than wearing a badge. Yet we have seen many organizations which have spent more time selecting badges and assigning colors of badges than in preparing other features of the show.

We wonder if all committees operate the same way. As we have viewed the situation there is always one man who does the greater share of the work. He is one of those individuals who "just own" to "chief cook and bottle washer" and is willing to work his head off. There are those members of the committee who rejoice at the opportunity of serving, but stop when they find that their names have been made public. Their attitude appears to be that having consented to become a member they have fulfilled their duty. They then sit back and allow one or two others to assume the responsibilities and carry out the plans. Then let the hard-working minority make some break and the idle members of the committee step forward and indulge in severest criticism. "Soandso is trying to run things," they declare, "and we must show him that he is not the only member of the committee." And there you have friction which is bound to reflect upon the whole organization or community. Everything goes wrong and nobody is willing to take the blame. "If they'd only let me alone," says the hard-working committee man. His alibi sounds reasonable and is very likely sound. On the other hand the balance of the committee has provided itself with an alibi in "tying the can" to Mr. Soandso. We have watched a great many local affairs and we have seen things go contrary to all expectations. The only cure, we believe, is in attempting to reach there are just two parades that start on time. One is a military parade and the other is a circus parade. Both are run-off according to schedule because the men in charge make a business of such things. There is no particular credit coming to these men because they are trained in those lines and would not occupy their respective positions if they did not know their business. We know that we should not call attention to the shortcomings of our fellows without offering constructive suggestions. That is easy. Let there be established by colleges or in night schools courses on conducting public celebrations and make attendance upon such courses compulsory on the part of all people who are appointed to committees of arrangements.

It is a new idea this calling the Board of Aldermen together for a regular meeting on a holiday. We don't know how the board members or the citizens feel about the recent session and whether the policy will be continued. It strikes us that it is an indication that the city fathers are attending to their duties pretty thoroughly. Certainly the weather on Patriots' Day was nothing to call one into the "great outdoors" and no one could find any great enjoyment in motoring on so cold an evening. As we understand it President Thomas W. White thought it best that the regular meeting be held and matters considered as if there was no holiday. If omission of the regular meeting meant that all pending orders, reports, etc., would be put over for a fortnight we believe there was good reason for a holiday session. Just what the effect will be on posterity we are not prepared to say. In former times—that is looking back over the period of Newton's existence as a city—the suggestion of a holiday session would have been greeted with a frozen silence. It just wasn't being done, it hadn't been done and wasn't to be done. Well, whether it made any difference to the Aldermen of those days or the citizens we are not prepared to say. Neither can we tell whether Newton will gain anything by ignoring the old customs. Still we are inclined to think well of President White's little departure from the beaten path. It seems to us there can be no valid objection. On the contrary we are rather partial to the new policy. As far as that goes, if the city is to be treated to any innovations there is no better place to begin them than at City Hall.

SECOND PRIZE LETTER

Contest Editor:—

In these days of radio it seems to me that the several communities of Newton could be more intimately brought together by the establishment of a Newton Radio Club, formed for the purpose of broadcasting radio programs of an entirely Newton character. At present, with this wonderful invention still in its infancy, it would take considerable time to develop the idea in its entirety. However, rapid strides are being made in the development of the radio and it is reasonable to believe that a Newton broadcasting station could be the final step in this project.

The present, however, is the time with which we have to deal and now is the time to lay the foundation for this club and formulate plans for the future—keeping in step with the development of the radio. The initial step would be for a number of prominent citizens of Newton, who are interested in radio, to get together and incorporate such a club. Preliminary plans could be arranged whereby present broadcasting stations could be used at times to broadcast programs by various organizations in Newton, such as the Newton Highlands Glee Club, the West Newton Men's Club, the Newton Club, Hunnewell Club, services from some of our leading churches, etc.

These clubs and organizations could also be asked to set aside a certain percentage of the proceeds taken in at their various entertainments to establish a sinking fund. A campaign to raise funds by popular subscription could also be made and, as the club grew and interest in the project increased, the idea of the construction of a local broadcasting station would soon become a reality.

With the completion of a local broadcasting station for the use of the Newton Radio Club only a schedule could be arranged along the following lines.

On Sundays special services, preferably in the afternoon so that there would be no interference with the morning services, could be given by our leading churches each in turn, with sermons by some of our leading pastors. Weekday programs could be given by the various clubs and organizations in our city. Band concerts, interesting speakers, advertising programs, children's hours and special entertainments by high school pupils, minstrel shows, athletic events, and many other affairs could be sent directly into the homes of many of our citizens.

In this way the people of Newton would become united in a closer bond of fellowship, the community idea would flourish, and the various villages of the city would become more securely cemented together. This increased fellowship would tend to make each family more contented in its home and in its neighbor's home. A great deal of the restlessness of the present time, not only of our young people but parents as well, would be abated. The present reign of jazz music would soon be over and better music would be the result. These various factors, coupled with others too numerous to mention here, would without doubt make the homes of Newton better.

GIRL SCOUTS

Last Saturday the New England Chapter of the National Order of Golden Eagles held a conference and together meeting at Cedar Hill. Two Golden Eagles from Newton attended this meeting, Elizabeth Plimpton of Newton Centre and Lisbeth Leighton of West Newton. There are only three Chapters of this National order. Besides the New England Chapter there is one in New York and one in Philadelphia. The New England Chapter was organized and started by Mrs. Arthur Choate of New York, the first Vice-President of the Girl Scouts of America, in November, 1923, and there are 140 members of the Chapter. The object of the order is to maintain the interest of the Golden Eagles in Scouting and to keep them informed as to the activities of the National Organization. They may be called on to act as Captains at Troop meetings, rallies or any other functions to which a captain is unable to go, to assist captains in any way possible, to assist at Girl Scout camps and to act at all times as the Commissioner's Aid. The New England Chapter is quite an active one, holding meetings twice a year for week ends at Cedar Hill, getting acquainted with one another from the various parts of New England and exchanging ideas. Miss Rena Josie is President of this Chapter. The group is made up into Patrols and Mary Marshall of Newton is the Patrol Leader of the Newton group. In the Newton Patrol are Mary Marshall and Barbara Partridge of Newton, Mary Howard of Newtonville, Captain Ordway and Elizabeth Plimpton of Newton Centre and Lisbeth Leighton and Alice Phelps of West Newton.

On Saturday with the help of the Junior Auxiliary of the Cedar Hill (to which two of our Newton girls belong—Eloise Barber of Newton and Eleanor Clough of West Newton) the girls planted about 200 trees of different varieties, each girl marking the tree she planted with her name. Games followed and supper in the Rookery and then "initiation" in the big barn finished a day full of fun and good times. Sunday morning was spent in conference with Mrs. Arthur W. Hart, Commissioner of Massachusetts, in talking over better organization of the Chapter and then Miss Dorothy Dean led the girls in "Scouts Own" the service so dear to all Scouts. A grand chicken dinner followed and the conference closed with a talk by Miss Sarah Louise Arnold on what the Golden Eagle means to her.

The Golden Eagles who can get to the National Convention which is to be held in Boston in May, the 18th to the 24th, are to act as Pages at the various meetings and also as guides to the many visitors who are expected to attend the Convention. This is the first time that the Eagles have been given any specific duty at a Convention and they are very much delighted to be able to do this service. The Troops in Newton Centre held the regular annual banquet which is always a part of their yearly program. A very delicious supper was served after which speeches were made and awards given out. Captain Ordway presented the Scout Spirit badge to Barbara Randlett and Captain Skip with gave the Scout Spirit badge of the Senior Troop to Ethel deMille. Stunts followed, the evening proved to be the successful one that it has been many other years.

Troop 3 Seniors took this opportunity to announce that from now on their Troop will be known as Troop 13. Headquarters has asked that this change should be made as the National Office found two troops of one number rather confusing and although the girls really did not want to make the change as many of them started in the original Troop 3 and felt it belonged to them, they did it and we congratulate them on their fine Scout Spirit and wish them long life and great success.

HUNNEWELL CLUB ENTERTAINMENT

Hunnewell Club Members Entertain Crowded Houses With Minstrel Show and a One Act Comedy

The annual entertainment given by the members of the Hunnewell Club took place Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in Stanley Hall in the clubhouse before capacity houses. A minstrel show and a one-act comedy skit were presented and the audiences were kept in continuous laughter by the jokes and clever lines.

The interlocutor, Hal Cartiss, introduced the end men, Jimmie Anderson, Lev Bentley, Sena Butts, and Les Naylor to start things off. Jimmie Anderson said that he heard that Billy Garcelon talked in his sleep the other night. In the morning his wife asked him what he meant by talking about playing the races and had backed a horse by that name and had won twenty dollars on her. His wife got half, Jimmie said. That evening, however, Billy's wife met him at the door when he got home and said, "Your horse, Louise, called up on the phone twice (Continued on Page 4)

The Newton Athletic Association will hold its first annual meeting and election of officers at the Newton Club, Newtonville, on Monday, May 11th at 8 P. M.

Mr. Clark Macomber, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, will present a list of officers for the coming year.

Through the efforts of Mr. Macomber the association will be able to present an extremely interesting program of entertainment. The association is fortunate in being able to have with them on that evening, a nationally-known architect, who will address the members and their friends on athletic conditions in various cities and towns throughout the country. This subject will be of particular interest to all of the members and it is felt certain that every member will be present.

In addition Jake Stafford, last fall's Harvard quarterback and former Newton High star and favorite son, will entertain us with his many tricks of magic. We will be glad to welcome Jake back to the Newton fold.

President Seth Wood will make a report stating the progress of the association during the past year. To those who have not followed the work closely, we feel that there will be much in this report, that will bear witness to the fact that there has been a tremendous amount of good accomplished by the association.

For some time Newton has been in dire need of adequate athletic facilities at the High School. One building of the gymnasium in the New High School has been a step in the right direction. At this meeting, however, the association will present its program for the establishment of a new athletic field. It is felt that every citizen of the city is interested in this move and that the plan of action will meet with their hearty approval and support.

Every member is urged to be present at this extremely important meeting and to bring with him any persons interested in these activities.

Admission free.

HOSPITAL AID MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association was held in the Reception Room of the Nurses' Home at the Hospital, Tuesday, May 5th, with a very good attendance.

Mrs. George H. Talbot, the President, presided.

The Annual Reports of the Association were read by Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, Recording Secretary, and Miss Florence E. Tower, Treasurer.

Mrs. Bernard E. Early, chairman of the Nominating Committee, proposed the following nominations which were unanimously accepted: President, Mrs. George H. Talbot; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Mrs. W. M. Flanders, Mrs. George W. St. Amant; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Francis D. Williams; Treasurer, Miss Florence E. Tower; Auditor, Alonzo R. Weed.

On the 25th of May, 1924, a luncheon was given to our President, Mrs. Talbot, on her return from an extended European trip. Through the courtesy of the Hospital, the luncheon was served in the Recreation Room for nurses, although provided by the officers of the Association. Following the luncheon was a reception to which all residents of Newton were invited.

ANNUAL MEETING

The forty-eighth annual meeting and banquet of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association was held in the Assembly Hall on Monday evening, May 4th. Rev. J. West Thompson, the new pastor of the Methodist Church of Newton, offered the invocation. After the banquet President F. D. Fuller called for the report of the Nominating Committee. This report was accepted and the following officers were elected:

Trustees to serve four years, Wm. T. Rich, Newton, Edward J. Frost, Auburndale; Directors to serve three years, C. M. Abbott, Watertown, W. R. Ferry, Newton, L. Chase Kepner, Newtonville, C. V. Moore, Newton, A. A. Rideout, Waltham, A. M. Chandler, Newton; William H. Rice, Newton Centre; Clerk, C. V. Moore; Treasurer, Harold T. Dougherty.

Printed reports of the year's work were available, but President Fuller called upon H. W. Bascom, the General Secretary, to mention some of the most important events of the year. Mr. Bascom called attention to the State Older Boys' Conference held last December when Newton entertained 600 delegates, State Boys' Day when 48 boys raised $700 for boys' work, the Frank A. Day Camp which last year ran at its fullest capacity and this year has already more applications than can possibly be cared for, to the (Continued on Page 4)

SINGLE RESIDENCE ZONE

Aldermen Amend Ordinance Establishing New Zone, Hold Heated Hearing on Closing of Elm Road

The board of aldermen passed several important matters at the regular meeting on Monday night. The establishment of a single residence zone by an amendment to the zoning ordinance was the outstanding event of the evening. The board passed the order establishing the single residence zone by a unanimous vote, Alderman Weeks was absent.

At 7.45 the board was called to order and a public hearing on the question was held. Ex-alderman Harold F. Young, representing Frederick W. Young and other residents of Windemere road, Auburndale, asked that the block, bounded by Windemere road, Commonwealth avenue, Washington street, and Woodland road, be included in the single zone. A petition to this effect had been filed. The tentative map showed that only the easterly side of Windemere road was to be included in the zone and Mr. Young said that it didn't seem fair to restrict buildings on the property of Ex-Governor Bates to single family houses and permit two-family houses to be built in the rear of the property on Woodland road. The committee later reported favorably on this petition and the block named above was included in the single residence zone.

Mr. George R. Grant, representing thirty real estate owners in Ward 7 in the vicinity of the area bounded by Centre street, Hyde avenue and George street and also all the owners on the opposite side of Hyde avenue presented a petition signed by these property owners with the exception of the owners of the three two-family houses near the corner of Centre and George streets asking that the zone limits, as shown on the tentative map, be extended to include the above described area. Mr. Grant said that there was no contest as there was no room for the erection of any more two-family houses and the signers of the petition were unanimous for the establishment of the new zone. President White informed Mr. Grant that a hearing on his petition would be held on June 1st. (Continued on Page 4)

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Legislature of 1925 was prorogued at 12.50 Saturday morning. It was the shortest session in 45 years. The unseemly hour for adjourning is not surprising to those who follow the proceedings on Beacon Hill. There are always unexpected delays, and try as they will the presiding officers cannot put through their plans as perfectly as they might. Then, too, the Governor has the final day. The Legislature must await his pleasure as far as prorogation is concerned. Until he is satisfied that it has done its work as it should he may withhold his approval of the final adjournment.

This year Governor Fuller was determined that every bill should be carefully scrutinized before he affixed his signature. As is usually the case some of the most vitally important bills were on his desk during the afternoon and evening of the last day. These, the Governor announced, would receive his most careful attention. He practically told the Legislature that until he had consulted the Attorney General and the heads of State departments about the different measures he would not consent to prorogation. The legislators accepted his decision and spent many hours sitting around waiting for the bills "to come back from the Governor" as they say on Beacon Hill.

To those who have never witnessed prorogation, and to those who have, it is always a matter of great interest. Only a small group of members "stick around" for this ceremony if the hour is late. And yet it is conducted with all possible dignity. After the Secretary of the Commonwealth ascertains unofficially that all bills have been signed he presents himself to the Governor and the presiding officers of the two branches. Each branch then appoints a committee "to wait upon the Governor." These committees join and march in pomp to notify the Governor that their respective branches have finished the session's work. Then the committees return to their respective chambers. Soon after the Secretary of the Commonwealth appears escorted by the Sergeant-at-Arms, first in the Senate and then in the House. He reads his message, by authority of the Governor. That message tells the story of the year in two paragraphs. After it has been read the General Court ceases its functions.

Here is what Secretary of the Commonwealth Frederick W. Cook read last Saturday morning. Inasmuch as it has considerable significance it is printed herewith in full as follows:

"His Excellency the Governor, having been informed by a joint committee of the two branches that the General Court has disposed of all business before it and desires now to be prorogued, instructs me to say that during the session 348 Acts and 40 Resolves have received executive approval. He has returned 13 Acts and 1 Resolve with his objections thereto in writing including The Budget Bill, so-called, having the amounts of five items reduced and three items disapproved therein, upon all of which his objections were sustained. He has withheld his approval from 1 Act which has become law by virtue of chapter 1, section 1, Article 2, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

"His Excellency instructs me to say that in compliance with the request of the two branches and with the advice of the Council, he is pleased to prorogue the General Court until the day next preceding the first Wednesday of January next, and the General Court is prorogued accordingly."

The General Court of 1925 has won fame for important automobile legislation. In fact it did many other things but three vitally important measures affecting the operation of automobiles will be the most discussed legislation of the entire year. First of all was the so-called "drunken driver" bill for which there was plainly a public demand. It makes it mandatory upon a judge to sentence to a jail term a man who has been convicted of a second offence for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. There is this stipulation—the second offence must have been committed within six years of the first.

The next important automobile measure to be passed and signed by the Governor requires that operators of automobile buses must not only obtain a license from the local authorities but a certificate of "public necessity and convenience" from the Department of Public Utilities. The operators of buses do not want this law and will try to have it put on the ballot at the 1926 State election in the hope that the people of Massachusetts will reject on a referendum vote. In fact these opponents of this act have already started the necessary machinery which includes the obtaining of 15,000 signatures of registered voters—2,500 for each of four counties.

It is no secret that the street railway companies and the railroads were the principal seekers of this legislation. They believe it will do away with the competition of small bus lines that spring up over night here, there and everywhere. Fortunately Newton is not confronted with that problem. The licensing authorities in Newton—the Board of Aldermen—have not seen fit to allow these lines to be run in this city. Many other city fathers have dealt with the problem differently. They have permitted all kinds of bus lines. In consequence the street railways and the railroads have suffered to a considerable extent from seemingly unfair competition in various parts of the State. Although Newton has as yet no reason to become excited over this new law it may some day interest us more than we think.

The third, and in some ways the most important of the three automobile bills, was that providing for compulsory automobile liability insurance against personal injury. The measure has been before the General Court for nearly 10 years. It has in past years got through the House but has been killed in the Senate. This year its passage was far from smooth, as repeated attempts were made to kill it in the Senate. The House, on the other hand, seemed quite willing it should go through. But on the second last day it was enacted.

The principal arguments for the bill were these: That many of the operators of automobiles in Massachusetts have no financial responsibility, and that if one is struck by a car and injured or killed there is no chance for him or his heirs to recover from the driver or owner. The new act requires an automobile owner to deposit cash amounting to $5000, a bond for that amount or an insurance policy.

Those who fought for the bill said that 90 per cent of the cars run through Massachusetts today are bought on part-payment systems. That the man who sells the car has it insured against fire, theft and collision but not against accident. This insurance is kept on until the buyer has paid his last instalment.

It remained for Representative Hollis of this city to lead the fight in the House against the bill. There were a comparatively small number on Mr. Hollis' side and furthermore he was matched against Representative Hays of Brighton, who has sponsored this legislation for six or seven years. Mr. Hays charged that Mr. Hollis was against the bill because he was in the insurance business. Mr. Hays went on to say that the insurance companies were satisfied with the present situation as they could "get more money out of the 25 per cent of the population who insure their cars than out of 100 per cent of the car owners." Mr. Hays intimated that the companies would be required to accept a lower rate. "Then, too," he added, "they tell us that this will lead to State control of insurance rates."

Mr. Hollis hotly resented Mr. Hays' insinuations. He said that he was in the insurance business and was proud of the fact. He maintained that there was nothing dishonorable in that fact nor in opposing the bill itself. Mr. Hollis said that the measure was "bad" and predicted that its provisions were not workable and that eventually the Legislature would see its mistake. Mr. Hollis pointed out that no other State has seen fit to adopt such legislation and considered this argument against the measure.

Governor Fuller signed the bill shortly before midnight Friday.

ROTARY CLUB

Members of the Newton Rotary Club turned out nearly one hundred per cent strong on Monday of this week to enjoy the hospitality of Lasell Seminary, tendered by their brother Rotarian, Guy M. Winslow, principal of that institution. The meeting was unanimously characterized by those present as one of the best and most interesting ever held by the Club, the arrangements being such that ample entertainment, an unusual luncheon menu, many special features, and a speaker of more than ordinary attainments in the person of Dr. A. E. Stearns principal of Andover Academy, all combined to provide a program of unflagging interest and enthusiasm from beginning to end.

An especially unique feature was the special reception committee of 26 young women, all students at the Seminary, and all daughters of Rotarians from all sections of the country. This group included young ladies from the Pacific Coast, Canada, and the Philippine Islands, as well as other distant and nearby cities. These young ladies not only received the guests, but attended to the serving during the luncheon, each wearing an identification badge similar to those worn by Rotarians and giving the name and address of each. The young ladies also responded to the roll call with their own names and the names of their fathers, announcing the clubs with which the latter were affiliated.

The luncheon was one that created enthusiasm even among those who are accustomed to good luncheons, being prepared and served under the direction of the students of the Domestic Science Department at the school.

The speaker, Dr. Stearns, spoke on "Boys' Work," being recognized as an authority on that subject, holding the close attention of his audience and proving an especially able speaker. Selections by the Lasell Glee Club were given during the luncheon and contributed still further to the many pleasures of an unusually enjoyable meeting.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by

F. A. Day Jr. High School

The boys defeated the West Junior High School of Watertown with a score 6-4. This is their second victory.

The girls have two captain ball games scheduled—one with the Peirce School, May 21, and one with the Bigelow School, May 28.

Miss Williams's science classes have completed very commendable notebook work on the heating systems and fire prevention.

Mr. Sandwall spoke to a class in Education at Simmons College last Wednesday. She spoke of the correlation of the cooking class work with the health work.

Several girls from Framingham Normal School visited the cooking classes. Later others will come to observe the girls' work in our practical art classes.

Owing to the absence of Mrs. Larsen in the Lunch Room, the girls of IIE with Miss Pratt helped prepare the school luncheon Wednesday. Some of these girls also frosted a birthday cake for Miss Goodnow.

We have on exhibition pictures taken of the cast in costume of Room 28's Assembly program and "The Covered Wagon," taken by Ruth Irwin.

Wednesday's program for Assembly was in charge of the Model Yacht Club. Harry Gibson, the President, presided. Richard Wales read a paper describing the club's work. A film entitled "The Queen of the Waves" was then presented.

For the benefit of the Motion Picture Fund "Wanderer of the Wasteland" by Zane Grey and "The Toll of the Sea" will be shown in the Auditorium Thursday afternoon and evening, May 21 at 2.15 and 7.30. These films are beautifully colored by the new Technicolor process.

Mason School

Nearly four hundred happy boys and girls were entertained on Monday of this week by two real Indians and their manager. The thrills caused by the war dance, the curious, not to say terrifying, manner of the old medicine man in driving out the "little devils" of disease, gave every one excitement enough to last some time.

A neat sum was netted for the Mason School Emergency Fund.
League games have begun. On Tuesday the Peirce defeated the Masons, 6 to 3, on the Newton Corner Playground.

The playground work for the spring and summer has this program:

Senior League

April 30, Bigelow vs. Peirce; May 5, Peirce vs. Mason; May 7, Mason vs.
Bigelow; May 12, Peirce vs. Bigelow;
May 19, Mason vs. Peirce; May 21,
Bigelow vs. Mason.

Junior League—A

April 30, Burr vs. Emerson, Hyde

gier vs. Emerson; May 12, Angier vs.
Burr, Emerson vs. Hyde.

Junior League—B

May 12, Stearns vs. H. Mann, May 19, Horace Mann vs. Stearns; May 26,

June 16—Same as above at Senior grounds.

Last Saturday, the Mason team of girls played Captain Ball with the Hyde team at Newton Highlands, and won, 9 to 1. Other games are to follow.

Wednesday afternoon, the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades saw a film on the care of the teeth.

On the same afternoon at 3.30, Mr.
Smith gave a talk on gardening to the boys and girls interested in home gardens.

Stearns School

Miss Stoddard's class, grade V, have been enjoying some very interesting lessons given on lantern slides. The subjects studied were, "The Rocky Mountains," "A Trip to Washington,"
"The Nature of Sugar Beets, and Cane Sugar." Grade IV have just completed a three weeks' work on the subject of geography. It was summarized on a sand table corn farm. This was done so that the children might get some knowledge of what takes place on a corn farm. The entire buildings, fencing, and animals, were made by the children.

The children of Miss Parker's room have recently made a Geography book.
Each child has contributed some part of the book. One making the cover, another the title page, illustrations, stories, maps, etc.

Mrs. Goddard's children, grade III, made a very interesting Nonantum sand table. They illustrated the principle streets, churches, and schools.
They have also been making some very attractive nature books of colored birds, and original stories.

Mrs. Kidder's Opportunity Class, are interested in the making of a Vegetable Chart. Each child is keeping his own record, of how many fresh vegetables he eats during the week.

The Bluebird Club of Stearns school Center, had a very interesting outing to Norumbega Park. It was conducted under the personal directress, their leader, Miss Dorothy Stebbins.

Very interesting programs have been planned every Monday afternoon during the year. Some may be interested to know, that such things as Dramatizing, games, and the making of scrap books for the hospital. The Club has been carried on co-operating with the school, in its activities.

The next assembly for the upper grades will be held on the afternoon of May 8th. There are some interesting features.

DOLLAR DAY AT NEWTONVILLE

The big Newtonville Dollar Day, for which the merchants of that village have been preparing with much enthusiasm and interest for the past few weeks, will be held tomorrow, May 9th. From the beginning, the Newtonville members of the Mercantile Division of the Newton Chamber of Commerce have been determined to put over a Dollar Day that will outshine the successful preceding events at Newton Corner and Newton Centre, and have entered into the spirit of the plan in a way that promises much of interest and benefit to the many people who live in that section of the city.

The Newtonville Dollar Day is the third to be held under the general auspices of the Mercantile Division of the Chamber, with West Newton and other villages to follow. The Newton-ville Dollar Day committee is in a position to profit from the experiences of similar committees in the other two villages, each village group co-operating to help all village groups to share in the success which is so far attending all Dollar Day activities.

Publicity is unquestionably the keynote of success in these events, the display of special Dollar Day advertising in Newtonville being fully—if not more—as general and as noticeable as in the other villages. Large street banners announce to all passing through the village that Newton-ville is to have a big Dollar Day on May 9. Thousands of window pen-nants also announce the event, from the store windows, in store interiors, and from every other vantage point available.

Citizens residing in Newtonville and vicinity who are seeking opportunities to make a dollar go farther than ever before will do well to read carefully the various Dollar Day announcements in this week's issue of the local newspapers. These are numerous and cover nearly every branch of retail business, offering unprecedented opportunities to save a substantial part of a dollar every time that a dollar is spent in Newtonville on Saturday of this week. A majority of the offerings are in the form of opportunities to save from 25 to 75 cents on every dollar purchase, while a few merchants offer articles ordinarily retailing from $2.00 up for an even dollar on this date. Single articles, combinations of articles, ten to 25 per cent discounts, Dollar Day souvenirs, and other features all promise inducements that the buying public will find it difficult to resist.

All advance indications promise that the coming Newtonville Dollar Day will be one that will take precedence —in importance and success—over all other merchandising events ever held in that village.

An element of humor was injected into the hearing by President White's answer to the question of Mr. Joseph F. Lockett as to whether there was any limitation to the number of amendments that could be made after the present amendment was passed when he replied "there is no limit." Mr. Lockett, representing 188 residents of Newton Centre in the vicinity of Walnut street, Homer street and the aqueduct, who had asked that this section be included in the new zone at the hearing on April 6th said that the residents now wanted to include certain other property that ought to be protected. A hearing will be held on this section June 1st.

Armand C. Band of 121 Newtonville avenue, presented statistics showing that only 10 per cent of the people of Massachusetts lived in single-family houses and that it required an income of at least five thousand dollars a year to live in a house of this type. He also predicted that within five or ten years, the development of airships would mean that the people of such incomes would commute from places over a hundred miles away and that they would not want to live in Newton anyway. Mr. Band then read a letter from his wife asking that the property at 121 Newtonville avenue be excluded from the single residence zone.

Arthur T. Patten, representing James M. Burr and others called the attention to the board to land on Commonwealth avenue near Boston College which is under development. Mr. Patten said that the establishment of the new zone in this district would stop this development as several two-family houses are contemplated and he asked that the section be left in the private residence zone.

A request from Mrs. Pierce requesting that her property at 45 Newtonville avenue be left in the private residence zone was rejected.

Mr. Charles J. Badger of Albion street, Newton Centre, requested that a small section in that vicinity that had been left unrestricted be included in the new zone as the owners desired. A hearing will be held June 1st on this property.

Several other questions were asked regarding the status of certain streets and the hearing was closed at 8:05. Later in the evening when the matter came up for action the rules were suspended in order that action could be taken at that time. Alderman Parker, chairman of the select committee on town changes to the original amendment, informed the board that certain changes had been proposed and were approved by the committee. These were as follows: allowing the following districts to remain in the private residence zone; in Chestnut Hill, property on Commonwealth avenue, property on Boston line backed by the Chestnut Hill Reservoir; in Waban, property on Coyne road, near Fuller street, both sides; in Auburndale, property on Auburndale avenue on one side east from Grant street; in Newton, the property bounded by Vernon, Eldridge, Church, and Franklin streets; in Newton Highlands, property opposite the Newton Cemetery; including the following districts in the single residence zone; in Newton Centre, the property bounded by the aqueduct, Walnut and Homer streets; in Newton, property on Kendrick road in the Farlow Hill section; in Newton Highlands, property on Rockledge and Woodcliff roads; in Oak Hill, property known as the Hartman property on southeast side of Brookline street; in Newton Centre, property on Grant avenue and Ward streets; in Auburndale, property bounded by Commonwealth Ave., Washington St., Woodland and Windemere Rds.; in Auburndale property on Islington and Duffield roads to the Charles River; in Chestnut Hill, property on Middlesex road and Hammond street. Another change in the amendment as originally proposed by the committee was that any single house which was assessed prior to April 1st, 1925, may be altered into a two-family house under certain conditions by permission of the board. The original amendment read "prior to April 1st, 1901."

A roll call vote was taken and the amendment to the ordinance was passed unanimously. Another hearing held on the proposed ordinance closing Elm road, Newtonville, from Walnut street to Kimball terrace during school hours brought out spirited discussion. Mr. Elliott B. Church, representing the school committee, explained that the committee and that the unification of the schools increased the need of keeping traffic off of Elm road during school hours. Mr. O. Palmer, president of the Technical high school, said that since the unification of the schools between 350 and 400 school pupils crossed Elm road at intervals of forty minutes, or six times a day. On Mondays and Wednesdays, at assemblies and music periods the entire enrollment of the Classical high went across Elm road to the only hall in the Tech building. Mrs. Ernest E. Cobb, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, and Mrs. J. Porter Russell, chairman of the educational committees of the Federation also spoke in favor of the proposed ordinance. The opposition was headed by Charles M. Howell and Charles F. Cheney. Attorney Taylor, speaking for Mr. Howell, said that there was not much to add to what had been said last year and agreed that it would be a fine thing for the schools but he denounced the proposed ordinance as it would deprive anyone of their legal rights to pass on a public street. The danger to high school pupils was not great as after all, he claimed, they are not kindergarten children. He suggested white lines on the street and if necessary that the teachers act as traffic officers. The School Committee, he declared were enthusiasts and that they were forgetting the rights of the citizens who were represented by the board.

Mr. Cheney said that the road should be kept open as the people were entitled to this having subscribed about $70,000 for the laying out and maintenance of the street. Digressing from the subject Mr. Cheney criticized the school committee until President White asked him to confine himself to the subject. A letter of protest from Adams D. Claffin, trustee of the Claffin estate was read. No action was taken on the matter by the board.

The report of the Finance committee on the matter of the appropriation of $10,000 per year for five years to pay the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway for the loss they would sustain by providing bus service in place of cars on the Needham-Watertown, and Newton-Centre-Newtonville lines was presented by Alderman George W. Pratt, chairman of the Finance Committee. Mr. Pratt said that last year a petition was presented by residents of the city asking that relief from the noise and nuisance of the present system be abated by some means. As the claim was made by the M. & B. St. Ry. that they could not afford to lay new tracks they agreed to provide bus service for the school pupils if the city would reimburse them for the loss they would sustain. Last October a special committee, under Alderman Collins made a thorough study and reported favorably upon the matter. The Finance Committee sent the report to the Mayor, with a request that he negotiate with the street railway company if he saw fit. On the 20th of April the Mayor sent a communication to the board on the matter but did not request an appropriation. Last Thursday this committee met informally with representatives of the street railway company and the city solicitor. At that time the city solicitor advised the committee that an appropriation which came before the board in the form it did could not legally be made. City Solicitor Bartlett claimed that if $10,000 would accomplish relief from the nuisance of noise, thereby increasing property values and widening Walnut street by the elimination of the car tracks these did not constitute objects for which the board could legally make an appropriation. Mr. Pratt said that the president of the Street Railway Company said that he could not see how the committee could do otherwise than report that nothing could be done at this time. Alderman Collins said that in the special committee's report they went to some lengths on the reason for the $10,000 which they found to sustain loss incurred by street railway and that this could not be done legally. Because of the nature of the Finance Committee's report no action was necessary.

Frank M. Forbush opposed the petition of the Edison Company for location of three poles on Summer street, Newton Centre. A letter of protest by several other residents of the vicinity was read. Mr. S. H. Chambers told the board that the purpose of the poles was to provide him with service for electric lights. A representative of the company informed the board that the poles would also be available for street lights. The petition was referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses.

Walter F. Bryson appeared in behalf of his petition for a waiver of the setback line on property at 47 Wyoming road. The waiver was granted. R. LeRoy Sanborn appeared on the petition in his name for a waiver of the setback line at 73 Westwood road and explained to the board that under the present restrictions he was allowed only seventeen feet for his house as the lot was on the corner and was a peculiar shape. President White suggested that he erect a "single residence of the bungalow type." This petition was referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses.

John J. Walsh, representing his brother, Thomas Walsh, spoke in favor of the latter's petition for a gasoline filling station at Waltham and Cherry streets, West Newton. Mr. Walsh said that they proposed to erect a small and attractive building which would increase the valuation of property in that vicinity. The petition was opposed by A. A. Mulvihill, Walter Anderson, W. A. Goode, Thomas Lapham, and others on the grounds of danger, damage to valuation of property in neighborhood, and because of the fact that there were a number of other filling stations within a third of a mile.

Attorney Arthur W. Blakemore appeared in behalf of the petition of E. G. Frost for a permit for a 3-car garage at 80 Charles street, Auburndale. Mr. Blakemore said that his client proposed to take people who patronized his canoe livery to and from Boston in private busses free of charge and that he wanted to erect a garage in the rear of his property. The location of the property is in the general residence district but on the sides it is joined by property in the business zone and in the rear by property in the manufacturing zone. Mr. Blakemore said that Mr. Frost was not asking for anything extraordinary as all the residents of the vicinity had garages and that was all he was asking for. W. J. Cornay opposed the petition as the street was narrow and congested with traffic going to the various clubs in the vicinity. There were about sixty-five children in the neighborhood. The main objection, Mr. Cornay said, was to the rough element that would be attracted to the spot by the free bus service. Last year milk was stolen from his doorstep twice, rose bushes were destroyed and fruit trees were raided by the "rough bunch" from the river. He thought that 90 trains a day stopping at the Riverside station were sufficient to handle the canoeists and that a bus line was not necessary. Leo Taffe objected to the petition as it would create a parking spot for peddlers. C. F. Miller and others also presented objections. Letters of protest were read by the city clerk, and the petition was referred to the License committee.

Jurors were drawn as follows: Criminal Business, June 1st; Edgar F. Callahan, 30 Emerson street; Robert C. Bray, 91 Institution avenue; John J. Monahan, 36 Bennington street; Anthony G. Sullivan, 143 Bridge street. Criminal Business, June 8th; Paul Champagne, 278 California street; Bartlett F. Kenney, 55 Woodside road; E. Barker Burnham, 32 Langley road; George Leonard, 173 Cambridge street. Criminal Session, June 8th; Charles S. Nelson, 20 Richardson street; J. Howard Thompson, 51 Lakewood road; Thomas F. Fitzgerald, 151 Pearl street; Frederick H. Cartwright, 43 Williston road.

A petition was received from the Garden City Taxi Company for permit to operate a bus line on Centre street between Nonantum Square and Boylston street.

The F. W. Norris Company was granted permission to use the second floor of Elliot Block on Centre street, Newton, for manufacturing purposes, with certain restrictions. Fire sprinklers must be installed and all petitions must be of fireproof metal lath as required by the building code. Reuben Klugman was granted leave to withdraw his petition for a permit for an express license as the chief of police did not approve on account of his youth. The Newton Motor Car Company was granted a license to sell second hand cars at 10 Hall street. Thirty-eight permits for private garages for not more than two cars were granted. Other routine business was taken up and the board adjourned at 10:55.

HUNNEWELL CLUB MINSTRELS
Today, Phil and Marion Jamieson were going into society and Marion was telling Phil of the party she was going to have one afternoon, whereupon Phil gathered up all the umbrellas in the stand, took them upstairs, and locked them in a closet. When Marion indignantly asked him if he was afraid some of her guests would take them he replied, "No, I was afraid they might recognize them." The interlocutor put Lev Bentley to a test and asked him if he knew what an island was, to which Lev replied that of course he did, but Hal finally had to tell him. Lev also fell finally on the questions, "What is a lake?" and "What is a peninsula?" But when Hal told him that a peninsula was a neck of dirt he burst out into hilarious laughter. When asked what he was laughing at Lev replied that now he knew why Everett Crawford wore such high collars—so he wouldn't have to wash his peninsula. Jimmie Anderson praised the police force of the city and said that as he was going up Centre street the other night at about 2 A. M. with a bag of sugar under his arm an officer asked him what he was doing with it. Jimmie replied that he liked sugar in his tea, coffee, and even in water whereupon the officer hit him twice on the head with his club. When Jimmie came to he asked the officer what the two protrusions were on his head. The policeman replied that they were a couple of bumps for his ears. The interlocutor asked Lev if he could row a boat to which Lev replied, "Sure I can—canoe." Hal Curtiss sang some very clever parodies on "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No More", among them claiming that Newton should be called the White city instead of the Garden city on account of Dan White, the comptroller, and Tom White, the president of the board of aldermen. The city has no city prison but they put Mayor Childs into city hall for life. They picked a man to brighten the aldermen's wits—that was Harry Pitts. Nathan Heard was a radio fan and while listening in the other night there came a naughty song—"I wonder what Nathan Heard."

For a dialogue between Lev Bentley and Harry Orr, the director, Lev said that he came in on a friend's ticket, and when Harry asked him where the friend was Lev said, "looking for the ticket." Doc Naylor went to answer a phone call the other day at the club and as he went around a corner he bumped into Hal Curtiss and was knocked out. When he came to he asked, "did anybody get the number of that truck?"

Lev said that he was sore at Phil Jamieson and that Phil had lied to him. Hal said that he never passed Phil's lips, to which Bentley replied, "No—he talks through his nose."

These jokes and many others were interspersed with solos by several of the minstrels. Les Naylor sang "O Katherine" to the delight of the audience. "Sally" by Howard Fletcher also went over big as did other solos by Tom Murray, Jimmie Anderson, Hal Curtiss, Lev Bentley, and Sena Butts. Prior to the minstrel a one-act comedy skit entitled "Professor Baxter's Great Invention" was presented. The restoration of youth to aged and infirm people by means of electricity resulted in the finding of happiness by the actors. G. S. Sprague, J. G. Barnes, L. H. Naylor, Mrs. W. M. Duncan, Miss Hope Parker, Miss Gladys Pope and a real live kitten composed the cast.

Much of the success of the entertainment is due to Mr. Harry Orr, who gave sparingly of his time to the direction and coaching of the minstrels and the skit.

HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION
awarded to three nurses, though provided by the Association. Miss Riddle graciously presented the following scholarships: $125.00 to Miss Cora C. Dawson, of the graduating class; $75.00 to Miss Mary Morton of the second class; and $50.00 to Miss Harriet Bryden of the first year class.

On Monday, November 26th, the Association gave a Bridge at the Women's Republican Club, Beacon street, Boston, for the benefit of the new Eye Clinic; the entire receipts were $516.00. Mrs. Abbie Conley Rice, accompanied by Mr. J. Walter Colburn, sang most charmingly.

Our donations of the year are as follows: For the Eye Clinic, $500; for financing nurses who go to New York for special study, $500; for Miss Allen's use as nurse, $100; special gift of four members of the Association, gauze cutting machine, $200; scholarships, $250; Total, $1550.

Desiring to increase the membership the Association appointed a committee of Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Mrs. William M. Flanders, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, with Miss Fannie B. Carpenter as chairman to select one director from each village who in turn would select one person from each church in her village, whose duty it would be to obtain all the new members possible and to report to her Director before the first fall meeting in October.

Miss O'Neil and Miss Jewett rendered very charmingly piano solos and a group of nurses sang most acceptably, thus contributing much to the pleasure of the occasion. Miss Allen's brief talk was very interesting, giving statistics showing the ever increasing growth in every department and the necessity for larger and better accommodations both for nurses and patients. Many departments are full and over-running, not even a place to put an extra bed for an employee and absolutely no room for extra patients.

A full time social service worker with a definite sum as salary is a positive need. Miss Eleanor Rindge of Wellesley, a volunteer worker has been most efficient and faithful, coming daily from 9-5. Miss Herrick, the regular social service worker spoke of the steady growth of her department and how much time and wisdom were required to readjust patients to home surroundings and conditions after leaving the hospital.

In the eye clinic, already 72 pairs of glasses had been fitted to school children in Newton, thus saving many trips to Boston. Mr. Roach spoke a few words of appreciation of the work of the Hospital Aid Association.

The speaker of the morning was Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, former President of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. One great need of American women was to get their eyes open to the things that are happening. Belief in prohibition, obedience to law, and clear thinking, these are definite needs of today. Bring back to its proper place religion. Put religion into practical life, put the highest and noblest things in the right place and

At the close of Mr. Geldart's remarks Mr. Fuller handed him a check from the Directors as a token of their appreciation of his splendid work. Ray Hillier closed the program with a very clever entertainment.

To The Residents of Newton:

The Towle Estate on Centre Street typifies the beauty of the city of Newton. It is the location picked by its former owner, Loren D. Towle, as the finest home site in Newton. Many thousands of dollars were spent in beautifying the land, in the perfecting of an ideal location. After his death the property came into the possession of interests who decided to subdivide the estate and offer lots for sale to the public. The administration of this task was entrusted to our firm.

It is our urgent desire to carry on the work conceived by the genius of the late owner of this property—and at the same time make it possible for people of moderate means to build homes on the land. Formerly the guarded home of a wealthy man, this property can now be permanently enjoyed by you or your friends.

We have priced the lots from $1600., upwards. Agents will be on the property every day. The telephone number of the land office is Newton North 5520.

Yours very truly,

Charles A. Gleason,
President.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation

It doesn't seem possible that time for the Annual Meeting of the State Federation is almost upon us, but it is, and while there can not be given this week the entire program of the three days at Swampscott, the Newton Clubwomen who wish to secure rooms at the New Ocean House, or to know about the hours of the meetings or to know how to reach Swampscott, will be given this information herewith. The splendid program planned by the Newton Federation for its meeting of the 12th must take precedence this week in space and announcement, for it is very near our hearts, and is to be a wonderful day.

There certainly could not be a more ideal place for the gathering of nearly two thousand club women than on the shores at Swampscott, looking out over a wonderful expanse of water, and with every comfort and convenience in this roomy hotel given over for three days to the affairs of our big organization.

The first session opens at 2.30 on Wednesday, May 20th, but the Credentials Committee will be on duty from 12 to 2.30 o'clock and from 4.30 to 6.30 o'clock on that day. Thursday, May 21st, they will be on duty from 8.30 to 11.30 A. M. And all who wish the privilege of voting must register before this latter hour. Polls are open on Thursday only from 12.30 to 2 and from 4 to 5.30 o'clock.

The New Ocean House is reached from Boston by trolley, or train from North Station to Lynn or Swampscott.

There is trolley service from Lynn to Swampscott, a somewhat easier way to reach the Hotel than from the Swampscott Station. An excellent thing to remember, also, is that there is much saving on the price of tickets by purchasing a twelve trip strip. Two persons would use this in the three days, at about half the cost of fare.

Rates at the hotel for single rooms with bath, nine and ten dollars a day per person. Other rates vary from $7. to $9., according to accommodations.

Meals alone are $5. for the day; luncheon and dinner $4.; or for one meal, $3. Automobile space may be secured in fireproof garage at $1. a day.

The program planned for the three days—May 20-21-22—will be given in full next week, when you will remember it much better, anyway, as it will be just before the convention, and, moreover, we have much more interesting announcement to give in our space just now of our own splendid Federation.

Newton Federation

There isn't a doubt but that the clubwomen of Newton will need to show their club membership tickets on the 12th at Newton Centre, and that this attractive Club House will be filled to capacity. There are three reasons for this knowledge on our part. First, Annual Meetings of the Federation are always interesting, with their "peppy," clever, reports by women from all parts of Newton; they are interesting for their sociability at the luncheon, and the merry getting together of friends who through the year find themselves often too swamped with work to visit the different sections of our City, and so keep up delightful friendships; and this year, there is to be the most exciting interest of all—a perfectly wonderful program for the afternoon!

The Newton Centre people know full well what "Rainbow Revue" means. They have enjoyed them—and looked to them again and again because of that enjoyment—and now the Newton Federation has had the splendid good fortune to secure the good auspices of Mr. C. Hassler Capron, who put on those clever Rainbow specialties, to give us a few of their best numbers. And as if this were not enough good fortune to fall to us at this time, we also have secured talented members of the Cantabrigia Club of Cambridge who have consented to bring to us a one-act play of their own that has made such a hit in their own club this year.

Such an afternoon would ordinarily fill the Newton Centre Club House with an audience only too eager to purchase tickets at at least a dollar a seat, and the Federation is to have the pleasure of offering this to its members, just as an addition to all the other interesting events of a perfect day! No wonder we realize that club members must bring their membership tickets—for it would not be surprising if all Newton residents came in eager desire to see the performances that would ordinarily be purchased at a fairly good price!

The morning session begins promptly at 10 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at 12.30, and the afternoon program—playtime—begins at 2.15. The Newton Centre Woman's Club will be hostess to the Federation, and, strangely, its President has also been nominated for the coming year as President of the club which is to be her guest. Mrs. Ernest Cobb, who has served only a few times as hostess, her educational and literary work demand all her time—far more than a busy club president can give to it. Mrs. Ernest Spear, Jr., who presides over the Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on the 7th, takes over Mrs. Cobb's work of the 12th—certainly this is to be a strenuous week of club preparations for her! Mrs. Herbert E. Child, who has been a most efficient and popular Treasurer for several years, also retires on the 12th, to the regret of her friends and associates. Mrs. Percival Evans, the faithful and capable Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, the ever reliable and calm Recording Secretary, also cease to serve us, refusing to heed our entreaties to "stand by." Of course we do not question that they all know in their wisdom why they have to refuse us, but that does not remove the regret.

Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, State Federation President, and Mrs. William H. White, our Director of 12th District, who has endeavored herself to all our federated clubs, will be guests of honor.

The first extract from the Rainbow Revue of 1925, which was produced in February at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, is "A Story We Loved in Childhood—Red Riding Hood." Dorothy Barton plays this part, Sylvia Riley plays The Fairy Prince, and other little Red Riding Hoods are Barbara Anderson, Rosalind Bigelow, Rhoda Bolinger, Olive Riley, Mary Hymers, Alta Maloney, Lois Martin, Elizabeth Berry, Dorothy Rising, Ruth Usher, Virginia White, and Priscilla Wright. Bridesmaids will be represented by Priscilla Abbott, Betty Bolinger, Janet Dill, and Louisa Shephardson. The song of the skit is taken from Dillingham's Production of "Stepping Stones"—"Everybody Calls Me Little Red Riding Hood," and will be sung by Dorothy Barton and the chorus of children. All the children are Newton Centre "maiden."

The second play for our entertainment is one of Crinoline Days, called "The Land of Yesterday." This was first staged in the Rainbow Revue of 1924, and was repeated by request in 1925, by the Kappa Phi Sorority in Whitney Hall, Brookline, on March 6th and 7th. These are going to give us this special performance, so that first we shall see our own clever Newton talent, and then clever talent from our neighboring town. Miss Dorothy Stone plays "The Old Fashioned Girl," Miss Olga Eastman "The Lamp Doll," and the "Ladies of the Ensemble" are Carol McGaw, Helen McClellan, Margaret Stranahan, Elizabeth Rogers, Wilma Small, Alice Atkins, Barbara Rogers, and Dorothy Spurr.

The song which they will sing is "Crinoline Days" from Irving Berlin's "Music Box Revue."

The third scene from the Rainbow Revue of 1925 is again composed of Newton talent. In "Midnight in the Nursery," Mr. Robert Perry will play

"Raggedy Andy," and Miss Sylvia Riley will play "Raggedy Ann." The song is "Raggedy Ann" from Dillingham's production of "Stepping Stones." "The Raggedy Rag Girls" are Margaret Miller, Carol McGaw, Mildred McKee, Eleanor Newton, Penelope Ridgeway, Gwendolyn Scudder, Elinore Young, and Drusilla Gury.

All the above scenes are produced under the personal direction of Mr. C. Hassler Capron of Newton Centre, who originated, staged, and produced them for the Newton Centre Woman's Club Rainbow Revue. Mr. Capron is proving himself an adept at stage productions, coaching the plays for Bradford Academy, and teaching each Wednesday morning at Brookline High School classes in Stage Lighting, tracing the progress and change since the earliest days of drama.

Between the scenes there will be music from "The Student Prince," a New York play now going on, by an orchestra in charge of Mr. Louis Haffner, who has had charge of all the music of the productions of the Rainbow Revue. Mr. Haffner will be at the piano.

And the last play on the program is that of the Cantabrigia Club members—"The Minuet," an episode of the French Revolution, by Louis N. Parker. Mrs. Frank P. Sanborn will play (Continued on page 9)

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

This is the week that you are supposed to clean up, paint up and otherwise beautify the grounds about your home. And if you do not own your home then the grounds about the property of your landlord. No landlord, as far as can be learned, has any objection to a tenant making the place look as attractive as possible. Neither does he care how much money a tenant sees fit to lay out, providing he doesn't expect it to be taken out of the rent. Most landlords are satisfied to have the tenants assume full responsibility, including, of course, all financial obligations. However, that is a subject we did not intend to discuss at length but merely mention

here in case there are timid tenants who hesitate to do anything they think might not please the owner of the property. As far as we can see there is no objection to continuing the policy of "clean up and paint up" for more than a week, if the householder is disposed to carry his plan for a further period. The week is designated more especially as the time in which the city carts will call around and collect any extra accumulation of rubbish that should be removed. On the whole it seems a good idea. No

well regulated household can pass throughout the Fall, Winter and Spring without having something to show for it—that is, something they would not dare to contribute to a rummage sale or to any of the worthy charities urging gifts of apparel or "any old thing." There must be umbrellas, overshoes, old gloves, etc.,

that have outlived their usefulness.

Perhaps there is other stuff in the cellar that should be removed to make room for new cast-offs. In short, these are the days to keep things moving. It will probably be a matter of record that, by the time this sees the light of day through the columns of the Graphic, a lot of places will look tidier inside and out. Then will the chests swell with the satisfaction of a good deed nobly performed. We believe in "paint up and clean up" week

because it sort of reminds everybody of something that should be done.

And, after all, Newton is a community of citizens who are determined to do the right thing and who, like all other human beings, need at times to have their memories jogged a bit.

Again we read of the need of the importance of providing some more durable means of preserving records at City Hall. It is the old story, an efficient official urges and pleads for vaults and other preparations against the ravages of fire or similar destruction and a complacent city sits back and says, "O, we've got along so far,

the public understands what is meant.

We are certain that a stranger alighting from the train will assume that

"Hunt av" is one thoroughfare and Huntington Avenue another. Again is the sign confusing in that it tells the reader that Dartmouth st is closed to Hunt av. We will wager a piece of the strawberry shortcake that we expect to eat this Summer that one unfamiliar with the geography of the city would assume that Dartmouth St.

and Huntington Ave., or "Hunt av" if you will, come together at some point other than Copley Square. Or if not they may rightfully expect to find

Dartmouth street shut off at the Copley Plaza. It may seem that this is a small matter, but when one considers the vast number of people who patronize the Huntington Avenue station it seems not unfair to say that they are plainly entitled to better service. And by better service we do not mean merely the operation of trains and maintenance of depots and such accommodations but signs that are explicit and not misleading, and sources of jocular comment.

The lists are open for this year's mayorality contest. At least they have been opened by a contemporary who discreetly refrains from prophecies and points out that there is activity on the part of certain gentlemen, or at least the friends of certain gentlemen, in the interests of mayorality contests. He says that names have been mentioned. Now the first thing, according to the politicians' manual, is to have one's name mentioned in connection with a certain office. This permits the prospective candidate to send out a statement in which he can say, "Yielding to the wishes of my friends I have decided to become a candidate, etc., etc." Every good candidate, of course, has to be persuaded to run for office. There must be a syde of people who make a business of persuading candidates, judging from the number of those who get out each for various State, county and municipal offices throughout the Commonwealth. We wonder if Newton is going to have a mayorality contest this year? It would be interesting, to say the least, if such should prove to be the case. For our own part we would like to have the candidates come forward and announce themselves. There are questions of vital importance to the citizens of Newton which merit public discussion. The city is surely growing and new problems must be settled. It is not sufficient that the city should "take things easy." The zoning question is one that cannot be settled in a day. The traffic problem is not to be solved by dumping

100 or more signs in the various public squares until there is scarcely any room for vehicles and pedestrians. We believe that a candidate for Mayor of Newton should present constructive policies and urge his candidacy on those grounds. No doubt economy will appeal to the taxpayers as an isssue. That, however, is not enough.

There are other questions that confront the chief executive of a city who is determined to serve those who have chosen him. "Sitting pretty" is not all that the voters have a right to expect of a Mayor. They want his views on the conduct of city departments, the matter of street construction, zoning ordinance and a list of other subjects. We sincerely hope that there will be a contest for Mayor and that it will be a campaign of issues and not merely of glad-hand vote-making.

Our friends who ride their bicycles on the sidewalk have appeared again and again in fine trim for a busy

Summer. They apparently have enjoyed a good rest and are full of vigor, judging from the speed they manage to at-

"The Marquis," Mrs. Murdoch N. Clark "The Goaler," and Mrs. Frederick N. Conner "The Marquis." This is a most interesting "bit of life," and sweet in its pathos, the more so for its very unexpectedness.

Tuesday, the 12th, promises to be a day of much enjoyment, with every minute filled with interests varied and worth remembering!

Recent Events

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Another splendid entertainment provided by this club at Emerson School Hall on the evening of the 29th netted excellent return in amusement, praise and—most promising as to the financial reward, the story of the western play, "Take My Advice," is similar to the vehicle used by William Hodge, and the leading role, "Jud Sention," known as the village ne'er do well, was played in true "Hodge" fashion by Mr. Francis Parsons, who not only had the sandy-wigged make-up of Hodge, but had caught his inimitable drawl and dry humor to perfection.

Jimmy Sampson, representing Bickley Co., Advertisers, less elegantly known as a "hot air artist," played by Mr. Robert Sawyer, and Peggy Acton—the heroine—also a hustler, played by Ethel Proctor, quite successfully "put over" their task of placing the expiring town of Eureka on the map. Mrs. Nelson Dodd, acted by Mrs. Francis Parsons, made a most acceptable President of the Uplift Society, with all of the visions and ideas this name implies for the part. John Wargrin, Town Plutocrat, the ad-joining town, with true villainy trying to ruin Eureka, the abode of his dead brother, in horribly jealous fashion, was acted by Mr. Robert McLaughlin; and his daughter Marcia, who is reluctantly courted by the harassed hero, Bob Mannion, acted by Eleanor Mills, was mightily well done.

Mr. Waldo Hamilton was excellent in his part of the hampered Editor of the Eureka Daily, owned body, soul, and printed type by Wargrin, because of the two thousand dollar loan made by this latter crafty gentleman, to the sick mother of Mannion. The part of Bob's sister was acted by Miss Elizabeth Meera, and the play might well have been done by much more recognized actors than "amateurs," so well were the parts played, and so convincing the story, even without the very helpful background of stage effects, which, unfortunately, are missing in this school building. Given this background, with its satisfying illusion, and much more famous companies might look to their reputation as actors in comparison with the Upper Falls Talent.

The arrival upon the scene of Peggy Acton—the unknown daughter of the Wargrin brother who had once tried to boom Eureka—with her round-about act to Bob Mannion with funds to buy his freedom from the plutocrat—the go-between being no less a person than the ne'er-do-well Jud Sention in the Eureka office—and matters start booming as to Eureka, and as to the overthrow of the tyranny of John Wargrin in right approved hearty fashion—and the audience thoroughly enjoyed the said overthrow, with the attendant change of attentions on Bob's part from Marcia Wargrin to her "cousin" Peggy.

Altogether, the various "amateur" performances of the various Newton clubs during the past season have proven that the "actors" of Newton are no bad ones, but may claim high place in their talent in this direction, and compare without discredit with other such talent in Massachusetts. Newton Upper Falls has added to our City's glory in last Wednesday evening's "show," and Mr. Jack Cronin, its clever coach, will be pardoned if he feels a justified pride.

Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A.

On the 29th also, Annual Meeting for this club closed a pleasant season with luncheon and reports, and an attractive entertainment. At 12 noon in the Y. M. C. A. building the business meeting began with reports of officers and elections of new ones.

The outgoing President, Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, was presented with a wonderful bouquet of sweet peas, as only a partial recognition of her kindly and efficient leadership of the past few years, and the incoming President, Mrs. William L. Sampson, who has made an appreciated place for herself by much service in various official capacities, was given a bouquet of jonquills. A "most wonderful luncheon" was served at one o'clock, under the capable management of Mrs. Otto Bachmann, Chairman of the Social Committee, and the tables were made doubly alluring, not only for their array of goodly eatables, but for the beautiful May baskets filled with jonquills.

The program was greatly enjoyed by the members and their guests, Mrs. James Bosdan giving violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. Martha Haddon, and Mrs. Grace Winchester Holt, of Lynn, giving various interesting and amusing readings in delightful fashion. The ballot elected for the ensuing year was: Mrs. Louis E. Moore, Honorary President; Mrs. W. L. Sampson, President; Mrs. J. William Blaisdell, First Vice-President; Mrs. George Deffen, Second Vice-President; Mrs. William B. Phelps, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Florence Morse, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Emma A. Page, Treasurer; Mrs. George Barber, Auditor; Chairmen—Social, Mrs. Henry Urquhart; Membership, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge; Devotional, Mrs. David Black; Program, Mrs. Charles D. Kepner; House, Mrs. Daniel White; Boys' Work, Miss Emma A. Page; and Directors for two years, Mrs. Frank H. Franklin, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, Mrs. Ernest E. Forsyth, Mrs. Augustus Wakefield, Mrs. Edwin H. Rogers, Mrs. Charles W. Bond, and Mrs. Charles T. Noble.

Christian Era Study Club

The Annual Meeting for this club was held May 2nd at the home of the President, Miss E. B. Smith, 729 Boylston street, Boston, there being eighteen members present and one honored guest, Mrs. Ernest Cobb. The report of the Secretary, Mrs. H. D. Perkins, was very encouraging—the attendance has been large at all meetings, and the papers prepared and given showed the great interest taken by members. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss E. B. Smith; Vice-President, Mrs. E. P. Drew; Secretary, Mrs. Herbert E. B. Case; Treasurer, Miss Blanche M. Noyes; Delegates, Mrs. Arthur W. DeSoe, Mrs. Alfred L. Billings, and Mrs. N. L. Grant.

The subjects for the coming year were received with much enthusiasm and promise a pleasurable program. Mrs. Cobb told one of her delightful "stories," and a social hour with refreshments followed.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. James Kingman was hostess for the Annual Meeting of this club on the 27th of April, when playtime and reports of the doings of the year made a delightful afternoon. Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse gave a resumé of Maud Howe Elliott's fascinating account of her wonderful mother's life and accomplishments—Julia Ward Howe—and Mrs. S. H. Woodrow brought in the lighter vein in a clever reading, "The Acid Test," a story of friendship between women strong enough to withstand all personal criticism and frank telling of faults, but wrecked upon the rock of parental pride when criticism of their beloved son and daughter (respectively) was made. The usual hour with refreshments brought the year to its close. Officers of the club remained the same as last year, the following having been elected: Honorary President, Mrs. Kathleen M. Phipps; President, Mrs. J. S. Patton; Vice-President, Mrs. Charlton D. Miller; Secretary, Mrs. E. A. Campbell; Treasurer, Mrs. Frank Frost; and Auditor, Mrs. G. A. Salmon.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

Annual meeting for this club was held Monday, May 4th, at the home of Miss Marion B. Morse, where a delightful afternoon and luncheon were in order. There were twenty small tables set attractively, and adorned with flowers, each table seating four or five persons. Brief, clever reports, election of officers, discussion of work and study for the ensuing year, and a splendid paper on Newtowne and its History by the President, Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb, made up the meeting. "Makers of America—in Art and Poetry" was the fascinating topic chosen for study and program for the next year, and Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra" was chosen for the play to be discussed. New officers elected were: President, Mrs. Hiram A. Miller; Vice-President, Mrs. George F. Hardy; Secretary, Mrs. Edward G. Swift; Assistant Secretary, Miss Marion B. Morse; and Treasurer, Miss Harriet M. Ward.

Coming Events

Professional Women's Club

Annual Meeting is called for May 12th, at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, following the regular meeting which opens at 7.30 P. M. Like every well-regulated Annual Meeting this consists of reports from officers and committee chairmen, and the election of officers and directors for the coming year. Committee reports should be most interesting, for this club has a host of activities and entertaining programs, that will bring to mind many happy memories of pleasurable afternoons and evenings, and of many acquaintances so agreeably formed. The ballot to be acted upon included: for President, Helen Willard Howard, Pianist-composer; for First Vice-president, Bertha S. Davis, Artist; for Second Vice-President, Emma Fall Schofield, Lawyer; for Recording Secretary, Mary J. Tower Hallett, Singer; for Corresponding Secretary, Mabel Mann Jordan, Musician; for Treasurer, Nettie S. Bartlett, Singer; for Auditor, Miriam L. Staples, Coach and dancer; and many others who are to act in capacity of Historian, Members of the Executive Board, Trustee, and Nominating Committee for 1926.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

Luncheon tables were laid for 190 for "play day" of the Woman's Association of Central Church on Wednesday. The presence of several guests was noted, among them, Rev. A. I. Mann, pastor of the Park Hill First Reformed Church of Tonkers, N. Y., a friend of Dr. Ellis; Mrs. Arthur Kimball of Auburndale, who was a member of the Association while living in Newtonville; Mrs. M. H. Read of Watertown, guest of Mrs. W. L. Vosburgh; Mrs. Little of Philadelphia, sister of Mrs. George Robinson, and Mrs. Buchanan of Moravia, N. Y.

Mrs. Charles P. Frail was chairman of the luncheon and Mrs. E. W. Kellogg of the serving committee. The decorations were apple blossoms, pots of pink geraniums and pink candles. At each place were cards for the members to sign indicating what line of work would be their preference for the coming year. Willing persons had to be assured that it would be allowable to sign for more than one task. It is the policy of the association to find a congenial work for each member and thus accomplish efficient and pleasurable results.

An invitation was extended from the Second Church of West Newton to attend a meeting at 2.15 Wednesday, May 13, to hear Miss Sophie Hart of the Wellesley College faculty speak on her experiences in India.

Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden called attention to the meeting of the Federation of Church Women to be held in St. John's parish house on Monday, 2.30 P. M. Sewing will be provided so that the friendly spirit of cooperation may be cultivated which was so evident in the days when the women of the community met to work for the Red Cross.

Mrs. William Allen, President of the Association, brought to notice the work of the Hospital Aid Society, and told of its many activities. Membership slips were then passed and many members of the Woman's Association of Central Church signed.

An entertainment followed the luncheon. The Association quartet, composed of Mrs. William T. Jones, Mrs. H. M. Waybright, Mrs. Payson Allen, and Mrs. D. P. Jewett rendered "From a Bygone Day" and another old time selection in keeping with the play, "The Old Peabody Pew," by Kate Douglas Wiggin, coached by Mrs. Francis J. Flagg and Mrs. Horton S. Allen as stage manager.

This is an exquisite bit of New England life of half a century ago written with the delicacy of touch for which Mrs. Wiggin is famous.

Mrs. Percy F. Williams acted as interpreter of the play, giving its setting and plot, and emphasizing the spiritual values with the charm of manner and delicacy characteristic of her.

The various members of the Dorcas Society of the old church which they all love so well and are endeavoring to save from ruin, were clearly differentiated and very well taken by all of the members from the minister's wife (Mrs. John F. Brant) to Lobelia Brewster (Mrs. Ellison Day) who was "no lover of men."

The heroine of Mrs. Wiggin's romance, a romance as sweet and pure as a rose of summer, was Nancy Wentworth (Mrs. Gordon Platt) and the hero, Justin Peabody, sole living claimant of the old Peabody pew (Mrs. S. L. Sholley).

Others members of the cast were Mrs. Fred Bolster, Mrs. Clinton Tylee, Mrs. Edward Campbell, Mrs. Edwin Crave, Mrs. Myron Davis.

The old-fashioned costumes added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

As the play progressed many of the audience were divided between laughter and tears, so deeply human were its characters.

The Woman's Association of Central Church is to be congratulated upon the performance of a play of such high character and beauty.

MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL

Aloha Bungalow, 145 Warren street, Newton Centre, the home of Miss Dai Buell, the well known pianist, will be open the third week of May for the first time since those delightful "May Days" which for many years were a tradition in musical circles.

MISS DAI BUELL

These recitals, which are for the benefit of the MacDowell Colony at Peterborough, N. H., are to begin May 16th, at three, with a "Recital of Music for Young People." There are many attractive features yet to be disclosed. Only music which has some appeal, either because of its genre qualities, or because of its humor, will be performed and Dai Buell will personally give interpretative remarks and play certain of the compositions which she has found especially pleasing to young people in her audiences. This program will be repeated at 3 P. M. on the afternoons of Tuesday, May 19th, and Thursday, May 21st.

On the evening of May 16th, at eight, Miss Helen Mumford, one of the popular young teachers of Newton Centre, and a pianist of charm, will give her own program, performing as a major number, the G minor Mendelssohn Concerto with the orchestral part being taken on a second piano by Dai Buell.

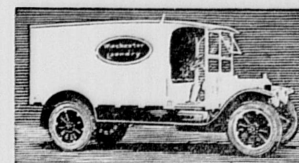

On Sunday evening, May 17th, Miss Graham Peterson of Winchester, will play a Schumann-Liszt program at eight. On Monday evening, May 18th, a recital by six pianists will be given including Bertha Appleby, Barbara Bailey, Esther Brown, Laurence Bunker, David Scott, and Ruth Sampson. The only event for Tuesday, May 19th, will be the Recital of Music for Young People, at three.

On Wednesday, May 20th, Jessica McNaill Willing, who is the wife of Colonel Willing in command at Panama Canal, will play a modern program. On Thursday, May 21st, there will be a repetition of the "Recital of Music for Young People" at three. On the evening of this same day, at eight, Margaret Reeves will have the entire edelweiss D major concerto in which she will be assisted by Dai Buell at the second piano, she will play compositions by other well known composers.

Perhaps one of the most distinctive talents among the young people of Newton and one who shows the greatest promise, is Martha Wright of Newton Centre. Her program of Friday evening, May 22nd, will be awaited by a goodly public. She is the daughter

The last day of the Festival, Saturday, May 26th, will hold two events. In the afternoon at three, Jane Burgess, of Newton Centre, the little girl who so effectively assisted Miss Buell in a performance of Russian Paraphrase on a theme "Chopsticks" at her Copley-Plaza series this winter, will be heard in her own recital. She will play the Mozart Sonata in C with the accompaniment by Grieg on the second piano, a group of solos, and the remarkable paraphrases on "Chopsticks" in which she made her debut before a large Boston public. In the evening Dorothy Godfrey, wife of Major Stewart Godfrey of United States Army, will play a brilliant program.

Dai Buell will personally assist on every program with performances of music by McDowell, and because of this popular charity and the untiring efforts of this body of talented pianists, it is thought that a goodly fund may be raised for the Colony is a monument to MacDowell, whose compositions have caused him to live immortally in the hearts of all music lovers.

THE REV. R. R. HADLEY
NEW PASTOR IN NEWTONVILLE

In his first sermon as pastor of the Newton Universalist Church last Sunday, Rev. R. R. Hadley discussed two key-notes which run through all of Jesus' preaching, Repentance and the Kingdom. "Repentance is not just selfish pity for oneself. It means turning around and facing the hard going without whining. The recognized sinner is not the only one who needs repentance. What we call a 'hard egg' may be only an unrepentant hypocrite who hates to change his ways."

"The business of the church is to turn men toward higher social values. The kingdom is always very near when God's love has a chance to rule in human institutions. That is the fundamental reason which Jesus offers for repentance: the kingdom is at hand! It is just next door, right within reach of our own hands! We believe God's reign on earth is a workable program because it offers a real job to every citizen of his kingdom."

Next Sunday, May 10, Mr. Hadley will preach on "Modern Mothers."

A TRIBUTE

May 7, 1855—April 8, 1925

It would seem fitting during this beautiful spring season to pay a tribute to Mrs. Frederic W. Freeman who has recently been called from our midst. A woman of rare nature, through her loving sympathy and devotion she was the friend of both old and young. Her influence over the active lives about her was felt through the force of her trust, unfailing patience and cheer. Her power of friendliness extended even to the birds and flowers which seemed to speak to her of life in its full measure. There were depths to her nature which few could fathom.

To those who are privileged to have known her, the loyal mother and friend, the loss is immeasurable; but the precious memories of such a noble woman will live to inspire the finest things, for which she stood, and will serve ever to be "Helps by the Way."

POP CONCERT

The pop concert given at the Immanuel Church on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Business Woman's Club was a great success. There were two hundred present.

The decorations which were pink and white were very lovely, the room being a veritable fairy land. Mrs. Louise Moore Welch and Miss Gertrude C. C. were in charge of the decorations.

The program, which was of unusual interest, was by Pietro Mordella. Starting with a medley of grand opera, he carried his audience through patriotic melodies, ragtimes, southern melodies, folk song, etc., running the gamut of musical interpretation.

Ice cream, cakes, punch, etc., were sold during the intermission by twelve girls dressed in white with aprons of pink crepe.

Everybody present had a thoroughly good time.

By order of the Board of Aldermen, City Clerk's Office, City Hall, May 4, 1925.

"THE FIRE-PRINCE"

A crowded house greeted the first performance of the "Fire-Prince," the two-act opera, given by the Newton Grade Teachers' Club at the Newton Opera House on Thursday night for the sick benefit fund.

The opera is a tuneful one, full of light and color. The settings, the first in the garden of the summer palace, and the second in the hall of the Spanish embassy, were admirably staged.

Naturally, Prigio, the "Fire-Prince," and Rosa, his beloved, daughter of the Spanish ambassador, are the leading characters. Both Mr. Edward Dewey (the Prince) and Miss Julia M. Tobin (his beloved) were in particularly good form and their singing was much enjoyed. The Spanish dances, too, added much to the gaiety of the occasion.

In so large a cast, it is difficult to speak of individuals, but Miss Myrtle Nixon as the stuttering page boy, Mr. Dan Smith as the tutor, and Miss Dorothy F. Bushnell as the Duchess were conspicuous in their parts.

Other members of the cast were: Edward P. Breat, Mr. Ernest Chadd, Mr. Carl Penny, Mr. Dan Smith, Miss Dorothy C. Hamer, Miss Ruth Brown, Miss Elizabeth Elson, Miss Pauline Donnelly; ladies of the chorus: Nanette E. Hoag, Ruth A. Kelter, Helen M. Merrill, Cecile Beaudreault, Harriet Frost, Eunice Auger; gentlemen of the chorus: Esma W. Brown, Myrtle L. Nixon, Ann L. Dow, Dorothy M. Dige, Frances W. Harris, Marjorie A. Anderson.

The director was Evelyn Cunningham, assisted by Alice Cotton, Florence McCaulder, Mildred March, Celia Tucker, Eleanor Gentner, Mabel Chase, Marion Drew Bassett, Elizabeth Hartshorne, Beatrice Walker, Ruth Pond, The Playroom, Frances Warren, Fairy Ballet arranged by Myra McLean. Chorus Costumes designed by The Playroom. Director of the orchestra, Miss Mary Broughton, assisted by Miss Lillian Gerth, Miss Doris Forte, Miss Blanche Little, Miss Anna Elwell. Mrs. Lillian Hardy. The second performance will be May 13, in the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

NEWTOWNE PLAYERS

On next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, May 19th and 20th, the Newtowne Players, an organization of talented young folks, will present "The Dutch Detective" a farce in three acts by Walter Ben Hare.

This play is to be given in the auditorium of the new school of the St. John the Evangelist parish and is for the benefit of St. John the Evangelist Church, of which Rev. Joseph E. Robichaud is pastor, and Rev. J. J. M. Tremblay is curate.

The initial performance will be on Saturday afternoon, May 16th, at 2.15, and will be for the children.

The new school building is a beautiful structure, and the auditorium is equipped with practically all of the accessories of a theatre.

The school will be formally opened for classes in September, 1925, and with its opening the fondest hope of Father Robichaud will have been realized.

He has worked unceasingly for the accomplishment of this building, and his parishioners and host of friends throughout this city are happy at the realization of his plans.

The play will dedicate the auditorium, and all signs point to crowded performances. The Newtowne Players are directed by Mr. John W. Blakeney, Jr., young Newton lawyer, and for "The Dutch Detective" he has selected a choice cast, all of the members of which have had considerable experience in amateur theatricals. The players are Miss Rita Lovely, Miss Lena Veno, Miss Florence Bakewell, Miss Lillian Le Blanc, Miss Stella Veno, Mr. William Blakeney, Mr. Francis Feeney, Mr. Robert Grant, Mr. Clement Feeney, and Mr. John Blakeney, Jr.

MARBLE CHAMPION

The boys of Newton have recently been holding contests to decide who will represent Newton in the big marble tournament to take place on Boston Common tomorrow.

The finals for the Garden City were played on Tuesday at the Horace Mann playground under the direction of Leo Hughes. Mrs. Arthur Hovgaard refereed the final match.

As a result of tournaments held at the Bigelow, Horace Mann, Stearns, and Newton Highlands Playgrounds, the winner in the finals was George Duffield, Jr., of the Bigelow Playground.

DOLLAR DAY A SUCCESS

Newtonville's Dollar Day, held last Saturday under the auspices of the new Newtonville Merchant's Association and the third of the series of village Dollar Days being conducted under the general direction of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, proved the anticipated success and compared favorably in every way with those previously held at Newton Corner and in Newton Centre. The weather man was more considerate in the case of Newtonville than in the other villages and conditions were favorable for shoppers from the opening of the stores in the morning until the last dollar sale was made late in the evening. While the afternoon and evening hours were the busiest of the day, there were many who did their Dollar Day shopping during the forenoon and most of these were well repaid through picking up some of the choicest bargains, the best buys in many of the stores being in small or odd lots of merchandise which did not last through the entire day.

SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The fourth annual meeting of the Newton Centre School Association was held on May 13, at the Mason School Hall. Mrs. H. O. Winslow, who is retiring after three years as president, was in the chair. In her annual address she gave a brief review of the work done by the Association during the last four years. Reports of the ten standing committees and of the officers were given. A report of the work being done for the betterment of conditions on the School car was also read, and an appeal made for the concerted help of the parents in an endeavor to have an exclusive school car supplied by the city. These reports were followed by the election of the following officers for the year 1925-26: President, Mrs. Albert G. Hopkins; Vice President, Mrs. George H. Crosbie; Secretary, Mrs. Marshall I. Stone; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Cleveland A. Ballou; Treasurer, Mrs. George J. Murphy; Assistant Treasurer, Miss Cora L. Swallow. Members of the Council for three years: Miss Miriam G. Bartlett, Miss Ruth H. Burgess, Mrs. Albert S. Kendall, Mrs. Albert P. Everts, Mrs. Everett A. Greene, Mrs. Wm. D. Randall, Mrs. Clarence W. Randlett, Mrs. Alden H. Speare, Mrs. Geo. S. Squier, Mrs. Henry E. Warren, Mrs. G. Horace Williams. Under the direction of Mr. E. N. Griffin, supervisor of music, the eighth grade of the Mason School gave two songs with much spirit and with every evidence of thorough training. Miss Annis M. Sturges, Psychologist in the Newton Schools, was then introduced and gave a talk on the so-called "intelligence tests" given in our schools during the last few years. These tests are all similar ones, are outgrowths of the Binet-Simon tests, originally planned for use with the mentally deficient. These tests now are especially valuable for the exceptional child. This child may be exceptional because of extra good or low mentality, because of temperament, of speech defects, or of physical defects. These defects must be reduced to a minimum if the child is to find his proper place in the school and the community, and is to have the proper joy and happiness in his life.

To fit the school to the child and to his needs we must know the needs and therefore the child himself. These tests are a tool to help make this adjustment. By these can be found the child's mental age. Special cases to illustrate the working of these tests and their excellent results were then given by the speaker. By the results of the group tests children may be placed in different "opportunity" classes; one in which the pupil is under further observation, and one in which he may be coached for more rapid progress. There are also special classes for backward children and some few are found whose lives may be made more happy and useful by being placed in special institutions. Miss Sturges emphasized the fact that unless the child has joy in his work he cannot do it well, and unless he is in his proper place he can never accomplish what is expected of him and he will wholly miss the joy. Many interesting questions were asked and answered fully by the speaker. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Social Committee.

NEWTON HIGH WINS

The Newton High School baseball team sprung a surprise last Saturday afternoon by defeating Rindge Technical High at Clafin Field 3-2. Pass held the visitors to six scattered hits and struck out ten. Gilligan for Newton lead the batting attack with a double and a triple in four times at bat. McCullough and Holbrook also played well for the local team. Wednesday afternoon Somerville won its 10th straight game of the season defeating the Newton boys 21 to 3 at Somerville. Holbrook and McCullough each hit a home run.

FELLOWSHIP DINNER

The annual Fellowship dinner at the Newton Centre Baptist Church was held on Friday evening, May 8th. Alderman George M. Heathcote was the toastmaster and presented as the first speaker Charles N. Arbuckle, pastor of the Church, who welcomed the gathering of 250. He was followed by Dr. Dewitt G. Wilcox, who eloquently extended greetings to the new members. The response in behalf of the new members was made by Mr. Charles Wiers.

An enjoyable entertainment was given by the orchestra from the West Newton Music School; Joseph Antonelli, tenor soloist; Richard Leahy, readings; Mrs. Courrier and Mrs. Jensen, duets; and selections by a quartet composed of students from the Newton Theological Seminary. A number of choruses were also sung by the assemblage. Young ladies of the parish, dressed in peasant costumes, acted as waitresses.

DEATH OF REV. E. F. McLEOD

The Rev. Edward F. McLeod, formerly of St. Stephens Church, North End, died shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday night in the rectory of St. John's Church, Newton Lower Falls. His death, in spite of the fact that he had been in ailing health for some time, came as a distinct shock to those who had been closely associated with him for more than a quarter of a century in the Massachusetts diocese of the Catholic Church.

Upon the completion of his studies at the Brighton Seminary and his ordination to the priesthood, twenty-seven years ago, he was assigned to St. John's Church, in Newton Lower Falls as curate. There he remained for some seven years, when he was transferred to St. Joseph's Church, in the West End, Boston, as assistant to the Rt. Rev. Mgr. J. E. Millerick. In addition to his usual work in that parish he was chaplain of the Massachusetts General Hospital and Charles Street Jail. After a service of seven years in this capacity, he was appointed to the administration of St. Stephen's Church, in the North End, Boston.

About two years ago he was assigned to St. John's Church, Newton Lower Falls, as pastor.

ELECTS OFFICERS

The Newton Athletic Association held its May meeting in the Newton Club on Monday evening. Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, who recently retired from the presidency of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, was elected president of the organization for the ensuing year. Mr. Howard Whitmore of Newton Highlands was elected vice-president. Mr. Christopher Vachon and Mr. Frank Dorney were re-elected to the offices of secretary and treasurer respectively.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Ernst Hermann, superintendent of the Newton Playgrounds, who spoke upon the proposed enlargement of Clafin Field. Mr. Hermann said that the playground commission was in favor of such a project but at the present time no appropriation had been made by the city to cover any part of the cost of athletics in the high schools although $79,000 had been appropriated by the board of aldermen for the expenses of the other playgrounds in the city. Mr. Hermann said that the care and maintenance of a new field should not be in the hands of a private association as the playground commission, in co-operation with the school committee could keep the field in better shape than could be done by the use of gate receipts. Good planning of the layout and the best of construction at the beginning of the project Mr. Hermann claimed would prove the least expensive in the end as the cost of care and maintenance would be appreciably lessened.

Mr. Seth Wood, the retiring president, and Mr. Lewis Harris, retiring vice-president, spoke briefly upon the matter and urged that action be taken. Mr. Clark Macomber, representing a Citizen's Committee, which will present the matter to the proper city officials asked the association to pledge its support. A motion was made and passed that the association go on record as in support of the Citizen's Committee.

"Jake" Stafford provided the entertainment of the evening with a half hour of legedmain, the cleverness of which was greatly appreciated by the audience.

Reports of the various officers were read and accepted. A meeting was called for the 8th of June when the various committees will be announced.

GIRL SCOUTS

Recently at the Cadet Armory in Boston, 22 Girl Scouts competed for the State Championship in bugling. Elizabeth Plimpton of Troop 13 (the Senior Troop in Newton Centre) who has been the State Champion since May, 1924, Geneva Barrows of Springfield, and Violet Blaikie of Melrose were the three girls getting the highest marks in the preliminary trials which were held in the morning. When they played in the afternoon in the finals, Scout Plimpton and Scout Blaikie had to compete twice and as the judges were even then unable to pick the winner they declared them both to be champion buglers, one of the Eastern Division and one of the Western Division of the State and each of them will receive a cup at the State Review. Miss Plimpton will do the solo work at the State Review which is to be the final feature of the National Girl Scout Convention and will also be the Convention Bugler. Elizabeth Plimpton stands in the foremost rank of scouting in Newton. She has been an active scout for eight years. Two years ago she received a second lieutenant's commission and last year was advanced to a first lieutenant. She is a Golden Eaglet, and all the Newton Troops will be glad and proud to have her represent them at the National Convention.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 8 are to hold a food sale, May 16th at the Auburndale Club House, the proceeds to be used as a gift to the new library. The eight patrol leaders are having entire charge of the sale with the following chairmen of committees: Head Saleswoman, Eleanor Marzanne; Decorations, Elizabeth Miller; Business Manager, Mary Miller; Lee Crossin, Rose Feldberg; Grabs, Edith Watson; Cashier, Winifred Scott; Bundle Wrapper, Eleanor Wales; Publicity, Ruth Ufford.

The troop is striving to live up to the "G. S." which signifies Generosity and Service by doing this bit for the community institution which will be a benefit for all.

It was voted to banquet the spring teams, baseball, tennis, golf, etc., at the ball banquet to the football team.

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was held at the Newton Club, Newtonville, on Monday with the new President, Ira S. Roe, in the chair, and an especially interesting speaker in the person of F. Clark Atwood of the firm of Kalmus, Comstock and Westcott Co., of Boston, industrial research engineers. Mr. Atwood talked on "Electric furnace products," discussing more or less technical matters in a thoroughly understandable way and holding the close attention of his audience. He explained the development of these products, including vanadium and other kinds of treated steel, carborundum, and other well known products with which the average person is familiar but which he knows little about, in regard to their origin, the materials entering into their manufacture, and the uses to which they can be put. Various samples of metals, alloys, and both rough and finished products, were shown by the speaker and helped materially to make his talk one of more than ordinary interest.

This meeting drew out an excellent attendance, the three months attendance contest being scheduled to close next week. While Team 2, Captain "Ben" Rae, has the edge on Team 1, captained by Dr. Cecil Clark, the contest is not yet over and promises to close next week with considerable enthusiasm and but a small margin separating the two teams. The losing team is to buy a dinner for the winners, with various extras, and arrangements for this big event were referred to the two team captains with full power.

Announcement was made of the appointment of committee chairmen for the coming year, as follows: Attendance, H. Wilson Ross; Program, Benjamin G. Rae; Rotary Education, William T. Halliday; Publicity, M. Frank Lucas; Fellowship, Walter H. Gregg; Public Affairs, Roy V. Collins; Boys' Work, Joseph W. Crowell; Business Methods, Fred D. Basley. Announcement was also made that, beginning next week, the weekly luncheon meetings would be held at the Woodland Golf Club until further notice.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. Day Junior High School

The girls of IHC recently gave a four course luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Carr, Miss Bragg and Miss Kendrick. The host was Priscilla Hill, the hostess, Phyllis Gammons. The menu cards, made by Phyllis Gammons, were in the shape of butterflies and were brilliantly colored.

The school had as its guests last Friday pupils from the Lowell Junior High School who were observing the work of our Student Patrol. They were accompanied by representatives of the Parent-Teachers' Association.

Along the walls of the dining room may be seen many splendid health posters made by seventh grade pupils. Thursday evening, May 21, at 7.30, there will be given two plays. This evening performance is especially for the parents, for the pictures are also being shown in the afternoon to the pupils. The little Japanese play which was so charmingly rendered for Assembly will be repeated for the evening program to give the parents the opportunity of enjoying it.

The Mask and Wig Club under the direction of Miss Hackett presented a artistic Japanese play "The Flower of Yeddo" Tuesday evening. The play was given by the club members, and so Mrs. Milton Stevens, who assisted in the coaching.

Mason School

At the annual meeting of the Newton Centre School Association the eighth grade sang Mendelssohn's three part song "A Spring Morning" and in unison, the song, "Believe me if all those endearing young charms."

As a decoration for the hall on Wednesday, the cushion covers, which the eighth grade have been making, were on exhibition. It added a note of color which was approved by all.

The Mason Captain Ball team of girls have invited the Highlands team to meet them for a return game on Saturday, if fair, at the N. C. Playground.

The graduating class have already purchased some more slides for the Reflectoscope as a part of their class gift. They were shown on Monday afternoon at the regular class meeting.

High Schools

A Music Week program by the Newton High School orchestra and Glee Club and the West Newton Music School orchestra assisted by Elizabeth Pyffe and Lillian West was given in the assembly hall last Friday evening.

Before playing the Sonata Miss Pyffe gave a short talk of the Sonata form and illustrated it with the principal themes from the one which she was to play. The themes were written on a blackboard so that the audience could follow the piece.

Preceding the part of the concert given by the West Newton Music School, five boys and five girls dressed as Bach's ten children sang a Bach chorale. This number was well applauded by the audience which nearly filled the hall.

The concert was a great success. Both orchestras played splendidly. An outdoor concert given by the High school chorus and orchestra will take place June 5. Bleachers are to be erected on the lawn near the south door of the Classical building.

There are 450 members in the chorus and the orchestra consists of 50 pieces.

Those on the concert committee are as follows: from the faculty, Charles H. Mergendahl, chairman; Miss Gladys M. Bigelow, George E. Hardy, Charles B. Harrington, Edward N. Griffin. From the student legislature, Mary Cogle, '25; Ruth Whitehouse, '26; James Heggie, '26, and Rowland Patrick, '25, manager.

The chorus, under the direction of Edward N. Griffin, will sing four songs.

The program by the orchestra has not yet been arranged.

The High School girls' tennis team consists of: Annals, Kneeland, '25; Doris Rowe, '26, Captain; Margaret Firestone, '25; Catherine Bolster, '27; Eleanor Macomber, '25; Frances Brooks, '26; Lucy Allen, '26; Catherine Bolster and Frances Brooks, Eleanor Macomber and Lucy Allen, will play doubles.

West Newton Music School

Last Friday evening at the Technical High School, the Newton High School and the West Newton Music School gave a joint concert in observance of National Music Week. The Newton High School Orchestra and Girls Glee Club gave the first part of the program and after the intermission Miss Pyffe and Miss West, Director, and Head of the Piano Department of the West Newton Music School, played a sonata for violin and piano. The Senior Orchestra of the Music School played Mozart's Serenade, and a chorus of children in costume, sang a Bach chorale, which they sang at the Musical Mosaics, in Boston, at the Fine Arts Theatre on Thursday afternoon, May 7th.

Donald Dewise from the West Newton Music School, played a violin solo at the Community night given at the Davis School, West Newton, by the West Newton Community Centre, on Friday evening, May 1st.

Lasell

Tuesday afternoon the Newton High School and Lasell contested at tennis. The honors were evenly divided, the Newton girls being the winners in the singles and the home team in the doubles.

On Wednesday afternoon the Lasell Seminary trustees held their meeting, following which they were the guests of Lasell at dinner.

There will be a basketball game on Thursday evening at 7.30 in the Gym at Bragdon Hall between the members of the Faculty and the girls.

A reception will be held on Friday evening, May 15 at eight o'clock, the entertainment consisting of selections by Mr. Alden E. Davies, tenor, and Miss Elinor Stearns, reader.

The Vespers on Sunday, May 17, will be at Bragdon Hall and Professor B. T. Hivale of Bombay, India, will be the speaker.

Tuesday morning, May 19, Dr. Alfred Stearns, of Phillips-Andover Academy, will be the speaker at chapel service.

The date of the Orphean Club Concert at the Auburndale Club is Wednesday, May 20. The concert is under the direction of Henry M. Dunham, head of the Music Department.

The soloist will be Charles Bennett with Mrs. Jean Goodrich at the piano. The public is cordially invited.

Stearns School

Mr. Winslow gave an excellent talk Thursday in some of the rooms. Following this Miss Stoddard's class wrote on "What Thrift Means." There were several good papers, but the children decided that the three best were written by Joseph Pescosolido, Ruth Yanco and Arnold Lefort. A cotton planter in Alabama sent one of Miss Stoddard's pupils some cotton seeds with the information that they could plant them when the first apple blooms appear. Most of the children took some home and planted them.

It was interesting and illuminating to see the expressions on the faces of the teachers when the annual notice arrived this week. A few signs of joy were noticed. Teachers cannot all get to the point of realizing that it has always been a teacher's privilege to sacrifice.

The worst of it is that if the wealthy cities can't encourage elementary teachers to take the four years' normal school course, then such courses are doomed.

The following is the program of Friday's entertainment. Similar programs are given by the pupils frequently for their enjoyment.

Selected Songs by the Sixth Grade Chorus

Original stories by Peter Sullo

Vocal Duet by Emma Gregorio, Lucy Lombardi

Story, "What the Old Man Says is All Right" by Hyman Yanco

Poem "What Is Good" by Dominic Crambell

Duet, Piano and Violin by Ruth Yanco and Anna Mosea

Piano Solo by Marie Cusman

The original story given by Hyman Yanco was memorized and was extremely well done.

The piano and violin duet was given by two fifth grade girls and was unusually well rendered.

Mrs. Kidder's opportunity class is working on a project which shows what enters a harbor. The aim of this project is to give a visualization of a port or harbor to the children.

This class has also made a Health Moon which indicates that three fourths of the children are retiring at the correct time.

Mrs. Goddard's class will present a Health Play entitled "How to Keep Well and Clean." The children will be dressed to represent fruit, vegetables and the health habits, such as the tooth brush, shoes, finger nails, hair, etc. This play was printed in The Primary Education Magazine for November, 1924.

The three highest per cents of attendance for the month ending May 8th were Miss Lovely at the Eliot School, Grade IV, with 98.1; Miss Stoddard, Grade V, with 97.2 and Mrs. Kidder, Opportunity Class, with 96.7.

Miss Walker's class wrote a letter to the Consolidated Milling Co., whose address was suggested in the Teacher's Manual for Human Geography and they are sending descriptive charts about wheat for every class room in grades four, five and six.

George Francis, Grade VI, won the medal which is given to the best player in the marble game of ringer being run by the Boston Traveler for pupils in Boston and surrounding towns. In the city meet held at the Horace Mann playground May 9, George Duffield from the Burr Playground won the first place and George Francis made second. The winner was sent to the Stearns Playground for special coaching Thursday P. M.

The Stearns Junior Baseball Team defeated the Horace Mann Junior Team on the Stearns Playground Tuesday P. M., May 12, with a score of 19-13. The game was well played and good sportsmanship was shown on both sides.

The Stearns Senior Baseball team will play the Angier nine at Waban Thursday P. M. at 2.30 o'clock.

Girls' baseball teams are being organized. Class games will be played. Games will be played during the week.

They Stand For Cleanliness

Many of our customers have never had the opportunity to visit our laundries, where cleanliness reigns supreme. That's one reason why we try to have our spotlessly white trucks express to them the standards under which we work.

Ideal working conditions and equipment do not make for added cost to the customer. They do effect greater efficiency and service, however.

TWO-FOOT BOOK SHELF ON MUSICAL SUBJECTS

"Show me a home where happy dwellings I shall show you a music, peaceful and contented home."
—Longfellow.

A composite list of popular volumes on music, compiled from the opinions of famous musicians and librarians, has been made up from lists of ten submitted by those whose opinions were solicited. Now when "National Music Week" is about to be celebrated (May 2-9), this list is of especial interest; altho, as one musical artist suggested, "there are hundreds of such books written—to pick out ten would mean injustice to the balance."

REAL ESTATE CRAZE

The real estate movement all over Florida certainly makes one dizzy to contemplate. We have already devoted a special article on the Coral Gables development, by far the most substantial of any we have ever seen. In contrast to that let us mention the development of Davis Island in Tampa Bay. Here was a small island which real estate men took for a nucleus and proposed to pump up sand from the bottom of the bay, enlarge the island, until it would become a residential suburb of Tampa, with splendid park development and adequate pleasure facilities. The point of the matter is, that with only paper plans of what they proposed to do, they created so much public interest that at the first day of the sale, over three million dollars was taken in mostly for lots which were then at the bottom of the bay.

With that as a sample is it any wonder that the wilderness between the cities of the state is now being purchased by the acre and divided up into house lots regardless of the accommodations or facilities—or rather lack of facilities? Everywhere you travel in Florida you see the little white stakes which mark the plotting out of the land into house lots. The former business of dealing in orange groves is almost superseded by the craze to sell land.

And there is really a substantial basis for this immense real estate business.

We took dinner one evening while at Miami with an old acquaintance, who came to that city seven years ago. About that time he purchased a lot of land on the outskirts of the city and which had been used for burying dead mules. He paid $22,500 for the property. At the present time he has sold eight lots, for $80,000 and has twelve lots left conservatively valued at $250,000. His own house which would be valued at about $12,000 in Newton and which furnished, he had just sold to a neighbor for $30,000. In addition to this he told us that the day previous he had purchased a small apartment house for $30,000 and only that morning had been offered $35,000 for the same piece of property. As one of my friends has well said, it is not "caveat emptor," but the exact opposite, "The seller gets stuck" no matter what he receives for his property.

At Daytona, a newspaper friend told me that he had purchased two lots of land in that city six months ago for $14,000 and had just sold one of the lots for $14,000. The same gentleman had bought a small lot in the suburbs of Daytona on the installment plan, paid $100 down and $10 a month and after he had invested $170 in that manner, he has sold the property for enough to net him $200 profit on the transaction.

These are but small incidents in the real estate craze in Florida. When will end no man knoweth. Mr. Bryan says that a city dependent upon the production of oil, will last only as long as the oil flows. A city dependent upon a mine of some kind will last only as long as the mine pays to operate. But a city dependent upon its God given climate, like Miami, will last as long as its bright sunshine and balmy breezes continue to comfort man.

But Mr. Bryan notwithstanding, don't invest in Florida real estate, unless you want to take a gamble with your money. You may win, you may lose, it's all a matter of judgment in making your speculation and whether or not Florida continues to grow as the playground of the nation. A wise old friend of mine who has been in Florida for several winters, is investing his money in 8 per cent mortgages on well selected real estate. We commend his example to those who wish to invest.

THE BLUE BOOK OF NEWTON

The Blue Book of getting data for a new Blue Book has been going on for some time. An encouraging number of orders for books and advertising space has been received. It will take a number of weeks to complete the canvass. It is about thirty-five to forty years since the first Blue Book was issued. The book has appeared regularly every year or two under the continued direction of the late Edward A. Jones, who was succeeded by the present publisher, Horace F. Jones, a nephew. The present is the third publication of the latter, whose connection with the Blue Books has extended over a period of twenty-seven (27) years. To The Residents of Newton:

The Towle Estate on Centre Street typifies the beauty of the city of Newton. It is the location picked by its former owner, Loren D. Towle, as the finest home site in Newton. Many thousands of dollars were spent in beautifying the land, in the perfecting of an ideal location. After his death the property came into the possession of interests who decided to subdivide the estate and offer lots for sale to the public. The administration of this task was entrusted to our firm.

It is our urgent desire to carry on the work conceived by the genius of the late owner of this property—and at the same time make it possible for people of moderate means to build homes on the land. Formerly the guarded home of a wealthy man, this property can now be permanently enjoyed by you or your friends.

We have priced the lots from $1600., upwards. Agents will be on the property every day. The telephone number of the land office is Newton North 5520.

Yours very truly,

Charles A. Gleason,
President.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

Few topics with which this column has seen fit to deal have aroused as much interest as the suggestion that St. James street be widened at the corner of Washington street. There appears to be a general belief among Graphic readers that this action should be taken. In view of this we feel that the attitude of one of the most earnest and efficient members of the Board of Aldermen is worth recording. We enjoyed a long talk with him recently and in the course of the conversation gleaned some ideas that seem to us worth handing along to our readers. This Alderman pointed out that the proposition to widen St. James street had not been put aside lightly but given much serious thought. The decision arrived at, after careful study, was that the widening would not solve the problem of traffic congestion in Nonantum Square. Said he, "If this city should take off a corner as has been pointed out we would still have a country lane. Such a roadway is not wide enough to meet requirements. It might serve for a time but after all would prove a temporary expedient." This Alderman proceeded to show that the main problem would require a more drastic remedy. He reminded us that the taking of the corner of Washington and Centre streets, as has been suggested, year after year, would be a sort of make-shift, too, as there would be a widening of thoroughfares at one point with nothing beyond of equal width. It appears that the city owns a right of way in the rear of the block across Washington street from the first station. An expenditure of considerable money would enable the city to take the land, now privately owned and built upon, between Washington street and the right-of-way. If this were done a street of no mean width would be opened up between Nonantum Square and the Charles River boulevard. Thus, cars coming down Washington street hill could turn to the right, enter this new street and thus reach the boulevard and proceed to Watertown without having passed through Nonantum Square. Another hope held out is the abandonment of trolley cars by the Middlesex & Boston and the installation of a line of busses.

Reference to motor busses reminds us that we read with deep interest in last week's Graphic a letter written by a Newtonville resident on the operation of street railway cars. We have not the slightest doubt but what the patience of this good citizen and many others in that part of city has already been exhausted. Furthermore, we do not wonder at it. Still, we have an idea this is another of the problems that the city government has before it and which it hopes to solve within a reasonable time. For our own part we should like to see announced in the press or otherwise a constructive policy dealing with this very situation. We sincerely hope that the writer of the letter is in error when he says, speaking of "some members of the city government" that "they have attempted to belittle the question by referring to it as the complaint of certain residents of Walnut street, Newtonville." That certainly is no way to handle a public question. It is recognized that there is a problem and aldermanic sneers surely cannot solve it. Public agitation, in good temper, is the one cure we know. The Summer has not yet advanced too far for Newton to undertake a preliminary study of the situation. If the city appears to be up against a stone wall on one side and the street railway up against the same wall on the other side it is plainly the duty of the Mayor to step in, as we see it. Postponing the settlement of troubles is usually costly. No doubt the Aldermen have their hands full as it is. We firmly believe that it is a good deal to expect of a man, with his family and business interests, who is obliged to give up many nights and not a few days to serving as a city father. Instead of heaping more work upon these men, why not a committee of citizens? In every ward of this city there are scores of men who are eminently fitted to wrestle with just such problems. Perhaps such a committee would have no legal standing under the law. That would not be necessary if it was asked merely to make recommendations. There is nothing to prevent the Mayor or the city fathers from consulting citizens of broad experience in financial matters. If the committee idea seems cumbersome, then private citizens should be invited to city hall to give their views. Presidents of the United States and Governors of Massachusetts are not above sending for men in various walks of life to express their views in matters with which they have a greater familiarity than many people. May be we are presumptuous in seeking to tell the Mayor or the Aldermen what to do. But the fact remains that there is a problem and instead of correcting that fact by becoming more and more complacent, we believe that motor busses for transportation in Newton would be far preferable to the present type of trolley cars. Witness the popularity of these inter-state motor busses of which so many people are talking. Wouldn't Newton streets look better free from rails? Wouldn't Newton citizens find riding in automobile busses more agreeable than Middlesex & Boston trolleys and wouldn't bus residents along the car lines find life more pleasant? To all these questions we unhesitatingly answer YES.

Newton has never been advertised as a convention city, at least not to any great extent. It may be that it is not big enough to attract such affairs and possibly it could not handle anything larger than a good-sized picnic. That, however, is not a serious matter, as most conventions need halls and hotels and lots of other things which Newton does not possess, and for which, as a city of homes, it finds but little need. We have made a discovery—or rather it has been made for us—that there is a splendid place for conventions and such are held there regularly for months every year under favorable weather conditions. There are citizens who know of these conventions and are much opposed to them. That may be surprising as there has never been a time when the police have been called in or untoward happenings reported. It would seem that any protest was a trifle uncalled for, but wait until you get the facts. Not to prolong the mystery but merely to show how things may transpire right in our very midst, and we not know of them let it be said that one reason is they are not held on the level. They could not be because the Boston & Albany tracks are depressed and as these conventions depend upon the railroad tracks they too are "way down deep." Everybody has noticed the trenches each side of the tracks. Many of observant eye have discerned a surface of the water in these trenches indicating a state of stagnation. But how many residents have seen the conventions of mosquitoes there. We have the word of an old friend that when the mosquitoes get down to business they can make things hum. Whatever the business before the convention may be—appointing committees, taking ballots, passing resolutions, making speeches or electing officers the mosquitoes keep it up everlastingly and with day and night sessions. Our friend is a resident of Hunnewell Hill. He assures us that he has not overstated conditions but can produce corroborative testimony from numerous sources. Strange as it may appear we shall not conduct a personal inspection. If we thought it would help matters any we of course would do so. But we think we can imagine the situation without penetration. Just why this state of affairs is allowed to continue we don't know. We think it a bit rough on those who live near the Boston & Albany tracks. Until we learn otherwise we shall continue of that opinion. In case the Boston & Albany officials can explain we offer them the freedom of this column for them to do so.

It has been suggested that we say another word in this space about the canvass covering of ash trucks operated by the city. We know they are appreciated and can easily believe that Street Commissioner Stuart, alert to the needs of the citizens, seeks to do everything necessary. We have readers who tell us that mor canvass covers are needed. This may be the reason, or perhaps the canvass covers now owned should be more freely used than they are. Those who have complained to us are not chronic kickers but people who believe in Newton and want to see the city run as its residents have been taught to expect that it will be run. We have not the slightest doubt that if it is the fault of anybody that we have not seen as many canvass covers as we should they will when so reminded attend to the matter at once.

We sympathize with the State Department of Conservation in its efforts to reduce the number of forest fires. We know they are striving in every way to prevent this devastation. One of the chief troubles with which they are confronted is the indifference of the automobilist who carelessly tosses a lighted cigar or cigarette among twigs, bushes or dried leaves where it can easily ignite the brush and result in a blaze of almost overwhelming proportions. It seems a pity that so many people should care so little for the consequences. Fortunately the citizens are waking up to the fact that they have a share in the ownership as well as the conduct of State reservations. The automobilist who heedlessly starts a fire is probably one of the first to howl against any new form of taxation to pay for road construction. He doubtless finds fault with all branches of local and State government for failure to give him more than his money's worth in taxes. But he shows his dumbness to the wide world when he starts a fire that causes a tremendous loss of money which must be made up from the public treasury and to which he will become a contributor. If this type of man could be shown that his "smokes" were costing him dollars instead of cents he might wake up. No one expects him to show consideration for others but his own finances always receive his prompt attention. He is the kind of man who is never impressed until you hit him in the pocket-book.

We have made a discovery—or rather it has been made for us—that there is a splendid place for conventions and such are held there regularly for months every year under favorable weather conditions. There are citizens who know of these conventions and are much opposed to them. That may be surprising as there has never been a time when the police have been called in or untoward happenings reported. It would seem that any protest was a trifle uncalled for, but wait until you get the facts. Not to prolong the mystery but merely to show how things may transpire right in our very midst, and we not know of them let it be said that one reason is they are not held on the level. They could not be because the Boston & Albany tracks are depressed and as these conventions depend upon the railroad tracks they too are "way down deep." Everybody has noticed the trenches each side of the tracks. Many of observant eye have discerned a surface of the water in these trenches indicating a state of stagnation. But how many residents have seen the conventions of mosquitoes there. We have the word of an old friend that when the mosquitoes get down to business they can make things hum. Whatever the business before the convention may be—appointing committees, taking ballots, passing resolutions, making speeches or electing officers the mosquitoes keep it up everlastingly and with day and night sessions. Our friend is a resident of Hunnewell Hill. He assures us that he has not overstated conditions but can produce corroborative testimony from numerous sources. Strange as it may appear we shall not conduct a personal inspection. If we thought it would help matters any we of course would do so. But we think we can imagine the situation without penetration. Just why this state of affairs is allowed to continue we don't know. We think it a bit rough on those who live near the Boston & Albany tracks. Until we learn otherwise we shall continue of that opinion. In case the Boston & Albany officials can explain we offer them the freedom of this column for them to do so.

It has been suggested that we say another word in this space about the canvass covering of ash trucks operated by the city. We know they are appreciated and can easily believe that Street Commissioner Stuart, alert to the needs of the citizens, seeks to do everything necessary. We have readers who tell us that mor canvass covers are needed. This may be the reason, or perhaps the canvass covers now owned should be more freely used than they are. Those who have complained to us are not chronic kickers but people who believe in Newton and want to see the city run as its residents have been taught to expect that it will be run. We have not the slightest doubt that if it is the fault of anybody that we have not seen as many canvass covers as we should they will when so reminded attend to the matter at once.

We sympathize with the State Department of Conservation in its efforts to reduce the number of forest fires. We know they are striving in every way to prevent this devastation. One of the chief troubles with which they are confronted is the indifference of the automobilist who carelessly tosses a lighted cigar or cigarette among twigs, bushes or dried leaves where it can easily ignite the brush and result in a blaze of almost overwhelming proportions. It seems a pity that so many people should care so little for the consequences. Fortunately the citizens are waking up to the fact that they have a share in the ownership as well as the conduct of State reservations. The automobilist who heedlessly starts a fire is probably one of the first to howl against any new form of taxation to pay for road construction. He doubtless finds fault with all branches of local and State government for failure to give him more than his money's worth in taxes. But he shows his dumbness to the wide world when he starts a fire that causes a tremendous loss of money which must be made up from the public treasury and to which he will become a contributor. If this type of man could be shown that his "smokes" were costing him dollars instead of cents he might wake up. No one expects him to show consideration for others but his own finances always receive his prompt attention. He is the kind of man who is never impressed until you hit him in the pocket-book.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Ten tons of clothing is Newton's contribution this year to the statewide Bundle Day Campaign for the Near East Relief. This report was made this week by Dr. W. A. Bartlett, New England Director of the Near East Relief, who described to the local committee a visit to the central receiving station in Boston for Bundle Day contributions.

He said in part, "Many people may think that all the clothing left at the Notre Dame Academy depository is practically worthless. I saw attractive linen skirts that have been carefully cleaned and seemed to be in perfect condition; stockings, many of them practically new. A truck drove up from Needham bringing three great cases of underclothing, contributed by the president of a manufacturing firm in that town."

"While I was standing there watching the boys skillfully bale the clothing, another truck drove up bringing, in hamper, clothing from Newton. At the same moment an officer from the Back Bay Station passed by and waved his hand in greeting. I asked him if the clothing was coming into his station and he said, 'Oh, yes, and it is a good work you people are doing.'"

"The clothing campaign solves some problems. Clothing which cannot be used for little children will find a marvelous use in these camps. Some of the clothing will be bartered for bread and other food. The people of Massachusetts in giving their cast-off garments now, little realize the wonderful miracles and transformations which take place when these things arrive overseas. It is the romance of loving service. It is the miracle of the loaves and the fishes."

APRIL BUILDING

The monthly report of the Public Buildings department shows continued boom in building in Newton. In April seventy-eight permits for single dwellings were issued, twenty-six for two family houses, sixty-six for garages, fifty-seven for alterations, and ten miscellaneous permits, bringing the total number of permits for the month to 237 with a valuation of $1,640,162, of which $1,404,150 is on the dwelling. For the first four months of the year the department has issued 500 permits with a total cost of $4,228,082, which is more than double the cost figures of 1924—413 permits with a total cost of $1,969,160. The number of permits for single dwellings this year, 177, is almost double the number issued last year, 107, and those for two-family houses this year, 54, are almost double those issued in the first four months of last year, 29. An increased average cost of the double dwellings from approximately $12,000 in 1924 to nearly $15,000 this year is noted.

OUR DUTY TO ANIMALS

Although the week especially devoted to urging kindness to animals has passed, we hope it has led some persons to wish to make a special effort to lessen the suffering inflicted on animals. Cats suffer particularly by their owners going away for the summer and deserting them.

Thoughtlessness causes as much suffering as deliberate cruelty. If we keep a dog, cat or bird, we should consider it a responsibility. No one should take a cat into the home or into the store or factory unless someone is going to be personally responsible for its welfare. It is not a piece of furniture. It is a living creature, capable of suffering. A deserted dog or cat not only suffers itself, but brings suffering to humane people who are often troubled by having such animals coming into their back yards begging for shelter or crying about their homes at night keeping them awake. To desert a cat is not only an injury to the cat, but an injury to your neighbor.

The Animal Rescue League begs all who own cats or dogs, if they cannot provide for them as they should when they go away for the summer, to bring them to its headquarters. Some people object to having their cats put to death (the League does not put to death all the animals it receives; good homes are found for those who are desirable) but if they stop to think for a moment, they will admit that a quick death is a thousand times preferable to days and weeks of starvation and misery, with the possibility of being stoned out of yards or being tormented by children. In the interest of suffering animals and the stay-at-homes who are afflicted by them, we beg you to make provision for your cat or dog when you move or leave the city for even a short time.

The League received and humanely cared for 66,905 animals last year. Our annual report will be sent to anyone who desires it.

Anna H. (Mrs. Huntington) Smith, President Animal Rescue League, Boston, April 27.

BOY SCOUTS

The Rotary Club of Newton are co-operating with the finance committee of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, which covers the City of Newton, in raising the amount of the budget for the current year. The Council pays for badges which the Scouts wear on their uniforms; the expenses of the local office, including executive and clerical assistance; the Charter fee and quota to the National Council in addition to other items such as publicity, camping, etc. It also publishes monthly a small paper, which is sent free to all Scouts, members of the Council and others interested who apply for it, known as the "Norumbega Scout."

The local office maintains complete records of the Scouts, issues certificates to them through their Scoutmaster and furnishes badges, pamphlets, handbooks, etc., as the agent of the National Council Supply Department. The Scout Executive, in charge of this office, Mr. Jerome M. Carley, arranges for the organization of new troops, assists in training new officers, prepares for the regular "Courts of Honor" at which Scouts pass certain tests or examinations to advance them to the higher ranks in scouting, exercises supervision over the Council Camping grounds, known as the "Ohio" and is in general charge of the field work.

During the past year the Council acquired 33 acres of land for camping purposes, mentioned above as the Ohio, upon which five substantial permanent buildings have been built, and for different troops. Other troops are planning for similar camps in the near future. Over two thousand small trees have been planted by the Scouts this year as a beginning of a program of re-forestation. There are now over 350 Scouts and Commissioner Officers in the City, an increase of about one hundred in the last year.

Scouts and Officers with their families and friends are expected to observe "Camp Day" at the Ohio, Saturday, May 23rd. Each troop will arrange to entertain their friends and there will be a council "Get-together" at Council Rock at 5 P. M.

The Annual Spring Rally will be held at Claffin Field Saturday, June 13th, at 2:30 P. M. This Rally is not only open to the public but is for the public in addition to being a competitive meet between the different troops. The troop winning the highest number of points will be awarded the Irwin Cup for this year. It is hoped that the Scouts will be inspired by seeing their parents and friends in the grand stand.

Troop 4 of Newton Highlands will have a special Court of Honor Monday evening, the 18th, at 7:30 at their meeting place, the Congregational Church. The outstanding event is the award of the Eagle Scout Badge to Franklin Cobleigh of this troop. All interested are welcome.

Troop 14 of Newton Upper Falls, meeting at the Methodist Church, is the newest troop in the Council. Mr. Herbert W. Kestle is Scoutmaster.

BRIDGE AND WHIST

The teachers of Newton are holding a bridge and whist party for the benefit of one of their sick members on Thursday, May 21. This is to be held at 2:30 P. M., at the Davis School, West Newton. The public is cordially invited to attend.

H. White, a guest of honor. To Mrs. White she gave, with the love and good wishes of the Federation, a book on the Life of Caroline Hazard, as a memento of our pleasant associations. This book of a Wellesley woman was especially appropriate, since our Director's own home is in this town. Mrs. White gracefully expressed her pleasure in the gift, and called attention to the fact that she had been our guest at each of our three meetings, a courtesy that was appreciated. Her little speech, impromptu and gracious, was greeted by admiring, affectionate applause.

To the retiring Treasurer, Mrs. Herbert E. Child, the President presented from her associates a book of poems—"The Harp Weaver" by Edna St. Vincent Millay, and to each of the Secretaries, Mrs. Charles E. Quinn and Mrs. Percival E. Evans, as they arose to give their reports, she presented a handsome basket of flowers. Mrs. Cobb's ready wit and silver tongue ever had just the right word and fluent expression that removed formality and established friendliness.

Each Chairman, as called, gave the outstanding events of her year's administration, and all were so excellent that to try to mention each or quote would be endless. Mrs. J. Porter Russell's on Education was scholarly (certainly a fitting thing); Mrs. D. M. Goodridge's poetry on "Conservation" was apt and clever; Mrs. William A. Bedford's slogan of "Outdoormindedness," more than ever timely in these warm days coming, when health pursuit becomes actualized also by the pursuit of happiness, as well, in the great open country of beauty (rather more enticing than on that cold, cold day in Winter when she urged us to "go forth"). Mrs. Harry D. Cabot's Program report and Mrs. Edward H. Ruz's Social one—both of so much service to our pleasure and comfort and welfare—did not half do them justice in letting us know how conscientious they have been, nor how successful (but, of course, we realize and admire their modesty). Mrs. Howard O. Winslow's splendid report of the amount raised for Christmas Seals bespoke her good work, and the amount raised by our own Newton corner brought to mind how well Mrs. Harold P. Fuller, Vice-President of the Newton Community Club, had carried through her campaign of this effort, for we compared right favorably with all other sections, being among the first in raising for the League.

The following officers were therefor elected: Dr. Mary A. Wilcox, President; Mrs. Langley Roake, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. T. E. Woodward was chosen delegate to the Annual Convention of the State League, to be held in Springfield, May 26 and 27. The League proposes to begin its regular work by a brief study of social and political conditions in Newton. It is fortunate in counting among its members several whose special knowledge will make such a review advised by the State League, easy and rapid. A preliminary discussion of taxation closed the evening.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, June 1, at the home of Mr. George Auryansen, 43 Judkins street, Newtonville.

tion of a book, Mark Twain's Autobiography, as a token of our esteem and affection. She regretted that we were to lose Mrs. Cobb, but realized that we were giving pleasure to Mr. Cobb when we did it, and the accompanying story of Mr. Cobb's quick wit, brought laughter from her hearers. A pleasing thing was that this book had been inscribed to Mrs. Cobb from the Federation by an art student, protégé of the West Newton Women's Educational Club.

A delicious luncheon was served downstairs, with the officers and a few others at the head table. Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith had by now arrived, and made a "speech" for our entertainment and information as to coming events. The Toasts exchanged by Club Presidents were bright and for the most part "put over" effectively in unison by all seated at the table. Mrs. Cobb stated that the Hospitality Chairman had forgotten one thing in this otherwise perfect luncheon—toast—not dry toast, either, and each few moments thereafter called for a stated table to give their toast.

The afternoon was given over to the three scenes from the "Rainbow Review," put on by Mr. C. Hassler Capron, and the play, "The Minuet," by members of the Cantabrigia Club. The children in the Red Riding Hood skirt were adorable, and their dancing well done. Dorothy Barton was a clever little dancer, and Silvia Riley, as the fairy prince, was delightful in her white suit, with "his" reverent bows to his lady love.

The two with long curls were so attractive, for we confess a leaning—though it may be old-fashioned—toward curls in preference to "bobs."

The Brookline young girls who played and sang "Crimoline Days" were altogether lovely to look upon. It almost seemed as if those quaint old costumes made them more beautiful than the modern "dapper" style of dress could possibly do. The long, black lace mitts, the lacy pantalettes, the black panicle hats, tipped at a precarious angle, the hoop skirts, and tiny parasols! Were there ever such clothes really worn! And if so, how did we ever "evolve" to the ones we see now—so absolutely unrelated are they!

"Midnight in the Nursery" was quite a different style of playlet, perhaps grotesque to see, but cleverly done, and amusing. The red checked shirt of Raggedy Andy (Robert Perry), his "mop" of hair, were only matched by the pinafore and effective red "mop" for a headpiece of Silvia Riley. Raggedy Ann, whom no one would have dreamed was the same person who played the charming Prince of the first playlet. Her dancing was a masterpiece. Her somersaults, and floppy turns, just like a rag doll that has been thrown by some ruthless youngster, brought admiring applause most justly. The dolls of the doll house played their parts, too, with skill.

The list of those taking the parts in these three scenes was given in last week's column, so will not be repeated here.

Between the playlets, music was enjoyed, with Mr. Louis Haffner at the piano. Two selections that were excellent were from "The Student Prince."

Mrs. Frank P. Sanborn, as the Marquis in "The Minuet," played her part with ease and grace. Her costume of black satin, sparkling with jets, was most attractive and "royal." The Marquise, Mrs. Frederick N. Comee, was charming in her part, giving forth a real personality of exquisite aristocracy. With actors evenly matched, convincing, the pathetic story was set in an atmosphere of beauty by the introduction that had been given by Miss Cobb, whose dainty personality was admirably suited for her song, Mrs. Forté, of the Highlands Club, adequately sympathetically, accompanied this song. The goaler, what spot upon gold, and upon the King's snuff-box—only to pocket them in avarice—was admirably done by Mrs. Harrington, the coach, in place of Mrs. Clark, who had been listed to take this part.

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club should live long in the memory of all who attended it—and the clubhouse was well filled.

Social Science Club

At the Annual Meeting of the Social Science Club at the Brae-Burn Country Club on April 29th, the following officers were elected for 1925-1926: President, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Everett E. Kent and Mrs. Samuel N. Braman; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. John T. Alden; Treasurer, Miss Maud B. Henry; Auditor, Miss Georgia H. Emery; and Directors, Miss Helen F. Hull, Mrs. Vernon B. Swett, and Mrs. Newton A. Merritt.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the 7th of the Newton Centre Woman's Club closed a significant and successful year. The retiring President, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., was given a most inspiring leader through her three years of service, and has upheld and developed the standard of the club's policy—service and uplift in the community. The facilities offered by the new club house have greatly broadened the scope and extent of the club's work, in this direction, and the enlarging of this work has helped to extend the interest in it. The work of the club's Social Service Committee has been extended and added cooperation with the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, the public school interests and local charities has so been made possible.

Several fine exhibitions of the work of local artists, as well as of craftsmen, from other centres have been held in the club's Art Room, and have been free to the public. The Scholarship Fund has been college life possible for two girls this year and the club has contributed to the following organizations: West Newton Music School, Welfare Bureau, District Nursing Association, Peabody Home for Crippled Children, Stone Institute Newton Circle, N. Professional Women's Club

MAY BREAKFAST for members only—so delightful a treat of nonsense that it seems a pity to limit it—is scheduled for Tuesday, the 19th, at 12:30 o'clock. Music will be furnished by E. Eileen Doherty, pianist; Mrs. Mary B. Black, soprano; Naomi Kayne Stewart, violinist; and Harriet Sterling, horn, contralto.

A duet—"Quis Est Homo"—always lovely, and loved by all who know Stabat Mater, will be given by Ethel Walcott Ross and Isabella Ray, with Minnie Stratton Watson, accompanist. The portrait on exhibition is by an artist member, Mary Neal Richardson. To balance the serious and thoughtful and charming, there is the frivolous and ridiculous and grotesque of "Revels and Animal Show," to which members are asked to "come and make merry." This annual get-together promises to be a very happy affair.

A GARDEN

I know a little garden
Among the hills,
So still and peaceful does it lie
'Twould scarce be noticed by the passerby.

Within its portals
There can be no sin,
For thoughts of evil
May not enter in.

Beyond its gateway,
One must drop all care,
For only Peace and Love
May linger there.

A NOTEWORTHY ANNIVERSARY

This, 1925 year occurs the FOUR HUNDRED Anniversary of the first printing of the Bible in English.—William Tyndale's translation of the New Testament. The printing art was for many years the handmaiden of religion, and religious books, including the bible, are still "best sellers". Besides a considerable number of different editions of the Bible, including the Roman Catholic edition (CBAN, 1914) and a complete edition printed in Armenian (Y64R, B), the Newton Free Library has many books written about the Bible. The following list includes a number of the most interesting of books of this type: Bibles of England, by Andrew Edgar—CBBLE23

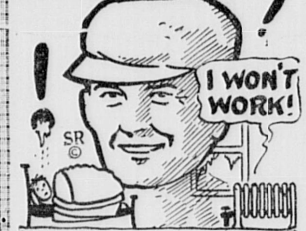

Early Bibles of America, by Rev. John Wright—CBBW93e
Historic Bibles in America, by Rev. John Wright—CBBW93
Roman Catholic and Protestant Bibles Compared, by Melancthon Williams Jacobus—CBERJ
How the Bible Grew, by Frank Grant Lewis—CBBLE58
Representative Men of the Bible, by George Matheson—CBEM42
Representative Women of the Bible, by George Matheson—CBEM42 Biblical Things Not Generally Known—CBBB47 (an interesting old book) Animals of the Bible, by John Worcester—CINW59
Curiosities of the Bible—CBB92
The Bible as English Literature, by J. H. Gardiner—CBGTG
Telling Bible Stories, by Louise S. Houghton—CBBH81

CHINESE RECEPTION

One of the most delightful of the many interesting events held during the year under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of Eliot Church took place on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry I. Harriman on Centre St., Newton.

The meeting took the form of a Chinese reception. The following members of the society in picturesque Chinese costumes received the guests as they entered: Mrs. George Angier, Mrs. Hayward P. Rolfe, Mrs. C. H. Patton, Mrs. Francis W. Dana, Mrs. Hubert Herring, and Mrs. Samuel Bramer.

Mrs. Harriman's beautiful house was decorated for the occasion with flowers, and Chinese tapestries in charge of Mrs. Samuel Bramer. Mrs. Harriman herself proved a most gracious and attractive hostess.

Mrs. David Black, president of the society, presided. After a brief business meeting, the devotional part of the program was conducted by Professor Eliza Kendrick of Wellesley.

Miss Kendrick spoke particularly of those Chinese characteristics from which the Christian religion may expect much, namely, their reverence, teachableness, and peaceableness.

Mrs. Carl J. Thornquist then sang a number of nursery rhymes taken from Chinese sources. These were unique and most interesting.

Following her, Mrs. Horace S. H. Pope gave a brief history of the last twenty-five years in China based upon the Mission Study Book of this year.

Mrs. Pope was clear and convincing, and told many facts not before known by her audience.

Miss Gertrude Copeland of Weston, who has recently returned from an extended visit to China, then gave her impressions of the country. She called attention, particularly to the street life of the cities with its wonderful variety of interests, and to the boat life. Though much remains to be done in China, Miss Copeland paid a tribute to the work now being done by the missionaries, to their courage and sacrifices.

After her narrative, she divested herself of the various Chinese costumes which she was wearing, and told of their character and significance. She also invited her audience to look at the models of Chinese life which she had brought with her and which were on display in one of the rooms.

The concluding speaker was Mrs. Cornelius H. Patton, who told of her experience in China, particularly among the women. In closing she called attention to the beautiful old Chinese costume which she was wearing, of dark blue and tan exquisitely embroidered in Chinese tapestry embroidery.

The audience then went upstairs to the sun parlor, where they enjoyed Chinese refreshments consisting of tea and dainty Chinese cakes. These were in charge of Mrs. Montanari, and Mrs. Benjamin Hinkley, assisted by Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. Ellison Day, Mrs. Ashley Day Jr., Mrs. E. B. Botstorn, and Mrs. H. F. H. Pope, all of whom were in costume.

About one hundred people were present. Eliot Church Missionary Society is indeed fortunate in having so beautiful a home open to them. The occasion will long be remembered by all present.

THE PARISH PLAYERS

On Thursday and Saturday evenings of this week at 8 P. M., the Parish Players, the Dramatic Society of the Second Church in West Newton, will present two one-act plays, "The Flying Place" by Booth Tarkington and "Violets After the Rain" by Bonney L. Dunbar, in the Entertainment Room at the Church. This organization gave two successful performances of "I'll Leave It to You" last year.

Tickets will be sold at the door, Thursday evening, 50 cents. Saturday evening 75 cents, when dancing will be enjoyed after the performance.

REUNION OF T. L. S.

Graduates of the Newton High School and other Newton people may be interested to know of a reunion of some members of the N. H. S. classes of '85, '86, and '87.

A week ago Thursday there met and dined together at the Brae Burn Club in West Newton a company of men who forty years ago were schoolmates and classmates at the Newton High School. In their high school days the men were members of three clubs, the S. D. C., the N. H. S. D. S., and the T. L. S. The S. D. S., the oldest of the three had its beginnings when its members were in the Bigelow Grammar School at Newton and was organized in a barn during the excitement over the kidnapping of Charlie Ross, its object being to aid in finding Charlie Ross and its initials denoting that it was the Secret Detective Society. As its members grew older and entered the high school it changed its name for a while to the Social Debating Society but at the close of its active career its initials were its only name. The N. H. S. D. S. was the Newton High School Debating Society and its members were mostly from Auburndale. The T. L. S. was the Thursday Literary Society. It was organized at the home of the late Rev. Dr. Wolcott Calkins, had for its members boys from the different villages of the city and of all the three clubs was the one to longest keep up its organization and its records. Those who were present at the dinner at the Brae Burn Club were Clinton Eddy of West Newton, Frank Partridge of Newton, Franklin M. Elms of Montclair, N. J., John Cutler of Newtonville, Frank Wheeler of Allston, Bowen B. Smith of New York, Walter Barker of Newton, W. H. Blood, Jr., of Wellesley, Dr. H. H. Haskell of Boston, E. F. Smallwood of Springfield, Dr. Eugene A. Crockett of Boston, Henry Whitmore of West Newton, Rev. Dr. Raymond Calkins of Cambridge, Dr. William Z. Ripley of Newton Centre, J. P. B. Fiske of Auburndale and Leighton Calkins of Plainfield, N. J. The dinner was called together by Mr. Eddy who was responsible for arranging for the meeting and Mr. Calkins presided as toast master. All of the men present were married and boasted among them of twenty-two living children, twelve boys and ten girls, and of three grandchildren, one boy and two girls.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Hold Seventy Six Public Hearings, Receive Petitions From Street Railway Co. For Bus Service

A midnight meeting of the Board of Aldermen, the first for some time, was held Monday night at which seventy-six public hearings were held and a considerable amount of important business was transacted.

Petitions were received from the M. & B. St. Ry. for permission to run buses on the Needham-Watertown, Newtonville-Newton Centre, and Newton Highlands-Lake Street lines. A letter from Mr. Pitt F. Drew, president of the company, in which he stated that the company would not provide extra bus service for school pupils and that after July 1st there would be no more extra car service as the returns were not sufficient to pay expenses, accompanied the petitions. The Mayor, in a communication to the board, stated that it was his belief that if the privileges were granted that the situation would eventually be satisfactorily relieved. The petitions were referred to the Franchise and License Committee.

Vice-President Parker took the chair while President White opposed the recommendation of the Claims and Rules Committee that no action was necessary on the matter of amending a certain section of the Zoning Ordinance relative to notifying persons affected by petitions for changes in district boundary lines of hearings. The board refused to uphold Mr. White and voted 13-7 to accept the committee's recommendation. It was then voted to rescind all assignments of hearings of change of zones.

Mr. Edward Ray Spear, of Montvale road, Newton Centre, was appointed to the Playground Commission to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. William C. Brewer.

The Mayor submitted the appointment of Miss Florence F. Fitzgerald as Overseer of the Poor. The appointment was tabled and will be acted upon at a later meeting.

The Finance Committee reported it inexpedient to appropriate $600 to the Playground Department for the maintenance of the tennis courts at the High School. The report was accepted. Several hearings were held on pole locations of the Edison Company and various locations were granted.

Philip Capodanno was granted leave to withdraw his petition for a filling station at 359 Lexington street, Auburndale.

The Alhambra Golf Club was granted permission to alter the Wilbur mansion on Waltham street into a clubhouse. City Solicitor Bartlett ruled that it was not necessary for the Club to have the board's permission.

John T. Burns, Inc., was granted permission to keep gasoline at the rear of 365 Centre street, Newton, for private use.

The petition of D. L. Fletcher for a gasoline tank at 1-3 Brook street was referred back to the committee on Franchise and Licenses at the motion of Alderman Bail. The committee had reported favorably on the permit but Mr. Bail, backed by Aldermen Heathcote and Earle, felt that more consideration should be given to it.

The petitions of McIsaac Brothers and Roland H. Allen for filling stations at 2056-2058 and 2018-2020 Commonwealth avenue were referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses. Considerable opposition was made by residents of Auburndale.

Joseph Rooney, represented by Judge Thomas Weston, was granted a permit for a 50-car garage at 515 Waltham street.

The petition of Lillian I. Cate, who was also represented by Judge Weston, for a 65-car garage at 1251 Washington street was referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses. No opposition was made to the garage but Mr. M. John Enness asked that the building be set back from the sidewalk.

Spirited opposition, caused by a raise of rents, was made by residents of Newton Centre to the petition of Cora B. Warner for a 21-car community garage at 39 Institution avenue. The petition was referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses.

Opposition was made by Mr. Leverett Gleason, representing Mrs. Josephine Gleason and Mr. J. Edward Hills, of Vernon street, Newton, to the petition for a 3-car garage in the rear of the library by the City. No action was taken by the Committee to which it was referred.

Hearings were held on 45 private garages for not more than two cars. Thirty-nine of these were granted.

$1300 was appropriated for the widening of the corner of Lincoln and Hartford streets, Newton Highlands, at the church property. Mr. A. H. Elder favored the widening and stated that the church was willing to give the land in exchange for certain land in the rear of the church, where it is proposed to make an addition.

It was voted to inscribe on the records of the board and to send to his family a tribute to Mr. William C. Brewer as drawn up by a special committee.

It was also voted to accept the invitation of the Mayor as chief marshal of the Memorial Day parade by Charles Ward Post 62 G. A. R., to become members of his staff.

Resolutions were passed commending the public spirit of citizens of West Newton in subscribing funds for a Memorial Library in that village.

The Board of Survey Act was accepted. This act forbids any person to construct a private street without first submitting plans to the City Engineer. The planning board was also enlarged from 5 to 7 members, the city

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

The first Community Mother and Daughter Banquet in Newton Centre, sponsored by the Education Centre Council of Religious Education, was held Friday evening, May 15th, at the Congregational Church, Miss Margaret Slattery, one of the most noted and most inspiring speakers in this country gave an address after the banquet. Her subject, "The Crystal Maze," was a plea to the young girls of today to come out of themselves and enter the world of noble things. She likened "fire" to "love," saying how wonderful each is when kept under perfect control, but how destructive when permitted to get the best of us. We heard this idealistic talk realize how fortunate we were in obtaining the services of Miss Slattery, and hope we may have the pleasure of listening to her again next year.

During the banquet, the trio from the First Church Orchestra played some beautiful and very appropriate music, and Mother and Daughter songs were sung, most ably and peppily led by "Kitty" Collins. The members of the Cabinet were as follows: Officers: Mary Robinson, president; Virginia Williams, vice-president; Bertha Appleby, secretary; Helen Washburn, treasurer. Representatives: from Congregational Church, Esther Newell, Sally Collins, Elizabeth Bonney; from Methodist Church, Florence Orrill, Evelyn Marston, Dorothy Myrick; from Unitarian Church, Betty Lawrence, Edmund Edwards; from Baptist Church, Madeline Sears; from Episcopal Church, Joy Masters. Much credit is also due to the advisors, Miss Priscilla H. Fowle, Mrs. John M. Colony, and Miss Thelma Louise Bishop, for their great help and valuable suggestions to the cabinet.

Such enthusiasm and friendship was aroused by the first banquet, that we hope it may in the future become an annual affair, and help to kindle greater cooperation and neighborliness in Newton Centre.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon and meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday of this week was one of more than usual importance and interest to members. This was the first to be held at the Woodland Golf Club, marking the close of the three months attendance contest between teams captained by "Ben" Rae and "Doc" Clark, and offering one of the most interesting talks of the season by Ernest Hermann, Superintendent of the Newton Playgrounds, who was the guest and speaker for this meeting. Mr. Hermann held the close attention of his audience, delivering a talk that was not only interesting from the viewpoint of Newton citizens who take pride in the playground system of the city, but also much of a general nature regarding present day needs and opportunities for recreation and physical development. As a straight from the shoulder talk, authoritative and convincing at all times—Mr. Hermann's address will rank with the best of the many good ones heard and enjoyed by the club.

"Joe" Crowell was the "three-minute speaker" and, as usual, "Joe" battled for the full one thousand per cent in the discussion of the significance of Rotary and its meaning to the individual Rotarian. "Joe" also appeared again as the official booster for the coming Rotary outing, to be held on June 26, 27, 28 at Camp Mashpee, on Mashpee Island, Buzzard's Bay, where Newton Rotarians have already enjoyed themselves on previous occasions.

While the close of the attendance contest was announced by President Ira S. Roe, who presided, the result cannot be announced until the next meeting because of the necessity for waiting until the few absentees at the Monday meeting are given an opportunity to make up their attendance through attending meetings of other clubs.

Those present are indebted to Rotarian Harry H. Hanson for the privilege of attending the formal opening of Norumbega Park on Saturday of this week, May 23, as the guests of the management; and to Rotarian Frank J. Perry for convenient pocket timetables of the summer railroad schedules for all of the Newtons.

Various visiting Rotarians were entertained, while a large central table was occupied by Rotarian George J. Martin and his guests, the latter including the representatives of the New York, Chicago, and Boston offices of the Martin Manufacturing Company, with executives of the Newton factory, who were in attendance at a manager's conference being held in this city.

If the lunch served at this meeting, under the direction of Club Manager Frank Clough—who was recently made a Rotarian through election to the local club—may be regarded as a criterion, the Newton Club is destined to enjoy even more successful and enjoyable meetings in the future than in the past. Meetings will continue to be held at the Woodland Golf Club until further notice.

LIBRARY WEEK

Thanks to the splendid generosity of Mr. Frederick Plummer and Mrs. W. Kirke Corey, a beautiful and commodious library building for Abundant is now assured, and in the location most of all desired. This is a public benefaction that calls forth the grateful appreciation of every citizen of Abundant, and will be remembered with gratitude for generations to come.

The committee in charge of receiving gifts for the remainder of the amount required, estimated at about $25,000 hope to realize the full sum during this week. Here is an opportunity for everyone in Abundant to have a share in an undertaking which is of the greatest importance to the life of our community. A beautiful and ample library building, placed in the conspicuous and convenient location which now has been provided, will add immensely to the attractiveness of our village and will be a perpetual inspiration of uplifting influence and power.

Surely no one in Abundant would want to miss the chance of having part in so worthy an undertaking as this!

engineer and the street commissioner becoming members ex-officio.

The petition of the Wellesley Motor Coach Company for a through bus line, making no stops in Newton, from Babson Park to Brookline was referred back to the committee on Franchises and Licenses after City Solicitor Bartlett suggested that the board pass certain rules and regulations before granting such a petition.

Andrew Mazzone and Joseph F. Boughan were granted gasoline stations at Chestnut and Winter streets, Newton Upper Falls, and 14 Watertown street, Nonantum respectively.

The petition of Thomas Walsh for a gasoline station at the corner of Cherry and Waltham streets, West Newton, upon which the committee reported favorably, was referred back to the committee for further consideration.

The petition of Edgar G. Frost for a 3-car garage at 80 Charles street, Auburndale, was also referred back to the committee on Franchises and Licenses at the instigation of Alderman Gordon.

Tracy et al, petitioners for a gasoline station at 302 Watertown street, Nonantum, were given leave to withdraw.

The gasoline permit of Daniel P. Henley, 2099 Commonwealth avenue was revoked upon the recommendation of the License Committee.

A bond issue of $115,000 for the extension of a 20-inch water main from the Reservoir to Walnut street was authorized.

An appropriation of $25,244 for sewers in Carver road, Brewster road, Nile road, and Mayflower terrace was made.

Various licenses and soldiers' relief allowances were granted.

Adjournment was at 12.20.

NEW GAS LINE

The residents of Newton have been interested to know what was the necessity of the 24-inch gas pipe line through the Newtons and Washington streets, which is being laid by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

During the last thirteen years, the sales of gas in the Newton District have increased from four hundred million to eleven hundred million cubic feet per year, and the number of meters increased from 13,000 to 28,000. This increase in business has necessitated increasing the pipe system, in order to supply the gas to all the customers, when and where it is required.

This new 24-inch main is being laid from Galen street, Watertown, through the Newtons in Washington street, as far as the Woodland Golf Club, Auburndale, and is a necessity in order to enable the Company to give the service required by the residents of the district.

This pipe is being laid with the greatest care, to meet modern conditions. One of the factors that have to be taken into account in laying any pipe under the street is the heavy trucking which is liable to affect the joints, and the pipe has to be laid at a greater depth than formerly. Second, the rolling of the trench with a heavy machine, in order to provide against settling necessitates extra clamps being provided for every joint. In addition to the ordinary lead filling, Great care is being taken in installing this pipe, and also in restoring the street and the surface to its former condition. The work is also being expedited as rapidly as possible, in order that the residents be inconvenienced as little as possible, along the line of construction.

The reason for the increased use of gas in this district is undoubtedly due to the great demand for gas as fuel. Formerly, when gas was used only for lighting, very small pipe was sufficient. With the greater use of gas as a fuel, the requirements are very much more.

DEATH OF MR. ESTES

Mr. Abram S. N. Estes, for many years a resident of Newtonville, died last Tuesday at his home in Swampscott after a long period of failing health. The eldest son of the late Thomas G. and Josephine E. N. Estes, he was born in Fall River and was fifty-eight years of age. A man of refined nature and genial disposition, Mr. Estes was a favorite with all who knew him. Besides his widow and one son, Phillip H. Estes, he is survived by one brother, Mr. Francis T. Estes of Fall River, and two sisters, Miss Gertrude C. Estes and Miss Josephine E. Estes, both of Newtonville. Funeral services were held at his late home yesterday afternoon, followed by interment in Cambridge Cemetery.

Y. W. C. A.

Next Monday evening the Blue Triangle Club of business and professional women will be entertained by the business girls' club of the Boston Y. W. C. A. at 37 1/2 Beacon street.

The High School girls are to have an outdoor Weenie Roast at the burning place on Quinobogin road on Friday evening, leaving the Y. W. C. A. rooms at 5.00 o'clock.

The regular meetings of the Junior Girl Reserves will terminate next Tuesday afternoon when officers for the next year will be elected. There will be a supper and social time following the meeting. There will be hikes and other outdoor activities for Junior High School girls Tuesday afternoons during the summer.

THE NEWTON VACATION WEEK

The work of the Newton Vacation Week begins its thirty-fifth year, June first. Four hundred dollars will be needed to accomplish the work already planned, which is not an organized charity, but merely a helping hand to those to whom the year has been a hard one, on account of either sickness, misfortune, or growing old age. Last year, cheer was given in thirty homes, varying from an automobile ride, to a month at a Rest Home. The needs are as great this year, and any sums donated, may be entrusted to Mrs. W. L. Sampson, 321 Belmont street; Mr. Edw. Bacon, 25 Bacon street; and Miss Elizabeth Spear, 89 Walnut Park, Newton.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, May 20 — President Coolidge finds that one of his greatest difficulties at present is to say "No" to many social and business requests without offending the feelings of well meaning citizens. His close associates in official life say that he cannot take a vacation in the generally accepted sense, for he must combine the affairs of state with whatever recreation he can obtain during the summer months. The fact that Mr. Coolidge is leaving Washington for the summer colony in Massachusetts has been taken to mean that his vacation begins at that time. The contrary is true.

A White House official told the writer that thousands of invitations for addresses and social visits have been received with the coming of the summer months, all based upon the assumption that the President would then have time for such things. Officials say that despite the absence of Congress, there has been no slump in the amount of business at the Executive Mansion. His advisers have urged the President to call a halt to the present tendency of increasing rather than diminishing his official duties.

Those asking the President to speak at various functions do not realize the amount of work involved in the preparation of addresses of this character. Utterances, especially when made officially, become matters of history as they are recognized as state papers. Naturally, it is incumbent upon the President to exercise judgment in the matter of public addresses. Besides, any manuscript of any merit takes considerable time in preparation.

Meanwhile, the President must carry out his regular duties as head of the Nation, which calls for conferences all during the business day and frequently study of problems at night. This program also will be followed at the Summer White House, for, under the constitution, the country cannot be without an executive even for a moment. The fact that the President must decline invitations may incur the displeasure of many, but that is one of the drawbacks of the office.

The most interesting place in Washington today is a small room in the Treasury Department where the Commandant of the Coast Guard maintains headquarters. It is here that the Government forces maintain their board of strategy along lines similar to those used by the Navy Department during times of actual warfare. The reason for this intensive activity is the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act. Adopting many of the plans used with success during the late war, the Treasury Department is mobilizing its "dry" forces with a view to blockading American ports against rum runners. Estimates have been made by responsible government officials that hundreds of millions of dollars will be needed during the next few years to maintain the blockade along the Atlantic Coast. The Pacific Coast is not so well guarded for the reason that the sources of supply are located on the Atlantic Coast. The Treasury Department realizes that it has a gigantic task at hand and has settled down to a serious enforcement of the law.

Just at a time when everything is quiet in political circles, the rumor persists that Secretary of War Weeks will resign. Those who know him well say that his health has been seriously impaired by his recent illness, and that it would be physically impossible for him to continue his official work. Others say that the present Secretary or some of his minor executives have bungled the proposition of national mobilization in connection with the Armistice. It is the current report that plans were made by the War Department to this end without consulting the President, who, after all, is the Commander-in-Chief of the Army. Hence, the resignation rumor. Meanwhile, politicians are trotting out several local candidates for the portfolio.

The professional farmers located in Washington have found time exceedingly dull. They now come forward with a proposal for freight rate reductions on farm products. The Interstate Commerce commission has a rate investigation under way which was recently authorized by Congress. The opinion prevails in Washington that agriculture can work out its own salvation without legislative panaceas. So the latest pronouncement of the farmers' legislative agents has not created even a ripple of interest politically.

Mr. Coolidge has an unpleasant controversy on his hand with open warfare at the Federal Trade Commission. Commissioners John F. Nugent and Huston Thompson have joined hands in dissenting with the changes in the policy of the Commission as inaugurated by the majority a few weeks ago. It appears likely that the President may be obliged to clean house in or out of the functioning of the Commission. He is proceeding rather slowly in this matter as he has no intention of allowing Commissioner Thompson to make himself a "martyr" with radical groups of the country. Thompson has been the storming petrel of this Federal agency for a number of years.

Inasmuch as tax reduction is immensely popular, there is a mad rush for political credit in bringing about further cuts. One of the Republican congressional authorities on taxes has advocated a reduction of at least $40,000,000 with the possibilities of extending this to $200,000,000 or $400,000,000. Some of the Democratic tax experts plan to go one better and cut the Treasury estimates. Some months must necessarily elapse before any concrete proposition can be advanced in the matter of tax revision. It is necessary that the present revenues be used as a gauge for income tax rates.

Salvatore Yeradi, of Pine street, West Newton, was found guilty of the larceny of a swarm of bees from Marcel Orleans, a neighbor, in Police Court Thursday morning. The bees left Orleans' hive and swarmed in the cellar of Yeradi's house. Yeradi refused to give them up. He was given the alternative of a fine of $50, payment of $18 restitution, or 100 days in the House of Correction. He refused to pay either sum.

DR. WEEDEN CALLED

The Houghs Neck People's Union Congregational Church has voted to ask Rev. Dr. Charles F. Weedon of Newton to become acting pastor of the church. He preached the sermon at the services on Sunday morning. The call was made on the advice of the committee on ministers, composed of Rev. Eric I. Lindh, Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Sneath and Rev. Thomas W. Davison. This committee thought it better, under the conditions existing at Houghs Neck, to try to build a church edifice at Houghs Neck where all the members of the Protestant faith could worship, and they felt it would take a man of Rev. Dr. Weedon's type to bring about the reunion of the different Protestant people.

Last Summer a second church, called the Congregational Church of Christ, was formed and an edifice was built by the members of the new congregation, many of whom were former members of the People's Union Congregational Church.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. Day Junior High School

At the weekly Assembly on Wednesday Mr. Carr urged again that each pupil make sure his course for next year was the right one for him. French should be begun in the seventh, Latin in the eighth for those who would fulfill the classical requirements. The following boys were then awarded certificates for basketball: Kenneth Merrill, Carey Proia, James Brown, Merritt Swartz, Jack Weidner, Harold Lodge, Richard Zoller, Lyman Morrill, George Cusack.

A moving picture, instructive and helpful, was then presented: The subject, Mouth Hygiene, proved a very pertinent one for the classes in science.

Pupils in the drawing classes have made very attractive posters for the evening entertainment Thursday.

The boys play the first home game Friday afternoon at Cabot Park.

The ninth grade class has had its picture taken. The class officers also posed for a group picture.

The girls of IC served an attractive luncheon last Monday at which Miss Pratt and Miss Grenier were guests. Miriam Hanscom and Cecile Lacroix acted as host and hostess while Dorothy Stickney served. Mary Louise Foss was unable to be present on account of illness.

Bigelow School

A girls' captain-ball team from the Peirce School, West Newton, played a Bigelow Girls' Captain-ball team at Burr Playground on Tuesday, May 18. Both teams played a strong game. The score was 18 to 9 in favor of Bigelow.

George Duffield entered the "Marble Contest." He played for the championship of Newton at Horace Mann Playground Saturday, May 9, and won. On May 16 at Boston Common he played for the championship of Greater Boston. He won the first round, but was defeated by Jack Walkenstein who won the championship.

Record attendance for past four weeks was made by Miss Chase's class 97.1 average. The three divisions of eighth grade came next with 96.8 for Mr. Reade's division, 96.4 for Miss Dyer's, and 96.1 for Miss Reade's. The proceeds, thirty-two dollars, will be added to the class fund.

Stearns School

Col. French gave one of his instruction lectures, "A Trip to Washington," in the Assembly Hall, Monday afternoon, after school. The pictures were very good. It was interesting and gratifying to see how much the children remembered. Class shows some interesting group work whereby the work of two or three groups is under the direction of the teacher at the same time.

One of the Fifth Grades enjoyed two very interesting geography lessons given by Mr. Winslow, on Fishing. Miss Church's First Grade is learning the good health value of different vegetables by means of a chart which they are much interested in making.

CHANGE OF NAME

The Board of Trustees of the West Newton Music School are soon to change the school's name to one that will be more descriptive of the scope of the school's activities. This is to be done in an effort to bring about a more general understanding that the Music School is not an undertaking local to only one of the villages of the Newtons. Though it began as a West Newton enterprise, and was so named, originally, it has long been of city-wide service. Its teaching headquarters are at the Clafin School, where pupils from the "North" and "South" sides attend, and at the Peirce School, West Newton.

The present innovation of holding its closing exercises—the most important gathering of its school year—at the more generally accessible and central High School, is in line with this effort to emphasize the fact that the school draws pupils from, and needs support from, every section of the city.

In its fifteen years of service, the Music School has gained an enviable reputation both at home and perhaps even more—abroad. Very great interest attaches to it as the pioneer in utilizing public school buildings for a purpose of general and community value. Mrs. Janet Scenecen of New York, who has made and published an authoritative book upon financing such undertakings recently made a visit of investigation to this school. Her opinion is that the Music School is "doing a minimum amount of work for the minimum of cost." The pupils pay a good proportion of the total expense, but there remains a very moderate budget which must come from friends of the school, by means of subscriptions.

For three years past, a liberal allowance has been granted the school by Dr. Archibald T. Davidson and Mr. Thomas Whitney Sumner, as Trustees of the Music Fund which they control. The grant is in recognition of the high value of the School's work and it is for special work which enables the School to give its pupils advantages on a par with the best modern schools of music. The grant is to be permanent on the condition that a fair proportionate sum be raised in the city itself.

This Music School for the Newtons must have general support from its own town, to maintain its high standards and its wide usefulness.

The Board of Trustees cordially invite and earnestly urge all who are interested in work done for the community to be present on May 29 and witness the spirit of the work that is being done and judge if further support be not deserved by past accomplishment.

CLOSING EXERCISES

On Friday evening, May 29, the West Newton Music School, soon to be renamed "The All-Newton Music School"—will hold its closing exercises, at the hall of the Technical High School, Newtonville. The program will be made up of ensemble, or group, work—the team-work which is one of the most valuable of the results of the school's work.

Mr. Augustus D. Zanzig will be the guest-conductor, of three of Bach's Chorales, given by the members of the 18 classes.

The program will include selections from among those given at the recitals during the season by groups; with orchestras, Junior and Senior; a string trio, a string quartet, a clarinet duo, sonatas for two or more instruments. There will be one solo from each department—piano, voice, violin, cello. The Senior Orchestra, which lately was chosen to play at the Interscholar Concert in Boston, will close the program, after the promotions have been read, and the prizes awarded. All are welcome.

YOUTH MOVEMENT FORUM IN NEWTON HIGHLANDS

A community forum will be held by the Fellowship of Youth for Peace on Thursday evening, May 28, at 7.45, in the vestry of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, Rev. Charles O. Farrar, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, presiding.

Thomas Q. Harrison, national secretary of the Fellowship of Youth for Peace, will speak on "The Youth Movement: What It Is and What It Is For." Newton Highlands is especially fortunate to secure Harrison, who is to be in Boston only three weeks, and is scheduled to speak at some forty meetings in colleges, churches, and labor groups. During the last year he has spoken to about 100,000 students all over the country. Last Sunday Harrison spoke both at the Youth Rally on Boston for World Good-Will Day and at the dinner to 300 foreign students which followed.

Other speakers at the Newton Highlands meeting will be Herbert Haslam, a student at the Milton Theological Institute, on "The Challenge of Youth Today," and Robinson C. Nag, an Indian student much in demand as a lecturer at colleges, on "India and Peace."

There will be opportunity for questions and discussion. This is a meeting run by the Youth Movement, about the Youth Movement, but for—everybody.

GRACE CHURCH PLAYERS

"Charlie's Aunt," one of the most popular of the comedies of recent years was presented by the Grace Church Players in Grace Church Parish House, Newton, last Friday and Saturday nights.

The play deals with the masquerading of a college student as the "Aunt" of one of his classmates who is badly in need of a chapter. The resulting complications are funny in the extreme.

A large cast did full justice to the text, playing with animation and evident pleasure. Those taking part were: Miss Helen Ratcliffe, Miss Florence and Miss Katherine White, Mrs. Fred S. Raymond, William H. Blandy, Edward W. Center, Carleton Bell, T. Edson Jewell, Jr., Royall B. Switzer, and Samuel T. Tuttle.

The play was coached by Mr. Leverett D. G. Bentley. The stage manager was Thomas R. White, the business manager, Miss Marion Ratcliffe, and the prompter, Mr. Fred S. Raymond.

WITH ROD AND BAIT

Now that the open season for fishing is on, every man and boy who loves the sport, anxiously studies the weather, as his few hours or days of leisure draw near, for just the right combination of wind and clouded sky to encourage a nibble in the depths of some quiet pool.

For the old-timer who is on the watch for new tricks in the craft, or for the amateur who envies the sure skill of the experienced angler, there will be much of interest in the following selection from the fishing books in the Newton Free Library: These are but a few of the many excellent books on the subject, which may be had at the Library.

Streamcraft, by Geo. P. Holden—VF.H69—One of the best books on the science of trout fishing, by a veteran whose opinions on fishing have great weight with all American anglers.

Fishing Tackle and Kits, by Dixie Carroll—VF.G77—How, when, where to fish and the right kind of tackle for fresh water game fish.

Goin' Fishin', by Dixie Carroll—VF.C77g—Timely tips for the angler.

Lake and Stream Game Fishing, by Dixie Carroll—VF.C77—A book on popular fresh water game fish; the tackle necessary and how to use it.

Tales of Southern Rivers, by Zane Grey—VF.G86.

Adventures with Rod and Harpoon along the Florida Keys, by Wendell Endicott—VF.H71.E56—In contrast with the usual successful fisherman, the author freely tells the secrets of his success in a way that is invaluable to either veteran or novice.

American Food and Game Fishes, by David Starr Jordan and Barton W. Evermann—PC.J76a—Describes all species found in America north of the equator, with keys for identification.

Copy of the Massachusetts Fish and Game Laws, together with information concerning the securing of fishing licenses, etc., is posted in the lobby of the Newton Free Library.

EDITORIAL

The citizens of our city are awaiting with interest the action the board of aldermen will take in the latest petition of the street railway company for bus service. No provisions are made in these petitions for extra service for school pupils as the street railway company claims they lose money on this service and it was recently ruled illegal for the city to reimburse them for such a loss. If these latest petitions are granted the question next September will be, How will the school pupils, especially from the south side, get to school, and how much will it eventually cost the city? We believe that there is more than one concern that would be glad of the chance to run busses on Walnut street and furnish this extra service without cost to the city.

Interest is also centered in the appointment of an Overseer of the Poor. The aldermen, having refused to appoint Dr. Lowe to this office sometime ago, now have before them the appointment of a woman to this office, which has been vacant since last December. If the appointment is confirmed the Charity Department will be the first in the history of the city to have a woman at its head. Personally, although we have the highest respect for the qualifications of the Mayor's latest choice, we believe that the Overseer of the Poor is a man's job.

It is not the automobile owners alone that are interested in good roads but every citizen of Massachusetts who expects to go from place to place, and wants hard road beds the year around to go on, and the just and fair way to have the burden bear upon all alike as near as it is possible to do. If good roads are to be had it will take money and it is up to the tax payer and property owner to find the way to get the money.

Let us all take thought of Memorial Day which comes a week from tomorrow, and set aside some part, at least, of that day to pay our respects to those that gave their all in time of need to make our Nation the best in the world.

ALOHA BUNGALOW

The Aloha bungalow, home of Miss Dai Buell, 145 Warren street, Newton Centre, is a most popular place this week. Miss Buell is holding a series of musicals every afternoon and several evenings for the benefit of the MacDowell Colony Endowment Fund. It is a rare privilege to attend one of these musicals and to hear the gifted young musicians play, as well as Miss Buell herself.

Tomorrow afternoon the recital will be by Jane Burgess. One of the most interesting features of the program will be a series of "Paraphrases" on the well known theme of "Chopsticks" played by Miss Buell and Miss Burgess together.

Tomorrow night Miss Dorothy Godfrey will be the soloist. She will play a classical program of much skill and charm.

POLICE NEWS

A change of routes of the night officers on the Newton Police Department went into effect Monday. The day officers were changed when Chief Burke took office two years ago, but this is the first big change in the night platoons. The following patrolmen are affected: Harold Hoyt goes from Waban to West Newton; Clement Barry from Newton Lower Falls to Waban; Michael Mooney from West Newton to Newton Lower Falls; John E. Green from relief duty to Newton Lower Falls; George Tobin from Newton Lower Falls to Newtonville; Frank Maloney from the north side of Chestnut Hill to the south side; Thomas Whalen from Chestnut Hill to Nonantum; James Conniff from Newtonville to a day route in Newton Upper Falls; John Monahan from day relief work to a day route in West Newton.

Happiness is not a matter of wealth, neither is it a matter of poverty.

Lifting Power of Love

Love lifts up the lowest to the highest, places the lowly born by the side of the bright particular star. It binds us to earth; and when our loved one has been taken from us it lifts us to heaven. Who shall tell its glories and its victories? Without it a life passed is like a year gone by without any summer—cold, chilly, unfruitful, without pleasure or charm. With it the worst state is endurable. The palace is but a stable or an outhouse without it—a very prison; the very prison when the loved one shares it is a palace. Such is particular love. When that, upon the freeing of our souls from this "muddy vesture of decay" which incloses it, has grown into general love for our fellows and love of adoration for our Maker we shall not be far off paradise, for indeed heaven's harmony is universal.—Hain Friswell.

Wanted His Share

He was a little, undersized, inoffensive-looking person. He had managed to get on the Broadway express at Times square by the simple expedient of holding his breath and allowing himself to be jammed into the train by the burly blue-coated guard. He found himself in a pocket formed by four men surrounding him. His chin reached up to about their knees. The atmosphere—what there was of it—was stifling. He managed to stand it for about two minutes. Then he twisted his neck up to the man in front of him and said: "Pardon me, sir, but would you mind holding your breath for a moment? I would like to get a mouthful for myself."—Mercury.

The Reason

"Do you remember, dear," said Mrs. Blank, "that before we were married you always offered me your left arm?"
"Yes," replied her husband. "I wanted to have my right hand free. You see, I had a lover's fear that someone would try to take you away from me, and I always kept it in readiness for defence."
"How sweet! But how is it that now you usually offer me your right arm?"
"Well, I am not so afraid as I was."

Costly to Grow Tall

"Sorry, but I can't insure you—you're too tall," said the agent to the man who wanted to take out an accident policy.
"Too tall? What's the matter with that?" protested the applicant. "And anyway I'm not as tall as my father was and he had no trouble getting insured."
"But your father," the agent explained, "was insured long ago when there was no danger of a fellow having his head knocked off by a skidding airplane."—American Legion Weekly

TEACHERS' TEA

The Educational Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club and the Executive Board of the Newton Centre School Association gave a tea for the teachers of the Mason School District, on Wednesday, May 20th, at the Club House.

A short musical program with songs by Miss Marion Haskell, and piano solos by Mrs. Kirtley Mather was greatly enjoyed.

This "teachers' tea" has become a very pleasant annual custom at which the three bodies of women, particularly interested in our local schools, may meet.

Nothing Like Marriage to Sir Up Interest

There is always "human interest" in the account of a wedding in which the contracting parties belong to decidedly different social strata. It is interesting when a chauffeur elopes with the daughter of a citizen who pays a federal income tax of more than $1,000. But if a dishwasher becomes the husband of a lady whose family is given an AA rating, both in the register of society and in the register of finance, the event is a nine days' wonder, observes the Boston Globe.

Getting married represents one of the chief businesses of the human race. It is supposed that women are more concerned with it than men, but that may be disputed. Some men have been known to acquire fortunes and other men to obtain positions by reason of the women they have espoused. Whenever the wedding bells ring most people stop to appraise the alliance.

It is a curious fact that very few marriages are entirely satisfactory to the relatives of both parties. The whisper goes around that "she might have done better," or that "he could have found a wife who would have been of more help in his career."

In this endless discussion of marriages there is ground for the suspicion that the democratic United States is a trifle aristocratic after all. When the question of a wife or a husband comes up it is treated as though there were as many gradations of the population of India. And yet the federal Constitution forbids titles of nobility.

Cats Have Positive Likes and Dislikes

Few persons really know their cats. Yet cats can talk, though it is a dumb language.

Give your cat for dinner something she doesn't like, and watch her sniff it, shake her right paw, and walk away in disgust. If she is really hungry and no other food offers she will return to the disliked dish, making a queer cackling hiss as she eats it, and saying, "Must have it if there's nothing else in the larder."

Watch her "smile" at you when she is pleased. She does this by closing her eyes very slowly and opening them again. A cat will "smile" like this every time when spoken to by some one she loves, says the Springfield Republican.

When in absolute ecstasy she will paw the air with outstretched claws. In making a new friend she will arch her back and hold up a trembling tail, saying, "I know you like me."

If there be a savory smell she will walk round and round your legs, rubbing them hard, and asking you to "hurry with dinner."

It is wonderful how domesticated the cat has become. Yet we have only to see her knead her bed before settling to realize that the wild animal strain persists in her, for her ancestors turned round and round and round and kneaded their beds to soften the forest growths.

The Nile's Source

The question of the source of the Nile is at once the oldest and the most recent of geography. The first European to lay claim to having discovered the true source was James Bruce. The Scotch explorer believed that the middle one of the three branches, called the Blue Nile, was the true river. It was later discovered that he had been mistaken in his assumptions. The ancients believed that the westernmost branch, called the White Nile, was the true Nile. The ancients were right and Bruce was wrong. Many explorers sought to trace the White Nile to its source, but the greatest discovery of all, that the Nile really rises in south latitude and crosses the equator, was made by Captains Grant and Speke, who in 1858 discovered Lake Victoria Nyanza.

Birth of Words

Where do new words come from? Some, of course, are coined by scientists and philosophers, others are lifted bodily from one language to another, as, for instance, the French "saboteuse," now excellent English.

Sometimes, too, a word is coined by a newspaper. For instance, the word "apache," which has now been officially admitted to the French language by a decision of the academy, was invented by the Figaro newspaper 22 years ago, when it used it to describe a Parisian criminal type which has since become famous.

Another word which caught on, "suffragette," also owes its existence to the genius of a newspaper man. This word appeared for the first time in the columns of the Daily Mail.—Answers.

Lady Arabella Johnson

Lady Arabella was the daughter of Thomas, earl of Lincoln. She married Isaac Johnson, who left his native land for New England from religious motives. Lady Arabella cheerfully accompanied him, and they arrived at Salem, Mass., in April, 1630. Her exalted character and gentleness gained her universal esteem, but she died in the September following her arrival. Mr. Johnson survived her little more than a month. He is regarded as the founder of Boston, and though his time was brief, yet the good work he accomplished will never be forgotten by the people of New England. But dearer still is the memory of Lady Arabella.—Chicago Journal

The program for this affair included a short talk from the mothers to the daughters by Mrs. Brewer Eddy, a toast from the daughters to the mothers by Martha Waybright, a vocal solo by Mary Wakefield, who was accompanied by her mother, a short poem read by Mrs. Percy Williams, and a short play entitled "The Two Masters." Included in the cast of this play were: Lucy Allen, Anna Horton, Sally Wright, Thelma Combs, Florence Hills, Virginia Vining, Betty Burdick and Irma Bachman. Much Care and Taste Put Into Panama Hat

Counting the number of rings of strands in the crown reveals the quality of panama hats. The more of these there are the better the grade. Color, texture and shape are important factors, too, and if any broken straws are revealed the value is decreased, says the New Haven Register. Furthermore, a good panama hat is never bleached after being woven. Those of superior grade are the original color of the little strips of leaves from a dwarf palm-tree plant that grows in Ecuador and other South and Central American countries where the natives weave the best hats. It takes three months or more to finish those of the highest quality. All the work is done by hand and only the best and longest fiber is used.

Reports that the most expensive hats are woven only by candle light or under water are said to be erroneous. However, the straw is kept damp and at night the unfinished hats are hung where they will be exposed to the dew so that they can be worked on without danger of breaking the strands the following day.

Lottery Once Harvard Aid

In interesting bit of information regarding the early history of Harvard college is derived from an edition of the Columbian Sentinel, a weekly newspaper, printed in Boston, September 14, 1796. It states that when George Washington was President of the United States Harvard college was supporting itself partly by grand lotteries, with a capital prize of $20,000. Tickets were sold for 25 cents, says the Boston Globe.

The four-page papers of that day, with advertisements confined largely to auction sales, contained much material in brief. There were no large headlines and news from Europe, brought by ship, was often many months old. The issue of September 14, 1796, as an example, carried a news item stating that "on the 25th of June (the latest date) General Bonaparte was at Bologna."

Thieves Cart Away House

The daring and the ingenuity of modern thieves occasion frequent surprises for the police of various cities. Articles picked up and carted away range from things whose apparent value to any other than the rightful owner would seem nil, to things so huge that it would appear almost impossible to conceal them. A complaint recently filed with the Paris police by a Mme. Cabert said that her whole house had been stolen, says the New York Times. Mme. Cabert stated that she had built a house of wood in the Rue de la Calpatriere. She was called away to visit a dying aunt and when she returned the house had disappeared.

Not Guilty

Child naivete is always delicious. Take, for example, the little girl who forgot that her mother had said she did not wish to be disturbed during siesta hour.

The child forgot and went and tapped on the door, only to be sharply reminded when her mother woke up and demanded to know who was knocking.

"It was me, mother," cried the little one quickly, "but it ain't now."

Charming Thought

It was after dinner and the talk had turned to psychology. This disturbing question had just been put: "When does old age really begin?" To establish a formula was proving rather difficult, when one lady, who did not look her years, found the following:

"To me, old age is always fifteen years older than I am."—Cyrano, Paris.

Like All the Rest

"The very thought of marriage alarms me. Fancy having a husband about the place day in day out."
"Don't you worry, dear. If you marry Jack it will soon be day in, night out, with him."—London Mail.

Resin and Turpentine Put to Various Uses

Resin and turpentine have been produced on this continent since 1662. These commodities were gathered and exported by the early colonists. While they were originally used for caulking wooden vessels and protecting rope rigging, thus gaining their name of "naval stores," chemistry has developed many uses for resin and turpentine, making them indispensable in a large number of important industries, says the Montreal Star.

Soap manufacture leads in consumption of resin, with surfacing of writing and printing paper ranking second. Resin is also extensively used in the manufacture of varnishes, waterproofing compounds, roofing materials, leather dressings, lubricants, waxes, linoleum and electric insulation. Turpentine is an important industrial factor as a thinner for paint, solvent for lanks, waxes, rubber and waterproofing compounds, as well as in chemical and pharmaceutical combinations.

Sea Cucumber a Fish

The sea cucumber is really a living creature and not a vegetable. Its other names are the trepang or holothurian. The body of this strange dweller in the sea is composed of a muscular tissue covered with warts or spines, and which generally resemble in shape their vegetable namesake, says the Boston Globe.

Sea cucumber is considered a great luxury among the Chinese, Malays and other Eastern peoples, and its gathering and preparation for the market is a flourishing industry among the islands of the Pacific. White men who have eaten sea-cucumber soup declare it to be delicious. The trepangs, which grow from ten to fifteen inches long, are gathered from coral reefs. They are then boiled, dried in the sun and hung over a fire, which gives them a smoky taste.

Couldn't Be Fooled

When Bobbie was six he was given a real watch, which, regardless of quality or accuracy, had a delightfully loud tick. Naturally, the little fellow was inordinately proud and would stroll up and down Wilshire boulevard, stopping every moment or two to draw the timepiece from his pocket and regard it gravely.

Every passerby got a real kick out of Bobbie's performance, but the climax came when Betty Compson tripped along and asked the little chap what time it was.

Bobbie regarded his watch perplexedly for a moment and then replied, with dignity: "Two inches to four."—Los Angeles Times.

Himalayan Horsechestnut

The original horsechestnut? Aesculus Hippocastanum, is the handsomest of the whole genus and one of the most beautiful trees in the world, says a bulletin of the Arnold Arboretum. It was brought to America at least 100 years ago and there are many noble specimens in cities and towns of the eastern states. The Himalayan horsechestnut and the species of central China are not hardy here, and the Arboretum has not succeeded in obtaining seeds of the north China species, Aesculus chinensis, which will probably flourish in this latitude.

Crab Found in Book

In the matter of odd bookmarks between the pages of a returned volume, one librarian claimed the blue ribbon by citing a slice of raw bacon which one of his assistants had salvaged from a copy of Mr. Service's poems.

But his claim was instantly given second place when the chief of a famous library in a great manufacturing city countered with a soft-shell crab which turned up between the leaves of a book on engineering.—The Outlook.

EMMA D. COOLIDGE, Editor

Newton Federation

The final Board Meeting of the season for the Newton Federation was held on Monday Morning, the 18th at the Newton Club House, Newtonville, with the new President, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., presiding. The Treasurer's report showed a gratifying receipt of funds and the report of sale of surplus of food at the Annual Luncheon was a model of economy and efficiency, safeguarding the funds of our organization with admirable thrift. Notice was given of the meeting of the Newton Central Council next Thursday, at 4.15 P.M., 12 Austin street, Newtonville, when a "full and democratic" discussion of plans for the coming year is to be engaged in, especially as to the contract with the Secretary, Mr. Dunham, whose contracted services end May 31st. The attendance of all who should attend is desired, as "the life of the council is at stake," and every encouragement and aid should be brought at this time. Two delegates were appointed by the Board—Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, and Mrs. William A. Bedford—but others who may have been approached by the Council to attend were urged to do so.

The Board confirmed the appointment and reappointment of the following Chairmen of Standing Committees: Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Civics; Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Conservation; Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, Education; Mrs. A. D. Salinger, Finance; Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Legislative; Mrs. Walter B. Godsoe, Program; Mrs. William A. Bedford, Public Health; Miss Elizabeth Bartlett, Social; Mrs. Howard O. Winslow, Health Christmas Seal; Mrs. Charles H. Cobb, Her Assistant; and Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Federation Secretary and Press Chairman.

The President spoke of the splendid entertainment given on Annual Meeting Day by Mr. Capron and by the members of the Cantabrigia Club, who kindly gave "The Minuet," and it was thereupon voted to have the Corresponding Secretary write notes of thanks and appreciation to those who had made our program so enjoyable that afternoon.

Mrs. Spear then expressed her own appreciation of the confidence of the Federation in having called her to serve as their highest officer. Having come from a presidency, she stated that because she had enjoyed one club she knew that she was going to enjoy working with the many of the Federation, as all were "fine ones." She brought out forcibly the growth of Newton, and the prophecy as to its continued, and increasingly rapid growth, and the duty of clubwomen toward these strangers in our midst—to bring them into our clubs, and our social and civic life, so awakening them to a love for Newton because we helped to make Newton happy as an abiding place for them. Her words of wisdom that in making everyone happy in one place we aided in making everyone happy everywhere were a truism that show us our responsibility toward the world and which we often lose sight of, or do not realize in how far a good deed in one tiny spot may spread its influence. Mrs. Spear's "address" though brief and of unstudied grace, held a world of wisdom.

Mrs. Winslow brought to the attention of the Board certain features of the contract system as to State Health seals.

Mrs. Goodridge made a plea for co-operation of departments of the Federation Committees and individual club members all of whom are interested in the Art and Education Committees in particular being of aid in the development of home and outdoor beauty. Mrs. Goodridge voiced the peril of "red literature" in our midst, for the reading by young people whose impressionable minds seize upon it for its excitement, to a degree unrealized by their elders, and showed how the encouragement for love of the outdoors, with the trees, flowers, and birds, could counteract this other false appeal. Love of nature was but the first step toward patriotism, or love of country, and accordingly well worth the instilling not only by the Conservation Committee but by all others in our Federation.

The President, in this connection, suggested that Mrs. Goodridge, and in fact all Chairmen who find that some one federated club has no committee touch to the Federation one, get in touch with the club President, and ask for some representative to be sent to all committee meetings to report back important work and messages.

Mrs. Bedford, ever mindful of her own keen interest in public health, immediately expressed her pleasure in this suggestion, adding that it was her hope to see every individual club having Public Health Chairmen, and Public Health Programs. She hoped to see riding groups, tennis players, co-operative playground frequenters take the place of moving picture and dance patrons, or automobile parties. As the housing conditions become more complicated so we need more playground facilities, she declared. She wished to see hikes and rambles take the place of bridge parties, and with such activities would come the low heeled shoe, sensible clothing, and when some discovered they could not walk as far or as fast as others, the yearly examination by doctors to find out why. We think that could the physicians have heard this latter advertising for their skill they would express their pleasure to Mrs. Bedford. She called attention to the lack of health law in Newton by which uncovered food may be sold, and this sanitary safeguard is certainly a wise suggestion of our Health Chairman.

It would be co-operative on the part of all clubwomen if they would refuse to purchase such uncovered foods, or as crackers and cookies left in open sections of counters. Mrs. Bedford ended by asking for one of the three meetings of the Federation to be a Health Day.

Mrs. Winslow asked that the various clubs consider in their Board meetings executive women to act in each section of the city in the Health Seal work, this work to be done by mail. The Legislative and Press Chairman asked the various Presidents to send to her as soon as appointed the names and addresses of these two Committee Chairmen for their clubs, so that she might plan her work with them for the next year. She also asked for the courtesy of Club Year Books as soon as printed. The value of discussion of the two measures in which the Federation is interested, as to safeguarding the destruction of trees by the cutting of tops for Christmas trees—alas, usually done by thieves—and the procuring of good moving pictures by aiding the managers in their desire to be freed from having to sign contracts by which they must take undesirable pictures in order to get the good ones, was repeated by her, and the value of arousing public understanding of these two efforts, with the result that Legislature may be persuaded at act.

Discussion of the new work of the department of the American Home, and the desire of the Federation to aid in this work brought out the mention that this Committee be added as a Special Committee for one year, to demonstrate its value and necessity. As the bylaws require written notice to all Board Members of any change in their articles it was impossible to add this as a permanent standing committee at this time, but a Special Committee may be so appointed by the Board, without due notice.

Mrs. Ralph Henry quickly suggested that one feature for this new department be sent as delegates to under take was in regard to the oft-mentioned "Better Homes Demonstration" for Newton, which demonstration has as yet never materialized, for lack of some central authority being the proper one to carry it through. It was moved that the Corresponding Secretary find out from Presidents the names and addresses of all Chairmen who could be sent as delegates to form this new committee personnel, such as Art, Literature, Drama, Home Economics, etc., but this motion was lost, and it was voted to leave the appointment of such personnel to the President and to the Chairman of this new Committee, when she is appointed. The meeting adjourned at about 12 o'clock.

Mothers' Rest Association

There is certainly no more attractive way to spend a June Day—that rarest of days of all the year—than in a great outdoor affair. And there is no more delightful deed of kindness than the aid of a good cause. Consequently when the doing of such a good deed and the enjoyment of such an outdoor festivity are one and the same thing, there is no happier alliance!

June 4th is the date for AN OPEN AIR FETE, to be held on the estates of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Stimpson and Mr. and Mrs. Louis K. Liggett, at 186 and 185 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill.

The CHIEF EVENT for the CHILDREN is to be the SURPRISE entertainment of BIG BROTHER, between two and three o'clock. Then there will be ponies, and hurdy-gurdies, and games, and balloons, and candy, and ice cream cones—could there be more to delight the heart of a child, and to furnish a wonderful afternoon?

If you are GROWN-UP there will be Concerts, and Teas, and Bridge Parties, and Suppers, and Household Article Tables, and Home-Made Goodies, and enchanting FLOWERS, and Dancing, and—what will draw us all—the White Elephant Table—on which will be found the things someone does not want, but the thing you have been wishing for and hunting for—possibly in vain! Any such articles you wish to dispose of send to Mrs. George A. Remick, at 15 Rice street, Newton Centre.

As for tickets to all the entertaining and interesting events, they may be obtained in all manner of combinations of special prices from Mrs. Dana Follett, 25 Ballard street, Newton Centre.

For the convenience and pleasure of those who wish to go, it has been arranged to have automobiles at the Club House, Newton Centre, at 2, 3, 4, and 5 o'clock to take people to the Fete. If it should prove stormy on June 4th, the outdoor features will be postponed until Friday, the 5th, but the Dance and Concert will take place as planned on the 4th.

A complete account of the meeting at Swampscott for the three days, May 20-21-22, will be given in this column next week, the 29th.

Odd Beliefs of Zulus

Recorded by Traveler

They believe that the earth, moon, sun, stars and indeed everything was created by a Supreme being called "Mvelingqangi," i. e., "The First Appearer," though there seems to be no idea as to within what period all these things were made.

There is a tradition to the effect that all people originally came from a single pair, and this pair sprang from a bed of reeds; but where such a bed is to be found, tradition does not say. At the same time, if pressed, a Zulu would probably locate it somewhere in the North, seeing a deep-rooted tradition of their having descended from that direction is widely prevalent, not among them, but other allied peoples like the Basutos, Xosas, Swazis and Tantas. A certain fairly well-defined section declares that its ancestors "rolled down from the North in a large basket (isilulu)."

In my opinion the Zulu race today is the finest colored race in the world. There is hardly a man under six feet tall. They are good subjects to their chief and are a clean-living, law-abiding race. They have given no trouble to the Natal government since the bambata war of 1908. I have lived among them, so I know.—Adventure Magazine.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Normbega District Sunday School Association Holds Song Service at Eliot Church

The Music Festival of the Normbega District S. S. Association took place last Sunday afternoon at the Eliot Church, proving successful in its efforts to bring about a better understanding of the various nations. Delegations from about 30 Sunday Schools in the District participated with banners and flags. Over a hundred of these were in vestments, some black and white, some red and white, making an effective showing both in the outdoor procession and in the choir loft of the church.

The program of hymns was intended as educational as well as entertaining. The international character of these hymns was an interesting feature. The hymns were written in different periods of church history and by men of various nations; one a Greek who lived in Africa, one a "John of Damascus," one by a French Bishop, one by a German and one by a Silesian Folk song, one by a great German who was the leader of the Protestant Reformation, one by an Englishman, and the last of the hymns on the program by an American.

Four of the hymns, while being sung by the congregation, were accompanied by processions of children carrying appropriate symbols. Lighted candles were carried by children of the Newton Centre Baptist Church school, to represent the light of hope and immortality suggested by the hymn "The Day of Resurrection." Hymns were carried by members of the Newtonville Methodist Church school for the Palm Sunday hymn, "All glory, laud and honor." Boys from the Newton Highlands Episcopal and the Eliot Church Schools carried usader banners and Sir Galahad shields, to recall the days of the Crusades, during the singing of the hymn "Ain't Lord Jesus." The eighteenth century hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign," brought the missionary emphasis and the beginning of modern missions.

children of the Newton Baptist and Newton Methodist Churches took part in a procession for this hymn, carrying many colored flags of all nations.

Thanks are due many church school leaders for their cooperation, especially to those who supplied children for the processions:—Miss Priscilla H. Fowle, Mr. A. A. Cole, Miss Grace Wright, Miss Alice M. Nelson, Mrs. Edith M. Naylor and Mrs. C. W. Smith.

BOSTON & WORCESTER TO RUN BUSES

In the Supreme Court on Tuesday, Judge Wait authorized Franklin Miller, receiver of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway to run a bus line from Boston to Worcester. The towns and cities through which the road can operate its buses will permit it to operate on the state highway through Waltham, Weston, Wayland, Sudbury and Northboro as well as along the route now followed by its electric cars. This road like other electric roads has been hard hit by independent bus competition and the new concession is to afford it some measure of relief.

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club, at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday noon, offered an especially interesting program to its members, with an address by Rev. Adolph Rossbach, minister of the Waltham Unitarian Church. This was, in many ways, one of the most interesting enjoyed by the local Rotarians for an extended period. The speaker discussed fundamental truths applying to brotherhood and fellowship in a way that gave his hearers an entirely new "slant" on these questions. The talk was of a type that will cause the average man to pause in his busy routine and analyze his own personality and habits rather than those of the other fellow, the speaker and his message making a deep impression upon his hearers. Mr. Rossbach was introduced by Rotarian Fred Basley of the local club, to whom his fellow Rotarians are indebted for the privilege of enjoying so excellent an address.

MISS NEWTON NIGHT

"Miss Newton" night will be held by the Newton Lodge of Elks, 1327, at the Elks Home on Centre street, Newton, on June 8th. The contest will be open to all ladies in the Newtons. "Miss Newton" will be selected on this evening by Newton Lodge to represent the Lodge in the "Miss Massachusetts" beauty contest to be held at the State convention of the Massachusetts Elks Association. The finals will be held June 15th on the board walk of the New Ocean House, Swampscott.

On Monday night, June 8th, the Newton lodge will also have a whist party and several prizes have been offered.

A. L. SMOKER

Newton Post, A. L., will hold a smoker at Elks' Hall, Centre street, this evening, with an interesting program. The Legion smokers have become well known, and this will probably be the last of the season. The card will contain three fast boxing bouts, vaudeville acts including three dancing features and cabaret singers. Walter ("Shivers") Collogan, recently returned from a New York engagement in musical comedy, a well-known West Newton boy, will present his dancing act. John Pendergast is chairman of the committee, assisted by Willie Foran, Commander Frank L. Wilcox, Charles Pendergast, Thomas A. Franey and Joseph Cavanaugh.

MERCHANTS MEET

The organization meeting of the new West Newton Merchants Association, at Players Hall on Monday evening, was by far the most enthusiastic and most promising of the several mercantile group meetings held in the several villages under the auspices of the Mercantile Division of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. This resulted in an especially auspicious beginning for the new village association and in the development of a degree of enthusiasm for the coming West Newton Dollar Day which promises to make that event one of the most successful yet held in the Newtons. The snappy and appropriate talk given by the guest and speaker of the evening, Mr. J. J. Quigley, Manager of the Special Sales Department of the United Drug Company, exerted no little influence upon the enthusiasm and interest developed in the coming Dollar Day and the new West Newton Merchants' Association, by the forty or more merchants who were present. Chairman Raymond E. Williams of the Newton Corner Merchants' Association, Mercantile Secretary W. W. Redish of the Chamber, and others told of the success of the Dollar Days in the other villages.

Ira S. Roe, one of the vice-presidents of the Chamber and General Chairman of the Chamber Mercantile Division, presided during the early part of the meeting, after which it was turned over to the newly elected chairman of the West Newton Merchants' Association, George P. Brophy. Mr. Brophy directed the discussions and handled the balance of the meeting in a way that insured maximum results in the development of interest and enthusiasm, and proper consideration of the various matters brought before the meeting.

NEWTON WINS TWO

Newton High won a Suburban League victory from Medford High at Claffin Field Wednesday afternoon, 3 to 2. The local boys scored all their runs in the third inning. Although outbatted by Medford the Newton team played good ball and held Medford to three runs. McClary, the Newton pitcher, struck out seven Medford batters.

The Newton High School ball team easily defeated Everett High 8 to 2 last Saturday afternoon at Claffin Field. Pass, the Newton twirler, held the Everett boys to six hits while his teammates garnered thirteen off of two Everett pitchers. Leary, the local center fielder made four hits in four times at bat while Proctor and Holbrook each got three. Neither team scored until the fifth inning when Newton put across one run. One in the sixth, four in the seventh, and two in the eighth completed Newton's scoring. Everett put over their two runs in the first half of the sixth. McLeish and DeVenuti played well for Everett.

Low Shelley remarks that some senators would never have been heard of if it had not been for the graft investigations.

CAMP F. A. DAY

Camp Day will open the 1925 season on June 26th for an eight-week period. Quite a few improvements in the buildings and grounds have been made including the erection of a new infirmary which will take care of five boys at a time. This will be used for boys who are indisposed and also for the treatment of minor ailments, cuts, and bruises under the direction of the camp physician. This infirmary is the gift of Mrs. Frank A. Day and is the most needed of the camp improvements.

Two new war canoes have been added to the fleet and each will accommodate thirteen campers. These will help greatly in the overnight hikes and in competition between the senior and junior campers. A five-shelf baker has been added to the kitchen equipment and several other improvements have been made.

The leadership of the camp is as follows: Clyde G. Hess, Director, Dwight Lumbard, Harvard '22, Harvard Law '25, Assistant Director, John W. Strider, M. I. T. '24, Harvard Medical '26, Camp Doctor, Milton Edgar, Dartmouth '23, Divisional Senior Leader, Dwight Shepler, Williams '28, Divisional Junior Leader. NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

Votes to Continue Community and Social Welfare Work Arthur W. Dunham To Go To Philadelphia

That the Newton Central Council shall continue with its active program of promoting better community teamwork and more effective social work in Newton was unanimously decided at a meeting of the Council delegates and contributors, held at the Community Welfare Centre, Newtonville, on Thursday afternoon, May 21.

Two years ago Mr. Arthur Dunham came from Philadelphia to take the position of Executive Secretary of the Council during a two-year experimental period. The financing of the Council during this period was assured by gifts and pledges from Newton citizens who realized the need for an active federation of Newton welfare and civic organizations in seeking joint solutions of community problems.

The Council's two-year experimental period ends on May 31, 1925. After conference with Mr. Dunham, the Executive Committee of the Council have come to the conclusion that the work of the Council has now progressed so far that its program can be carried forward with a part-time instead of a full-time executive. Moreover, it is evident, from reports which have thus far been received from Newton welfare organizations, that a Community Chest will not be organized in Newton in the immediate future—certainly not this spring. Under these circumstances the services of Mr. Dunham and of Miss Peloubet, the Office Secretary of the Council, will terminate on May 31. Mr. Dunham will go from Newton to Philadelphia where he will make, during the next few weeks, a survey of a department of the Philadelphia Municipal Court, under the direction of the Philadelphia Bureau of Municipal Research.

At the Council meeting the situation was presented by Mr. George M. Angier, who presided in the absence of the President, Mr. Leon B. Rogers, who was unexpectedly called to New York. Professor Murray P. Horwood submitted a report from the Executive Committee, and after thorough discussion, the following action was taken:

1. It was unanimously determined by the meeting that, from the standpoint of the welfare and best interests of the City of Newton, it is essential that the Council shall continue to carry on a vital and aggressive program of community service.

2. It was unanimously the sense of the meeting that the financial support of the Council for the coming year shall be assumed by the member organizations, with the possible addition of individual contributors. It is expected that the budget will be about half of the budget for the past year and that this will provide for a half-time executive and the necessary clerical assistance.

The Council office will be closed during the summer. The President will, however, appoint a Special Committee which will have charge of working out the budget for the coming year and of securing a new part-time Executive Secretary.

year and of securing a new part-time Executive Secretary.

Action on Chest Plan Reported A report presented at the meeting gave the following results of the recent consideration of the Community Chest Plan by Newton welfare organizations: Yes, 7 organizations; No, 5; Uncertain, 3; No report, 2. The organizations voting "Yes" were: Boy Scouts—(Informal expressions of opinion), Newton District Nursing Association, Newton Welfare Bureau, Stearns School Centre, West Newton Community Centre, West Newton Music School, Young Women's Christian Association.

The organizations which voted "No" were as follows: Girl Scouts (Informal poll of the Council), Newton Circle, Newton Hospital. The vote was that "It is the sense of the Board . . . that the Newton Hospital should not participate in a Community Chest at this time." Rebecca Pomroy Home, Stone Institute.

Those agencies classified as "Uncertain" were: American Red Cross, Newton Chapter—The Board referred the matter to the Executive Committee of the Chapter, with power to act; Mothers' Rest—It was stated that, "The Board . . . cannot express the feeling of the organization in regard to participation in the Community Chest without knowing the opinion of each of its contributors." The President wrote also: "We can only reach their preference by questionnaire, which is an expense we do not feel justified in undertaking at present. As it seems a matter to be decided by the contributors, we suggest that the Council discover the wish of the public and let the various agencies be governed by the result." Newton Young Men's Christian Association—The vote of the Y. M. C. A. Board was—"The Directors . . . are uncertain whether it (the Y. M. C. A.) should accept affiliation with a Community Chest for various reasons, including its religious work and its affiliations with National and International Y. M. C. A. activities. For this reason they request that definite action on its part be deferred until it shall appear that other eligible agencies have accepted federated financing in sufficient amount and number to insure the establishment of a Community Chest."

No report has yet been received from the Bowen School Center or the Nonantum Boys' Club.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

A lecture under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist of Newton is announced in another column. It is to be given by Miss Margaret Murray Glenn, C. S. B. of Boston at the Community Theatre, Newton, Sunday afternoon, June 7, at 3.30 o'clock. The subject is "Man's Unity with God as revealed by Christian Science." These lectures are authoritative statements of the teachings of Christian Science, and will be of interest to those of an open mind.

DREAM COMES TRUE!

For many years we have dreamed of the time when our bank would be large enough to abolish any loss of dividends on shares withdrawn, if less than five years old.

At the Annual Meeting, May 28th, an amendment to the By-Laws was adopted which completely abolishes this loss and is one of the epoch-making events in the history of this institution. The change goes into effect June 25th, and our dream comes true.

—NO WITHDRAWAL LOSS—

We wish to call attention to this new feature believing that the public will quicker save and invest with us when they know they can withdraw their money at any time without any loss of credited dividends.

JUNE SHARES NOW ON SALE

When men learn that surplus earnings are to be kept—not spent, and invested in this safe, strong, $8,000,000 institution, they will buy our shares and many more dreams will come true.

For many, many years dividends have never been less than 5% on monthly savings, compounded quarterly.

CHURCH VACATION SCHOOL

At a recent meeting of the Newton Centre Council of Religious Education it was decided to hold a Church Vacation School in Newton Centre from July 6 to 31 inclusive.

It has been estimated that from 75 to 150 children will want to attend this school.

Every care is being taken to make this first "Church Vacation School" in Newton Centre a success. Those engaged to do the actual work will be trained, experienced people. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Haslam, graduates of Bucknell Univ., now students in The Newton Theological Institution, have been engaged. Mr. Haslam has had very satisfactory experience in Vacation School work, and Mrs. Haslam is a trained, experienced kindergarten. A third worker is yet to be selected from among a number of trained, experienced candidates.

A Committee, chosen by the Council from among its members, individuals who will be in Newton Centre during the entire period of the School, one person from each Church, will supervise the School and Staff. A report of the month's work will be made to each congregation.

The First Baptist Church has appropriated $125.00 and Trinity Episcopal Church $100.00 for the School. These sums are immediately available. The Methodist and Unitarian Churches have voted $75.00 each. The First Church will contribute $125.00.

WITHDRAWAL LOSS ABOLISHED

The Watertown Co-operative Bank, at the annual meeting of its shareholders, May 28th, reported total net assets at the close of April business $7,823,123.15, a gain of $1,500,000 during the fiscal year. Receipts and disbursements, for the period were $8,295,926.89.

The by-laws were amended to benefit members by abolishing the withdrawal loss.

The usual quarterly dividend at the annual rate of 5 1/2 per cent was declared on cumulative shares, and 5 per cent on matured and paid-up shares certificates.

This bank has been doing business since 1888, and ranks fourth in size in the state. Its growth in ten years from less than a million dollar bank, to its present size is remarkable.

During the year an arrangement has been effected with the Atlantic National Bank of Boston, whereby the Atlantic bank receives payments over its counters in various parts of Boston, for the Watertown Co-operative Bank.

In the annual report it is stated that during the fiscal year, two series of shares have matured, series 50, upon payment of dues for the period of 11 years and 9 months, matured in September, 1924, at a value of $201.37 for each share. Series 51 matured in the same length of time in March, 1925 at a value of $201.38. The total of these shares which matured amounted to $1,587,847.10. The sum of $12,861.62 has been added to the guaranty fund from the profits and $2,706.86 to the surplus account. These accounts now amount to $90,391.97.

Another noticeable feature of the report is disclosed in the table of disbursements, which shows that no money was paid out by the bank during the whole year on account of the withdrawal of Matured Shares Certificates, and the amount issued in these certificates, amounting to $509,200 was the largest of any year. The amount paid out on account of withdrawal of Paid Up Shares Certificates was necessary in order to keep the amount outstanding from exceeding the legal limit of 10 per cent of the bank's assets.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

All tournaments of the Burr Tennis Association are progressing rapidly. In the first and preliminary rounds there were 59 matches scheduled and 57 of these were played, two being defaulted for failure to play within the time limit. The second and third rounds are now being played and will be completed by the first of next week. If the present progress of the tournaments continues, the final matches will be played around the middle of June. The exact time of these matches and the names of the players will be posted at the playground and will be published in the GRAPHIC.

CHILD FOR ADOPTION

I have for many years, every now and then, placed a child for adoption in some worthy family. The results have always proved mutually satisfactory. Again I desire to get in touch with some responsible family that might desire to adopt a little girl between 2 and 3 years old, handsome, strong, well mannered, and healthy. DR. F. M. SCHOOL NOTES

High School Notes

Mildred E. MacDonald, '25, submitted the song chosen as the best from four handed in for the senior song contest. F. Elizabeth Brooks, Edward W. Center, and John Moran were the other contestants. Miss Dorothy Matthews, Edward N. Griffin, and Charles B. Harrington were the judges. Miss MacDonald was the only one who handed in both words and music. John Moran and Elizabeth Brooks did not submit words with their music and Edward Center's words were incomplete, though the judges thought his music deserved considerable praise.

During her freshman and sophomore years Miss MacDonald won the prize-speaking contest. She was president of Alpha Beta in her second year. She was vice-president of the English Club during her junior year and this year she is president of that organization. Miss MacDonald, who is a member of the Spanish, French, and Glee Clubs, appeared in the senior play, "Twelfth Night," and also in the English Club play in 1923. This year she is a member of the Newtonian feature staff.

When she is graduated from Newton High School, Miss MacDonald intends to enter Miss Wheelock's Kindergarten School and study music at the New England Conservatory. This is her first attempt at composing music.

Marjorie Scott, '22, coached the dramatics at the Mt. Holyoke May Day exercises May 16 and Ruth Barry, '24; Harriette Percy, '23; Helen M. Clark, '23; Louise C. Baldwin, '24; Katherine Rand, '23; and Katharine Scott, '24, took part in the pageant as dancers.

Marjorie Scott was in the English and Glee Clubs during 1920, '21 and '22, in the Debating Club in '19 and '20 and on the senior play poster committee. Miss Rand and Miss Clark were prominent in athletics.

Dallas Lore Sharp, professor of English at Boston University, and a famous lecturer and author, will be the speaker at graduation in the Community Theatre on June 12 at 2:30. His subject will be "The Magical Chance." Professor Sharp has written magazine stories and books and has lectured extensively in the United States.

The first Annual Out-of-Door Concert will be given on the grounds of the Classical High School at 8:30 on the evening of June 5th. In case of a storm the concert will take place the following evening.

F. A. Day Junior High School

A very impressive memorial program was given during assembly hour under the direction of Miss Manning. Mr. Carr spoke first of this custom observed annually in memory of those who have served their country and then presented Mr. Stoddard and Mr. Wilcox, representing the Grand Army of the Republic and the World War veterans respectively. Warren Berry then presided during the interesting program in which the following took part: There is no Death—members of the girls' chorus; The Fatherland, Jane Rallsback; What Constitutes a State, Lester Potter; What is America, Joan Welch; A Song for America, Louise Kimball; Memorial Day—Phyllis Gammons, Patty Wright, Mary Pflieger.

The girls of H.E. entertain at luncheon Wednesday, Mr. Carr, Mrs. Carr, Mr. Holleran, Mrs. Holleran, Mr. and Mrs. Bushway. The luncheon was very attractively served with yellow and white for decorations. The host and hostess were Kathleen Moran and Alice James respectively.

The entertainment given last Thursday evening was a financial as well as artistic success, so well was it patronized by the pupils and their friends.

The girls' field meet will be held June second. The girls are playing the finals preparatory to the event. The French club is planning an informal French program for Wednesday, June third, after school session at two o'clock.

Mason School

A lengthy, interesting discussion on "Rubber, its Source of Supply, Preparation," was given recently to members of the sixth grade, who had as guests the seventh and eighth grades. Mr. Geo. Heathcote accompanied his remarks with some fine slides.

On a recent Saturday, the Mason Captain ball team met the Highlands girls, who won the game 2-0. The Mason ball team has finished its four league games with a record of two wins and two losses.

Memorial Day exercises are being held in the Mason Hall today.

A recital by the pupils of Miss Anna Eichhorn, violin teacher, will be given Friday evening at Bragdon Hall at 7:45.

On Saturday evening, May 30, at eight o'clock the Lasell Glee Club will give their concert at the Auburndale Club House, under the direction of the leader, Miss Martha Fish of Canton, Mass. The proceeds are for the Lasell Endowment Fund, and tickets may be obtained at the door.

Dr. Henry H. Crane of Malden will speak to the girls on Sunday afternoon, May 31, at 3:30. This service will take the place of the usual evening Vespers.

BOY SCOUTS

A fairly good representation of the different troops in Newton was at the Camp Day exercises Saturday at Council Rock, in the Ohio. Many more were expected and the provisions were in excess of the requirements, even "seconds" not using up all of the doughnuts and buns which were provided by the Council and served very nicely by a patrol from troop 4 of Newton Highlands under the charge of Mr. F. E. Lichtenhaeler, scoutmaster. At five o'clock all gathered at Council Rock and were addressed by Deputy Commissioner Stone, and Mr. J. C. Irwin, member of the Executive Committee and Honorary Commissioner. Those who were kept from going from fear of the wetting, which by the way was not greatly in evidence, missed an inspiring afternoon.

Delegations from the different troops will march in the Memorial Day parade, forming on Richardson street, Newton, at 1:15 P. M. Deputy Commissioner Stone, assisted by Asst. D. C. Brown and Woodbridge, will be in charge of the Boy Scout Division.

Court of Honor at the Headquarters of troop 8, Playground House, Newton Centre at 7:30 P. M. Thursday, June 4th. Applications must be at Headquarters not later than May 31st for scouts to be examined at this Court of Honor.

At the meeting of Junior Girl Reserves held last Tuesday, Beulah Angell was elected president and Helen Harrington was elected secretary for the coming year. The business meeting was followed by a supper and games in the gymnasium. There will be no more business meetings this season, but hikes, picnics and other out-door activities will be held on each Tuesday afternoon for girls of Junior High School age.

The High School Girl Reserves will have a hike and outdoor supper on Friday, May 29th. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at this meeting.

At the next meeting of the Blue Triangle Club, proposed changes in the Constitution and By-laws of the club will be discussed and voted upon. The meeting on June 8th will be held out of doors if the weather permits, and supper will be cooked over an open fire, while races and games will follow.

The gymnastic classes finished with a great flourish last Tuesday evening, when a farewell party was tendered to Miss Peirce. Speeches of appreciation and presentation were made by Miss Alice Dorr and Miss Edith Boyd. Those present were—Miss Elsie Bennett, instructor; Miss Inez Cormack, pianist; Misses Alice Dorr, Edith Boyd, Evelyn Crossman, Marcelle Stevens, Annie Fraser, Alice Stahl, Martha Boothby, Dorothy Seaward, Jessie Lovely, Anna Stahl, Edith Hamilton, Bertha Raynes and Miss Martin.

Although the regular lessons have ceased, there will be gatherings of members of the gym class each Tuesday evening for hikes and games.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH FAIR

Thursday afternoon and evening, June 4th, a fair will be held in the parish house of St. John's Church. Members of Mr. Parker's and Mr. Birge's classes will compete in a cake selling contest, each class to solicit and sell as many cakes as possible. Their efforts will be matched by members of Miss Emelyn Scoville's class. Miss Saunders' and Miss Holt's classes will compete in the same way against Mr. S. F. Jones' class with candy as their medium. Miss Farnum's class will have charge of the ice cream.

For attractions Mr. John C. Jones Jr.'s class will have a most interesting Weird Musee, Miss Mitchell's class a fishing pond, Miss Quinby's class a fortune telling tent and Mrs. Steitz a ball rolling contest. The members of Miss Merrill's and Miss Schipper's class are asked to donate Cake and Candy and help where possible with the other classes.

In the evening the members of Mrs. John C. Jones, Jr.'s, Miss Estelle G. Marsh's and Mr. Caswell's classes will serve a supper.

D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. of Newton, and their guests made a pilgrimage to the Wayside Inn on Monday, gathering there in the old hall room. The Regent, Mrs. Eaton, called the meeting to order and spoke of the coming dedication in June of the new dormitory of the International College at Springfield, and hoped as many of us as possible would be present. The Chapter's quota toward this splendid work is $960.

The Regent then called upon Mrs. Howe to read a chapter on the Wayside Inn from Old New England Taverns by Mary Crawford. One could easily imagine the stage coach dashing up to the door and the hum and bustle of so exciting an event.

After the reading tea was served in the dining room to the music of crackling logs in the large fireplace. Fifty nine partook of the good things set before them.

Next in order was inspection of the Inn which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. It was a most successful outing.

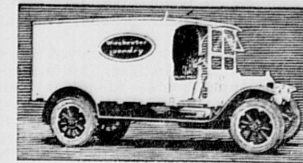

ST. MARY'S BAZAAR

St. Mary's Parish Aid Society, Newton Lower Falls, cordially invites the public generally to patronize the Bazaar to be held at the Parish House on Concord street from 2 to 10 o'clock on next Wednesday, June 3rd. Especial preparations have been made for the display and sale of a large stock of children's summer clothing for children 4 to 12 and many fine aprons will also be on sale with a variety of miscellaneous and useful articles at very reasonable prices. Cooked food, confectionery and teas can be purchased.

The excellent supper to be served at 6:30 P. M. will consist of chicken and potato salads, chicken and ham sandwiches, baked ham, frankfurters and rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee.

Why do we recommend Barrett Shingles?

Because we've seen 'em outlast other makes time and again—because they always give complete satisfaction. These sturdy shingles are lastingly weather-tight—never rot or rust.

Low in first cost, they're free from upkeep expense—no patching, no painting. That makes them easily the lowest in cost per-year-of-service. Then again, Barrett Shingles are fire-safe—give full protection against the menace of flying sparks and embers.

Barrett ROOFINGS

And you'll be pleased with the beauty of Barrett Shingles. Their weather-surface is everlasting slate in natural fadeless colors—red, green and blue-black.

We've a full line of Barrett Roofings—a style for every type of building. Come in. We'll be glad to talk over your roofing problem with you.

Take a look at your watch. Watch it as it ticks off approximately 70 seconds. During that time one person was injured in an automobile accident, seventy seconds more, another injury.

Every thirty minutes a person is killed.

This is according to figures compiled by the accident insurance companies.

The most important thing—cross streets cautiously.

The next—Drive carefully.

Saw a driver in a terrible hurry the other night—must have been a sick call he was answering. He stopped in the middle of the block and calmly reposed on the counter of a soda fountain after having rushed past all the vehicles on the street, endangering his own life and the lives of many others.

The question is, will our real estate agents eventually become automobile salesmen, and advertise, "Why own a home? Live in a car—sleep in a tent—get next to nature."

The chances are, that if you were in somebody else's shoes, they would hurt.

CAMPER AND AUTO-CAMPER

Comparatively few people fail to get a bit of a thrill at the thought of some hours or days or weeks, as the case may be, spent in the open, eating, drinking and sleeping without the restrictions of formality that seem naturally to go with life spent within four walls. Of the many excellent books telling how, when and where to satisfy this inherent longing with the greatest comfort and ease, the following are among the latest and best:

Handbook of Summer Camps, by Porter Sargent—VDA-582—Ref. Trail Craft: an aid in getting the greatest good out of vacation trips, by C. P. Fordyce—VD-F75

Camping and Woodcraft, by Horace Kephart—Tells of all types of tents and kinds of camp equipment and camp cooking, path-finding, shelters, knots, lashing, etc.—VDA-K44c

Camp Craft, by Warren H. Miller—How to get the benefits of camping and to avoid discomforts and dangers—VDA-M61

Book of Woodcraft, by Ernest Thompson Seton (nature study, hunting, camping, and Indian craft)—JVD-S48

Camp Grub, by Elton Jessup (camping with food as good and palatable as at home)—VDA-J49c

Camp Cookery, by Horace Kephart (Selection of provisions and utensils, preparation of game, and the cooking of all sorts of dishes)—RV-K44

Roughing it Smoothly, by Elton Jessup (How to avoid vacation pitfalls)—VDA-J49r

Vacation on the Trail, by Eugene Davent; personal experiences in the higher mountain trails, with complete directions for outfitting for inexpensive expeditions—VIM-D27v

Motor Camping, by F. E. Brimmer (Various types of equipment for camping with a motor car)—VDA-B77m

Auto Camping, by Frank E. Brimmer (How and where to camp with, by, from or in an auto. Full details of equipment, also of packing, camp hygiene, outdoor photography, etc.)—VDA-B77a

The Motor Camping Book, by Elton H. Jessup (A practical working knowledge of the new and enormously popular recreation of camping out along the way; plain, definite information, with illustrations)—VDA-J49

"Sure as Shootin'"

Some things are as sure as "death and taxes."

You have certain fixed expenses—insurance premiums, taxes, interest on mortgages or notes, fuel—they come without fail every year.

Each time they come with a jolt—a big payment that takes almost every cent of that month's income—nothing to spare.

Why not set aside a fixed amount every week or every month to meet those fixed expenses? Add a little for permanent savings. Then when the insurance premiums or taxes come due, merely withdraw the desired amount from your account without feeling the old pinch.

Try it. It works.

Open your "Fixed Expense Account" here. Interest 4½% since 1917.

A married man never has to go away from home to hunt trouble. The person who starts all remarks with "say, listen," usually says nothing that is worth listening to. The reason women don't knit nowadays is because it is so hard to knit and smoke a cigarette at the same time.

Is Your Home Investment

Fully Protected?

Most neighborhoods run down because they are not protected by wise restrictions which prevent apartment houses, two family houses, or houses that are out of harmony with the neighborhood, from being built.

But in Oak Hill Village, Boston's newest and most attractive suburb, in Newton Center, adjoining Chestnut Hill—wise restrictions prevent undesirable building and protect and increase the value of your home investment.

The Village is right opposite the Charles River Country Club, with its tennis courts and one of the best 18-hole golf courses about Boston. It is only 7 miles from the State House, in a most beautiful section of the countryside, where you and your family can enjoy life to the utmost.

Write for a finely illustrated booklet—then go out and see the Village.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation

Once more, that most inspiring of gatherings, the Annual Meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, when close to two thousand representative women from all corners of our State made anticipatory pilgrimage to a common meeting ground! For some hours before the formal opening of the convention the hotel corridors and foyer were thronged with eager arrivals, and welcoming calls were heard on all sides, as old friends were greeted joyously. There is probably no happier time in all the three days than this first enthusiasm of the gathering throng. Confusion of bell boys, taxis, luggage, and registering, seems to arouse an exhilaration of anticipation, and there is nothing quite like it in even the happy occasions which follow.

This year, at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, there still lingered in the foyer and corridors on Wednesday at noon bands of outgoing travellers—and little groups, both men and women, with many younger daughters among them, and in some instances groups of just men, quietly talking—stood about, awaiting the moment of departure from their own annual gathering, and these Sons of the American Revolution, trying to appear so casual in their lingering, were quite apparently loath to depart when such another group of—let us admit it boldly—fine-looking women were appearing upon the scene. Their pleasurable gathering was over, and there was the reluctance to let their holiday slip into the past, perhaps, leaving only happy memories of reunions with old and dear friends, but there was something else in that hesitancy to depart, hard as they tried to hide it—a curiosity, admiring, of course, of these incomers that were to take their places in an interesting convention.

Your editor is justified in using the qualifying adjective "fine-looking," as one Boston paper, speaking of our meeting declared that we refuted the generation-old theory that clubwomen were frumps—that there wasn't one in the aggregation—that in place of the once-accused dowdy gowns, shirt waists, flat heels, and knob-like hair arrangements, there were afternoon and evening gowns of perfect line and becomingness, dainty shoes and pretty curls and combs, yet there was no evidence that the business part of the affair lost thereby.

Promptly at 2.30 in the great garage, decked tastefully (and correctly) let us proudly add) with bunting, on that afternoon of the 20th, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith brought down her gavel, calling to order about a thousand women, in this the thirty-third annual convention of our State organization. The great entrance door was open, and through other smaller doors and the many glass windows there could be seen the stretches of lovely green country, and there could be heard the chirping and singing of birds, and there could be felt the warm breath of summer breezes with the shrill and flowery, and keen with the tang of the sea, not far away.

On the platform were many of the Executive Board, and this platform was made attractive with many flowers, the great dark blue bowl filled with large pink carnations that stood on the table beside the President being especially effective and attractive.

There is a thrill in this first call to order of our President, and through her opening address, and the singing of the hymn, and the reading of many voices ring out earnestly, and through the repetition of the Ritual, which is the keynote of the seriousness of our gathering, one feels the sting of tears in a quick emotion, when silent pledges for our cause leap to our minds and hearts.

Minutes of the Midwinter meeting, read by the Clerk, Mrs. Ernest Griffin, brought out the significant fact that over 900 women—mostly officers—attended the meeting at Park Street Church in honor of the National President, Mrs. Sherman, and that 1,543 attended Legislative Day at Malden, proof certainly of the interest of clubwomen in our activities.

Mrs. A. R. Shephardson, our quiet little Corresponding Secretary, unassumingly read off the statistics of her year's work, and the mention of the thousands of postal cards addressed, and letters written, and the sudden mention of seventeen thousand letter sheets and envelopes used, was appalling—yet because of Mrs. Shephardson's lack of insistence upon this being recognized, few realized how colossal has been her task. She amused us all by telling of all sorts of appeals that have come to her, from advertising of "celluloid buttons and hair nets to 'peppy' entertainers who guaranteed to startle the natives—all of which were 'filed' in the secretarial waste basket! She ended by declaring that writers to her could bring joy to her heart if they enclosed a stamped and addressed envelope—certainly a simple and inexpensive way to rejoice the heart of our invaluable secretary! May club officials take notice and let her heart be continuously rejoiced the coming year!

Mrs. Frederick S. Davis, the Treasurer, plaintively asked if she had to read her entire report, or if it would do to state the total on hand, and delegates gasped at the idea of such an ordeal—for the report consisted of three large pages of closely tabulated matter. Whereupon, laughter was aroused when the President asked if having the report in our hands was not enough, and how many had the report, for it developed that through some misunderstanding they had not been distributed, except to a few! They were distributed and Mrs. Davis—and the delegates—were spared.

An opportunity to indulge in community singing—a pastime that has become quite a heralded feature of our meetings, as "they" say we sing very well indeed—was now given to us, and our "peppy" Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow, whose fame as a leader is traversing the State, mounted the platform, stentoriously bidding us "sing," and put our hearts in it—and the unexpected happened—to her applause and applause and applause from her fond associates, who had not seen her before our gathering for so many months. It was a right royal welcome we gave her, and should have pleased her, for it proved she has made good in her role as singing director!

Miss Lillian Sawyer, meanwhile, standing so straight that her slender form bent backwards, helped to lead us with the trumpet, and this innovation added much to the accompaniment.

Mrs. Good, former President of the Brightmestone Club, was granted a few minutes to bring to us an appeal to support the Girls City Club in sustaining memberships. There are now about a million girls in their junior class throughout the country, and our aid and encouragement should start them on the road to this federal service, for the girl of today is the clubwoman of tomorrow, and must be the one to carry forward our great enterprise.

Mrs. Howard A. Specht, reporting on Federation Pins, reminded us that any clubwoman may wear this emblem, not just the officers, and reminded us also that there is no happier gift for a retiring club president than one of these gold pins—which are inexpensive—but which may be worn forever with pleasure, and realization of being one of this great group.

Mrs. Samuel F. Smith, Chairman of Meeting, whose good work makes for our comfort and ease, gave us as her motto the excellent aspiration: "The way to be happy is to make others so." We can well imagine that should one in charge of meetings fail in this, and by inefficiency cause confusion and mixup that her own lot would be a sadly unhappy one! But Mrs. Smith, and her corps of efficient helpers can rest in happiness. Our own Mrs. Herbert Child is one of her most valuable corps, and we who know her realize that Mrs. Smith is to be congratulated in having Mrs. Child on her committee.

Mrs. Joseph S. Leach, Chairman of Headquarters, and First Vice-President, was given a rousing welcome by her many admirers when she stepped forward to give her support. Many have regretted that she has decided to retire from club work, so leaving the line for the Presidency. She told of the great growth in our headquarters since taking the rooms in Hotel Kensington, and of the handsome gifts of furniture, including tables, mirrors, candlesticks, etc., from warm friends of the club. Our own former President of the Newton Federation, Mrs. Ernest Cobb, has generously given her "Arlo" books for their library. Mrs. Leach stated. Visitors come from many other States, and information on file here is invaluable to them and to our own women—such as the experiences of clubs in building their own clubhouses, and the file of speakers and entertainers that have proven interesting and successful. A scrap book of club activities also is worth looking over. While the headquarters do not care to become an agency for programs they can give much aid in securing good speakers. Besides many visitors with genuine purpose, Mrs. Leach told of those who come from purely selfish motives, hoping for the aid or influence of the Federation—lecturers, entertainers, and others—even of a man who naively asked the Federation, nay, demanded, that it save him from being given a term in prison, although he had already served one such imprisonment.

Our new department of International Relations, of which Mrs. A. A. Packard is Chairman, stressed the need of becoming informed upon international questions, the abandonment of our method of passing peace resolutions in an endeavor to become so informed upon the subject that we can state our cause convincingly, where it will do the most good. An ignorant democracy means war, while an informed democracy means peace, was an utterance that could not be more arresting to thought.

Mrs. Harry A. Burnham, Home Economics Chairman, of whom we in Newton are very proud, plead for gardens—human gardens, where washing might be viewed and hung out, a bit of water and a bit of sky MUST be seen therein, and CHILDREN! Homemaking is more than housekeeping, was a watchword that those who ignorantly cry down women's clubs or any activity that takes women from their homes—to learn of bigger and better and broader ways to be of benefit in the world and in the development of children—would do well to ponder its meaning and let understanding take (Continued on page 9)

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

Tomorrow the Nation pauses to pay tribute to the memory of its soldier dead. We, in Newton, will have our own exercises, similar in character to those held at approximately the same time in nearly every other city and town in the United States. It is an occasion the significance of which cannot fail to impress all the people, from the youngest to the oldest. The line of Grand Army veterans has become smaller with the passing of the years, giving a deeper feeling of sadness to those who remember the splendid marching hosts of the G. A. R. of 25 years ago. Today the World War Veteran is the one of sprightly gait, yet the Spanish War veteran, gray-haired though he be, keeps proud step with his younger brother. We confess that like other youngsters of our day we used to look upon the Memorial Day parade as an occasion of display and one not to be missed. Now that we gaze upon that spectacle with older eyes its appeal is no less great but its meaning is far different. We know that here are the men who were willing to give their lives for a Nation. They have chosen the thirtieth day of May to do especial honor to their fallen comrades and those who have since passed on. With the Grand Army it is left to the veterans with whom time has dealt more lightly to place the floral tributes on graves and perform the other duties of tender affection. We believe that the solemnity of the day should be felt by everybody. Those who are not interested in Memorial Day and who must have their diversions because it is a holiday are to us thoughtless, though not intentionally disrespectful. We would not condemn them but rather would say they are not getting all they should out of life. To pause and reflect over the Nation's defenders and their deeds cannot fail, in our opinion, to inspire greater feelings of patriotism. The words of the most eloquent orators are weak in comparison with the sight produced by the procession of veterans on the way to the cemetery. Those men not privileged to take part in the ceremony can only stand aside as the gallant marchers pass. They can and they should lift their hats, not only as the colors pass but as the whole line files by. It is a moment of prayerful gratitude that our glorious Nation still thrives. All of us owe to these men a debt which we can never repay.

We have stated that throughout the United States there will be observed tomorrow the day of tribute to the soldiers. It calls to our mind the verses of Hilda Morris, printed originally in "The Come-Back" and entitled "The Little Towns." Its message is so beautiful we believe our readers will approve its repetition here.

"THE LITTLE TOWNS"
O, little town in Arkansas,
And little town in Maine,
And little shelter valley
And hamlet on the plain,
Salem, Jackson, Waukesha,
And Brookville and Peru, San Mateo and Irontown
And Lake and Waterloo;
Little town we smiled upon

And loved for simple ways,
Quiet streets and garden beds
And friendly sunny days;
Out of you the soldiers came,
Young and strong and brave with laughter,
They saw the truth and followed after,
Little town, the birth of them,
Makes you kin to Bethlehem.

Little town where Johnny Brown
Ran the grocery store;
Little town where Manuel
Fished along the shore;
Where Russian Steve was carpenter
And Sandy Pat McQuade
Worked all day in overalls
At his mechanic's trade;
Where Allen Perkins practiced law,
And John, Judge Harper's son,
Planned a little house for two
That never shall be done—
Little town you gave them all,
Rich and poor and great and small;
Bred them clean and straight and strong
Sent them forth to right the wrong,
Makes you kin to Nazareth.

One of the principal Summer industries in Massachusetts is the wayside stand for the sale of garden products. The development of this from earth-to-eaters trade has come about in a short space of years. It must be profitable for the dealer—we do not feel that we may say farmer, for all who conduct these roadside market stalls are not farmers. It seems to us that it began some years back when a crudely painted sign planted in a barnyard announced "Fresh eggs for sale here." To the then few drivers of automobiles it was a privilege to be able to get some fresh eggs that eventually proved to be quite as advertised. Then, as we recall, squash and apples were displayed on the tops of boxes. These, too, were found usually to be worth the money. The location of these stands were, in those days, landmarks for automobilists. By and by there were straw berries offered at the beginning of the Summer together with aspargus. The notion of the automobile owner was that he was sharing, for a minor consideration, the fruits of the field. Happy, ay, proud, was the car-owner who was allowed to obtain for a mere handful of silver the prize pumpkins, cabbages, corn and tomatoes garnered from the harvest store by the bronze-bearded tiller of the soil. It was a beautiful thought "chow." But there came more automobiles and with them "more mouths to feed" was once said by the Old Woman-Who-Lived-in-a-Shoe. So, in answer to the call of plain public duty, the residents along the most traveled road tackled the problem in an altruistic spirit and each set up at his door a stand for the sale of fruit, vegetables, soft drinks, popcorn, molasses kisses, all varieties of chewing gum and chocolate, guide-books, maps, eggs, killed chickens, pail, lilies, gladioli, ice cream, ham sandwiches, frankfurters and rolls, hot coffee and live puppies. Now there is no limit. All of the gastronomic needs of men are here met, together with other tempting luxuries. So many of these stands have sprung up and so gayly are they decorated that a stranger might think there was an Old-Home-Week in process of celebration. We expect to see the system of feeding the fleeing multitudes widely extended during the next few months. It has become so thoroughly established that there is nothing lacking. The next step, and the logical one, if we may be permitted to say so, will be the organization of a system of chain wayside stands. No doubt some group (maybe more than one) of keen financiers are already organizing one. If they have not selected a name we offer this one without cost—"From Soil to Suckers."

It occurred to us the other day that it would be interesting to know just how the revised postal rates, effective April 15 last, were working-out. It so happened that not long afterwards we met an official of the U. S. Postal Service whose position gives him a chance to observe matters pretty closely. "You'd be surprised," said he in response to our query, "to notice what a falling off there has been in sending newspapers to friends. I refer to those people who read a newspaper in their home city and then mail a copy, or part of it, to a relative or friend at some distant point. The cost, as far as the poor man is concerned, has become almost prohibitive. At any rate the mails carry now one-fourth the number of newspapers mailed under such circumstances. People seem to regard the mailing of newspapers as a luxury. A newspaper mailed today from this office to California costs the sender 14 cents. Prior to April 15 the rate was three cents. No wonder they hesitate. I have discovered that many people, instead of mailing the entire newspaper, clip out the part they wish to have read by their friend and put it in a letter and then it goes first class. The other increases seem to make little difference and people do not feel obliged to scripp. Then our friend ventured the opinion that they saw fit to apply. Because of that we are willing to be patient, especially as there is little else for a plain citizen to do under the circumstances.

Because of that we are willing to be patient, especially as there is little else for a plain citizen to do under the circumstances.

It occurred to us the other day that it would be interesting to know just how the revised postal rates, effective April 15 last, were working-out. It so happened that not long afterwards we met an official of the U. S. Postal Service whose position gives him a chance to observe matters pretty closely. "You'd be surprised," said he in response to our query, "to notice what a falling off there has been in sending newspapers to friends. I refer to those people who read a newspaper in their home city and then mail a copy, or part of it, to a relative or friend at some distant point. The cost, as far as the poor man is concerned, has become almost prohibitive. At any rate the mails carry now one-fourth the number of newspapers mailed under such circumstances. People seem to regard the mailing of newspapers as a luxury. A newspaper mailed today from this office to California costs the sender 14 cents. Prior to April 15 the rate was three cents. No wonder they hesitate. I have discovered that many people, instead of mailing the entire newspaper, clip out the part they wish to have read by their friend and put it in a letter and then it goes first class. The other increases seem to make little difference and people do not feel obliged to scripp. Then our friend ventured the opinion that they saw fit to apply. Because of that we are willing to be patient, especially as there is little else for a plain citizen to do under the circumstances.

And loved for simple ways,
Quiet streets and garden beds
And friendly sunny days;
Out of you the soldiers came,
Young and strong and brave with laughter,
They saw the truth and followed after,
Little town, the birth of them,
Makes you kin to Bethlehem.

Little town where Johnny Brown
Ran the grocery store;
Little town where Manuel
Fished along the shore;
Where Russian Steve was carpenter
And Sandy Pat McQuade
Worked all day in overalls
At his mechanic's trade;
Where Allen Perkins practiced law,
And John, Judge Harper's son,
Planned a little house for two
That never shall be done—
Little town you gave them all,
Rich and poor and great and small;
Bred them clean and straight and strong
Sent them forth to right the wrong,
Little town, their glorious death
Makes you kin to Nazareth.

One of the principal Summer industries in Massachusetts is the wayside stand for the sale of garden products. The development of this from earth-to-eaters trade has come about in a short space of years. It must be profitable for the dealer—we do not feel that we may say farmer, for all who conduct these roadside market stalls are not farmers. It seems to us that it began some years back when a crudely painted sign planted in a barnyard announced "Fresh eggs for sale here." To the then few drivers of automobiles it was a privilege to be able to get some fresh eggs that eventually proved to be quite as advertised. Then, as we recall, squash and apples were displayed on the tops of boxes. These, too, were found usually to be worth the money. The location of these stands were, in those days, landmarks for automobilists. By and by there were straw berries offered at the beginning of the Summer together with aspargus. The notion of the automobile owner was that he was sharing, for a minor consideration, the fruits of the field. Happy, ay, proud, was the car-owner who was allowed to obtain for a mere handful of silver the prize pumpkins, cabbages, corn and tomatoes garnered from the harvest store by the bronze-bearded tiller of the soil. It was a beautiful thought "chow." But there came more automobiles and with them "more mouths to feed" was once said by the Old Woman-Who-Lived-in-a-Shoe. So, in answer to the call of plain public duty, the residents along the most traveled road tackled the problem in an altruistic spirit and each set up at his door a stand for the sale of fruit, vegetables, soft drinks, popcorn, molasses kisses, all varieties of chewing gum and chocolate, guide-books, maps, eggs, killed chickens, pail, lilies, gladioli, ice cream, ham sandwiches, frankfurters and rolls, hot coffee and live puppies. Now there is no limit. All of the gastronomic needs of men are here met, together with other tempting luxuries. So many of these stands have sprung up and so gayly are they decorated that a stranger might think there was an Old-Home-Week in process of celebration. We expect to see the system of feeding the fleeing multitudes widely extended during the next few months. It has become so thoroughly established that there is nothing lacking. The next step, and the logical one, if we may be permitted to say so, will be the organization of a system of chain wayside stands. No doubt some group (maybe more than one) of keen financiers are already organizing one. If they have not selected a name we offer this one without cost—"From Soil to Suckers."

A. L. ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

Idea First Presented By Newton Man

The American Legion through a national committee of which Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, is Honorary Chairman, is engaged in a campaign to raise an endowment trust fund of $5,000,000.00, the income of which, estimated at $225,000 a year is to be used in assisting disabled veterans to maintain their families while they are receiving government hospitalization or rehabilitation, and in caring for the orphans of former service men.

This committee acting through the more than 11,000 posts of the American Legion in the United States, will reach the citizens of the country. Once the fund is obtained the great work of the Legion may be continued so long as the occasion demands.

American veterans of the great war are dying at the rate of fifteen every day in the year. It is estimated that within the next ten years 300,000 orphans must be cared for. The American Legion has long been active in looking after the welfare of its orphaned children but the fact that this movement which has extended over the entire United States was a Massachusetts idea is not so well known. The plan was presented for the first time at an American Legion convention by Levi Libbey, then commander of American Legion Post No. 48 of Newton at the national convention in New Orleans in 1922 as follows.

"A resolution instructing the National commander to appoint a committee to investigate the feasibility and probable cost of establishing and maintaining a National home for destitute and orphaned children of Legionnaires."

A year's study was given to the problem. Leading experts in child care throughout the country were called in and in 1923 at the San Francisco convention a program as follows was adopted.

1. The Legion pledged co-operation with all approved public and private agencies engaged in child work.

2. It acknowledged and accepted formally its responsibility for the care and training of dependent children of veterans.

3. A three-fold plan for caring for such children was adopted. The home is to be maintained whenever possible, keeping the family together in its natural environment.

4. Where the natural home cannot be maintained, children are to be legally adopted into foster homes. These homes are to be carefully investigated and must be suitable to the individual child concerned. The child is to be followed up until it is ready to take its place as a useful citizen.

5. Modern regional homes are built on the "cottage plan" as needed and to be used as clearing houses for temporary care of children and for problem children until such time as more suitable arrangements can be made.

Already a home for children is in operation at Otter Lake in Michigan. Another is under way in Kansas. Land and buildings have been offered in New Jersey and Tennessee. These have been donated as has the money to maintain them. The Legion believes that sufficient money will be provided to maintain all such necessary homes, and does not intend to devote any of its funds to building.

For the disabled veteran: The Legion is assisting the government in aiding them. In special cases where the victim was "shell-shocked," at first the government believed they would have to be cared for in insane asylums. The Legion idea was "Temporary Care—Permanent Cure." To bring about this effect they secured the aid of expert psychiatrists to assist the government staff. New methods of treatment were worked out and men are going out of hospitals every day cured who would otherwise have gone to insane hospitals for life. The Legion reached into the home and established personal touch with the individual in a way that government machinery even though functioning perfectly could not. Similar results have been obtained in the methods applied to tuberculosis patients.

The comparatively small sum asked for, sufficient only for a yearly return of $225,000 may seem inadequate but the actual work of investigation and application of this relief will be carried out through the Legion members and the members of the Legion Auxiliary, a total working force equal to the entire male population of the United States when Washington was President—and they give their services free.

The idea of the endowment has appealed to business men, educators, clergymen, all over the country.

Cardinal O'Connell says: "It is our duty now to remember the disabled veterans who were injured in a national cause, together with the indigent orphans of veterans and to assist them in their need."

William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor says: "I am glad to accept membership on the committee and render such service in forwarding this work of the American Legion as I may be permitted to give."

Richard F. Grant, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce says: "The American Legion is following the best course suited to carrying out the high purpose of such an organization—in this movement to make permanent provision for the disabled and war orphans."

The National Committee has assigned the city of Newton the quota of $10,000, and the campaign to secure it is now under way. It is not for the local Post: It is not for the well and active ex-service man. The principal sum of the endowment will never be used. It is to be maintained intact so long as there is any need for it to assist veterans or their orphans, the entire fund is then to be devoted to some worthy charity to be selected by the President of the United States.

Every member of an American Legion Post will be a contributor and the members of Newton Post No. 48 are saying: "We know that when it is explained and the citizens of Newton have understood and have had an opportunity to respond, we can say: 'There stands Newton, she speaks for herself.'" the place of prejudice. The aim of securing honesty in advertisements by merchants, and in co-operating with Amherst Agricultural College in having sent from here market reports to the homes of housekeepers, were two features that sounded very worthwhile from this department. June 17 is Amherst week, and those who recall this outing of last year will be glad of another opportunity to enjoy it.

Miss Alice Gwendoline Albee, a most attractive young woman, of a fragile beauty and charm, gave a splendid report on Press and Publicity work, that for experience and foresight seemed the product of one who certainly should have looked much older, and much more said! The scrap book which is her innovation—a compilation of the best articles from all the State newspapers—was not only on exhibition at her booth, but is to be taken to West Baden, Indiana, for exhibition, by Mrs. Fackland, so that Massachusetts will have this happy distinction of being recognized.

The tables and booths by the way, of the various committees were most attractive at the hotel, the exhibits of their work being made very interesting. Forestry had a moving picture machine with fascinating pictures of forests, summer camps, birds, and all outdoor attractions. Mothercraft displayed all manner of home activities, embroidery, sewing, books, etc., but the crowning glory was the doll dressed as a babe in arms and carried about nonchalantly through corridors, and even into the staid convention hall.

The evening session, at 8.15, was quite festive. Music was given by the Melrose Choral Class, and the address of the evening "The Need of Art in Everyday Life," was made by Mr. C. Howard Walker. Mrs. Leach presided, a kindly tribute from Mrs. Smith that was pleasing.

Five District Directors, whose time expires, gave their reports, among them our own Director, Mrs. William H. White. This came as a surprise to the clubwomen from her district, and to their dismay, for other directors were showered with flowers from their admiring districts, while we, unprepared, had to let this opportunity of tribute pass. On Friday, however, the clubwomen of the twelfth district presented—as planned—to Mrs. White a very handsome bouquet of roses, when she made her appearance on the platform for the last time, in giving the "courtesy" resolutions of appreciation to the hotel management. We hope this made up for the unhappy unpreparedness of Wednesday evening, over which we all were so upset.

Mrs. White, in her report, paid Newton great compliment on our activities, mentioning our work for better moving pictures, for registration, and voting last Fall, for tennis clubs, and study clubs, and our new library projects. She ended with a genuine statement of friendliness that is so typical of her wonderful character: "As she now takes her leave she wishes God speed to you all, with a heart full of love and gratitude for your never failing friendship, which has made a link too strong to be broken."

On Thursday morning, bright and early—at 7.30 to be exact—there was another new idea of Miss Albee's put into practice, and so successful was it that the Literature Committee immediately took a leaf from her clever book. The Press Breakfast was most interesting, and another year will be repeated in a private dining-room, for better discussion advantages. At noon the Literature Committee held a Luncheon, profiting from the press experience of the morning by having a private room, and so much was this special conference luncheon patronized that a second dining-room had to be hastily improvised.

Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, Art Chairman, another Newton woman of whom clubwomen are proud, reported numerous exhibits of art, some of them in libraries or High Schools, art lectures, classes in handicraft, achievements in civic art, such as community Christmas trees, floats for celebrations, landscape gardening, etc., that were very alluring, and made one want to start at once to try them all.

Mrs. Del Castillo repeated her plea for better music, the better words to songs, the elimination of "jazz" and for the betterment of radio programs by constructive criticism in letters of condemnation for the cheap, and of commendation for the excellent. She suggested the beauty of carol singing, which is not nearly enough entered into, and to which we are not awakened as to possibilities and charm. And for celebration of MacDowell Memorial Day before the clubs she suggested operettas, which could be made so charming. She paid tribute to the four presidents under whom it has been her privilege to serve, to Mrs. Gurney for her wonderful vision, to Mrs. Baker for her sweet womanliness, to Mrs. Poole for her brilliant force, and to Mrs. Smith, the iron hand in the velvet glove—a secret as to our present President's determination that brought a spontaneous burst of appreciative laughter.

The Literature Committee, Mrs. Carl Schrader, reported that 149 clubs have Literature Chairmen, and 49 have Drama Chairmen, a very good showing as to this bent of mind of clubwomen. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett showed what good times they have had in the Ninth District with their box lunch conferences, their music and games for amusement afterward. Two things stood out in her memory of the year—scholarships in almost every club, and a Press Chairman in EVERY club. Which proves that where education thrives, or interest in it—hence culture—there is appreciation of the value of publicity and of a good press agency!

Mrs. James N. Smith of the First District also reported 100 percent Press Chairmen for her district, admitted her dream was to see her district a garden one—100% gardens—and aroused laughter when she plaintively said that it took her two children to travel to see her latest club child! The work and travel of our directors is something that many of us do not appreciate or realize.

Mrs. Del Castillo displayed her keen wit—and it was the more appreciated since in this very Town of Swampscott at the very moment was going forward the trial of certain public officials for being mixed up with the nefarious doings of rum runners—when it was suggested that we all sing: "Comin' Thro' the Rye." Very meekly, and very fearfully she remarked, as she seated herself at the piano, that she hoped the report wouldn't go out that we were breaking the 18th amendment!

Mrs. Poole, in making her report as General Federation Director, once more proved her right to the title of "wit par excellence." She began: "Before reading the statistics which you so much enjoy—and got no further for the burst of merriment, when coupon she looked surprised and pained. With rich sarcasm she told us she had made no apparent headway in getting us interested in the General Federation, and she was discouraged. 'If she could only get a moving picture of the activities of the General Federation—'. Interruption, again of much laughter and once more pained surprise at our levity. She went on to tell of the wonderful enthusiasm of those who attend conventions, and how discouraging it is to such an enthusiastic delegate to meet a club woman who doesn't even know there has been one. She described her own experiences after the California Biennial, in a delicious manner—of meeting some friend on the street and beginning eagerly with the remark that she was just back from the Biennial, and the surprised, or indifferent, 'Yes', and a blank countenance. 'It was a lovely convention, wonderful!' still trying to keep her enthusiasm. But the other's expression plainly said, although she was trying to be polite, what convention, and where was it, so she had no spunk left! With the next convention planned for Atlantic City, Mrs. Poole hopes there may be attractions to draw us to it, and also that her good work educating the clubwomen to the General Federation's activities may make a harvest ready for the reaping by her successor!

She then tried to give us some of her statistics, her greatest pride being in having gained for membership the Boston Section of the Council for Jewish Women, with 1,160 members. She sighed that her figures she knew were all wrong, because she had tried to be forehanded in getting her statistics done long ago, and then she had to change them every day, until now they were all mixed up! She boasted that in January Massachusetts had led the list in new memberships for the General Federation, with 115. We laughed. 'You ought to laugh at it—it's enough to be ashamed of!' she declared quickly. 'But just think how awful for the country, if that is the biggest!' With $751.00 she had led, up to a few days ago, when California very meanly got ahead, but it was possible to get the lead again before going to West Baden. The significance of this remark was not lost, and Mrs. Poole's glorious sense of humor won its reward. A delegate asked if it were possible then to contribute to this fund, and with the affirmative answer women on all sides rose to their feet, dollar bills in hand, and before another five minutes had passed the fund for maintenance of headquarters had risen to $921.00, so that it looks as though Mrs. Poole would have her thousand before next Saturday!

Miss Titus, in reporting the circulation of Federation Topics, thrilled us with the news that it was going each month to India, Alaska, Cuba, Paris, and China. How far that little candle throws its beams!

Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, giving stewardship of the Shannon Fund, a legacy to us for the moral education of young people from the Conference Committee to whom it was originally bequeathed by Mary Shannon—think of it—Newton!—made us realize our responsibilities as heirs of this obligation in carrying it forward in the spirit and faith of its founders. To which purpose we have contributed to the Florence Crittendon Home, paid for talks before Parent-Teachers Associations, and in other ways reached the sources we desire.

Mrs. George O. Jenkins, whose report on the Endowment Fund, was purely statistical, really had a hand in following Mrs. Poole, and she had absolutely nothing that she could be funny about, even if she could be funny, and she probably could, given a good topic, so she waited that her report wasn't a bit interesting, but had to be done, a statement that brought a laugh.

Superiority of prevention over attempt at cure was stressed by Mrs. Willard D. Woodbury in regard to Industrial and Social Conditions, and she urged that we use whatever facilities we have as Committees in our clubs to help where help is needed, and to this end to visit the prisons, the factories, and other places which may need our aid or suggestions.

Mrs. Paul A. Peters' eloquent plea for our remembrance of our boys in the hospitals, or who are in training their living, or whose families need our aid, will long stay with us, and it is a pity that all who were so patriotic in 1917, who cheered and waved so enthusiastically then, can not have that same appreciation aroused today by hearing the splendid reports of the work of the women's clubs. We may not have industries where we may employ them, but we can knit for them, remember them at Christmas and other holidays, give them the things they need, and like, such as books, flowers, candy, clothing, and we can take them out to ride.

Mrs. Horace B. Gale gave us a new name for the Volunteer Service Committee—the Lady of Friendship—a title that she says comes from the western part of the State. Another name is "the handy woman around the house," which seems especially appropriate, since we go into the homes for any "homely" service necessary. The field here is limitless, from books for children in the hospitals, toys, penny collections at club meetings to buy fruit and flowers for the sick or shut-ins, to making a rose garden at an old folks' home, as one club did last year, to the joy of its elderly inmates.

In the afternoon was the height of the convention, and realizing this, a record gathering of visiting clubwomen thronged the hall, necessitating the putting in of over three hundred more available chairs. Well over seventeen hundred women were present, eager to hear the remarks of Past Presidents. Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney is always a drawing card; her keen wit, her splendid delivery, her inspiring idealism, being most pleasing to clubwomen. As one well-informed clubwoman said, explaining this popularity: "Mrs. Gurney is an orator!" Strangely, among the many fine things that Mrs. Gurney said that afternoon, there is one, and it is humorous only, that will remain in the memory of those who heard her, for all time. Possibly she likened the ambitions of one State Federation to the ambitions of the lemon, and gave us encouragement by telling of the success of the lemon's aspirations. At any rate the ambitious lemon did succeed—it became a grapefruit! And nearly two thousand women paid her tribute with such laughter that for some moments the "orator" could not continue.

The Education Chairman, Mrs. John H. Kimball, asked that the clubs seek to have at least one well-informed woman upon the public school board of every locality. It is natural to suppose that to have the accurate representation of the woman's viewpoint upon educational matters pertaining to children a woman must be the only one who can so give it, and should be on such boards. The slogan advertised at the Education booth: "Don't criticize our young folk. Set them a good example!" caused many a smile, and is worth obeying.

The President, announcing the result of her questionnaire, pleased her audience in the statement that nearly $74,000 had been disbursed by the Federation for philanthropies in the last year; a little over $16,000 going for scholarships, and about $13,000 for hospitals; $8,713 was given for child welfare. It might be stated here that on Friday it was announced that the Marion Chase Baker Fund of $3,000 has been turned over to the Edward McDowell Association at Peterborough, N. H., in loving memory of our past President, Mrs. George Minot Baker. This was a project dear to her heart, and it means that in raising this fund we have made it possible for art workers to have the aid and incentive of this colony. It is stated that a young and promising Chicago sculptor will be enabled to come to the McDowell Colony this summer through this gift, raised in tribute to Mrs. Baker. It would have been a joy to her to have known of this!

Reports from our Junior Clubs, led by Mrs. Clarence W. Clark, were very interesting and inspiring, and the brief speeches were listened to eagerly by the clubwomen.

The evening was given over to playtime, and a brilliant assembly of dresses, truly. The wonderful evening dresses, with their color and richness, certainly proved that this generation of club devotees can combine beauty with business!

Mr. Louis K. Anspacher, lecturer and dramatist of New York, the speaker of the evening, showed the power of the theatre, by declaring that everyone went to the moving pictures or to the theatre while considerably less than a tenth read all the new books. "Every time you purchase a ticket at the box office you cast a ballot for the kind of play you like. Patronize bad art and you create a demand for it. Keep away from bad plays and they will be forced to close their doors."

Many times we go to the theatre ignorant of the kind of play or moving pictures we are to see. Many times—more often than we can count—we come away disgusted with what we have seen, but our presence, according to Mr. Anspacher, has done its mischief. Because we were present we have advocated this type of play. It behooves us, then, to know our play and picture before we lend our presence, and no more powerful boycott could be named to do away with the trashy plays and pictures which seem today to be thriving.

Following the program there was the usual reception to club members and delegates that each year makes up the social event of the convention.

Friday morning held another group of splendid reports, but to give them all would fill a volume, so that only a few of the "high lights" of the meeting have been singled out, and are examples of what our splendid organization is doing in the communities and in the State. Two amendments to the By-Laws were voted at the last session, the first striking out the words "and Chairmen of Departments" from Section I of Article VIII, which means that in future such Chairmen shall not be a part of the Conference of Presidents; and the second being a new section, 4, of the same article: "the President of each Federated Club, or her appointee, shall be eligible to attend the Fall Presidents' Conference. The President, or her appointee, and the President-elect of each Federated Club shall be eligible to attend the Spring Presidents' Conference."

With the election of officers the platform became a bower of flowers, each outgoing officer, and many incoming ones, being showered by their club associates.

Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith is once more the President; Mrs. Arthur D. Potter of Greenfield, the First Vice-President; Mrs. Clarence W. Clark, Second Vice-President; Mrs. A. A. Packard, Third Vice-President, and Mrs. Edward E. Hobart, Fourth Vice-President; Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, is Clerk; Mrs. W. S. Ripley, Assistant Clerk; Mrs. Clinton A. Ferguson, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Frederick S. Davis, Treasurer; and Mrs. J. H. Libbey, Mrs. Arthur S. Davison, Mrs. Carl L. Watson, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, and Mrs. Edward A. Rice, are Directors. Mrs. William H. White, our former Director, is Chairman of the Nominating Committee.

Shortly after noon the final session of the meeting adjourned, and reluctantly the clubwomen parted from their friends, lingered for a last little visit beside those wonderful blue waters, while bellboys once again rushed about with bags, or calling taxis, and confusion once more reigned—the confusion of departure, and so closed this year's pleasurable Annual Meeting.

Professional Women's Club

June 9th promises to be a Red Letter Day for the members of this club. Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards of Westwood extends an invitation to members, as a token of her love and esteem for the Professional Women's Club, for an outing on her estate from 3 P. M. to 6 P. M. The estate is known as "Doneroving," and may be reached by street cars to Dedham Sq., then by motor busses which pass the rear gate of the estate. Members are asked to notify Mrs. Edwards if they are going to accept her kind hospitality.

In the evening Annual "Pop" Night is scheduled for Symphony Hall, and tickets may be obtained of Dr. Cora B. Gross, 10 Marlboro street, Wollaston. Her telephone is Granite 20163. After June first tickets will be at Symphony Hall only.

So closes your Club Column for this season, and your editor wishes you all a happy and restful vacation.
